IN MEMORIAM

MRS. SEYMOUR POLLARD

On the evening of May 16th, 1950, the residents of Emryvale and vicinity learned with deep regret of the passing of a much respected resident in the person of Mrs. Seymour Pollard, at the advanced age of eighty-two years. Although in failing health for the past few years, it was not until a week before her death that she became bedfast, when stricken with pleural pneumonia. Up until this time she took a keen interest in the affairs in and about her home, and was always ready to welcome a neighbour for a friendly chat. Before her marriage to Seymour Pollard in 1910, she was Katherine McMillan of Indian River Parish. During her illness she was frequently visited by her beloved pastor, Reverend George McCormac, who administered the Last Sacraments of Holy Mother Church.

The large concourse of people who came from far and near and the many Mass Cards and Messages of Sympathy received showed the respect in which the deceased was held.

She is survived by her sorrowing husband and one son, Spurgeon, and her niece Mrs. Thomas T. McCloskey, whom she reared and loved as her daughter, and who tenderly cared for her during her last days.

Two brothers also survive who live in Western Canada.

Her funeral was held from her late residence on May 19th to St. Ann's Church, Lot 65, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by her Pastor Reverend George McCormac, after which her remains were laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery, there to await the Glorious Resurrection.

The pall bearers were Amos Monaghan, William Griffin, Dan McEgan, Walter Coady, Matthias Murray and Thomas McQuaid.

Card Of Thanks

Mr. Seymour Pollard and Spurgeon sincerely thank all kind friends and neighbours who in any way helped them in their recent sad bereavement; also Reverend George McCormac and Doctor Randolph Murchison who so faithfully attended Mrs. Pollard in her last days and all who sent Mass Cards and Messages of Sympathy.

Card Of Thanks

Mr. Linus Gorman, Kensington, wishes to thank his neighbours and friends for Mass Cards, Messages of Sympathy and many acts of kindness during his recent sad bereavement.

CARD OF THANKS

Miss Susie Weatherbie wishes to thank her many friends and neighbours for their kindness during her sad bereavement in the loss of her sister Mrs. Sophia Dechamp.

Had Proposed Swift Drive Through Italy

LONDON, June 13 — (CP) — Field Marshal Viscount Alexander, who commanded Allied armies in Italy, speculates in a lengthy dispatch on what might have happened during the final phases of the Second World War if the Allies had hit middle Europe powerfully from the south. In a report on the campaign, submitted to the war office in April, 1947, Canada's Governor-General reveals he urged making a swift power drive through Italy, and even considered landing strong forces in Yugoslavia. The report was issued in the London Gazette. The project could not be carried out because of decisions on a higher level to land Allied troops in Southern France in the operation known as "Anvil." This was carried out in the late summer of

Two new cattle barns have been completed on the Exhibition Grounds, reconstruction work on the vaudeville stage in the driving park is almost finished, and Schurman's cement plant on the Old Kensington Rifle Range is ready to operate as work on these projects proceeds rapidly under favorable weather conditions.

Shown above is the Kensington Beach proposed industrial development site and the Charlottetown Driving Park at the East end of Charlottetown. The Exhibition Grounds, on which the five year rebuilding and extension program is underway, lies behind the race track.

The cement mixing plant (No. 2 on the plan) will prepare its first cement this morning. The un-housed plant consists of a large batcher and a screening plant and the cement will be transported by two ready mix concrete trucks. A small office will be built and the plant enclosed in the fall. Excavation operations for the laying of the foundation of the large Island Fertilizer plant (3) are under way. Two hangars will be moved from the Charlottetown airport and joined together to provide housing for the plant.

This plant, when completed, will be 508 feet long and about 198 feet wide with a railway spur running through the left hand side to the eastern end so that loading and unloading operations may be carried on within the building.

The erection of the first hangar is expected to be finished around the last of July. The second hangar will be erected and the project completed this autumn.

The railway spur will run between the cement plant and the Government Garage (1) down to the fertilizer plant. Work has not yet commenced on the spur. This spur is indicated by the dotted lines.

Trenches have been dug for the foundation of the new Government garage for the Provincial Department of Public Works. This garage to be reconstructed from an airport hangar is expected to house all the Government machinery. The hangar will be hauled from the airport in sections.

The eastern boundary of the City runs along the western end of the fertilizer plant. The land-

1944. Allied forces in the Mediterranean had to be diverted to France, and the effort there took ships, aircraft and supplies which Viscount Alexander hoped he might have used in Italy. "It is interesting to speculate what would have happened if I had been allowed to carry out this plan (for a northward thrust from Italy) and had appeared with two strong armies on the southern frontier of Germany and the Danube basin in the autumn of 1944," he writes. "The effects would probably have been considerable, not only militarily but politically. My plan was, however, fated to be stillborn. "The demands of Anvil had grown: The troops to be withdrawn (from Italy) included not only the whole French corps and three United States divisions but also a considerable number of American corps and army troops. I was informed that our air strength would also be reduced, probably by 70 per cent... my forces would be much reduced and unbalanced in infantry, but I came to the conclusion that an advance into north-eastern Italy would still be possible, though at a reduced tempo, and must be attempted."

Effect On Italian Campaign
In another part of his report, the Governor-General of Canada, who scape area from the shore embankment to the cement plant in the City area will be seeded down.

The City asphalt plant is in the southwestern corner in front of the Government Garage. A road from the southern end of Hillsborough Bridge road runs past the asphalt plant, proposed garage and the fertilizer plant to the place where the City dump now is located.

Beyond the Exhibition Grounds the Provincial Government owns about 10 acres of land where factories may be erected. If erected these factories will be served by the new spur line of the railway.

At Exhibition Grounds

The vaudeville stage in the racing oval will be completed today. Directly behind it is the new judges stand about sixty feet from the track. A new six and one half foot fence has been erected around the driving park and the track itself has been widened and rebuilt.

Inside the main track work is proceeding on a jogging track to be completed this year. The grandstand has been repaired, and this fall the old racing barns will be replaced by new stables.

Two of the proposed new-cattle barns on the Exhibition Grounds have been completed and a third will be finished today. Cement has been laid for a new pig barn and for another cow barn. About 18 men are working on this project under Mr. Robert Chappell of York.

Each of these barns will accommodate about 40 head of cattle. Six barns were built last year and when building operations are completed there will be accommodation for between 600 and 700 cattle. A new sheep barn will also be built.

The stalls for the horses along the Kensington Road will be removed and replaced by a new Frost fence. The horses will be placed in barns at the eastern end of the grounds behind the cattle and swine barns.

Next year another storey will be added to the Women's Institute Building and probably a length extension. Present plans call for a new office and restaurant replacing the present facilities.

was Gen. Sir Harold Alexander at the time of these events, writes: "Whatever value the invasion of Southern France may have had as a contribution to operations in northwestern Europe its effect on the Italian campaign was disastrous. The Allied armies in full pursuit of a beaten enemy were called off from the chase. Kesselring (Field Marshal Kesselring, German Commander) was given a breathing space to reorganize his scattered forces and I was left with insufficient strength to break through the barriers of the Apennines..."

"I express no opinion on the correctness of the decision, but I was, to say the least, disappointed that our victory was not to be exploited as it deserved."

The 1st Canadian Corps fought in Italy as part of the British Eighth Army during the campaigns which Viscount Alexander discusses.

Whereas the decision to invade Southern France was a disappointment to Viscount Alexander, he ultimately reconciled himself to the change in strategy. He carried on in Italy with inferior forces.

TEL AVIV, Israel, June 13 — (AP) — An air agreement between the United States and Israel was signed today.

CHARLES FREDERICK LARTER

The death occurred in the Prince Edward Island Hospital on March 25th, of Charles Frederick Larter of Hampshire, son of the late Frederick Larter and of Frances Jane Hyde Larter of Hampshire.

Mr. Larter was a veteran of World War I having served in the Army for three and a half years enlisting in the 68th Regina Battalion and seeing action in France where he was both wounded and gassed. On his discharge in 1919 he was married to Effie Mae Johnson of Quinco, Mass. He was engaged in farming until the Second World War when he again enlisted serving in the Veterans Guard in Quebec, Sydney and St. Stephen. He was discharged after suffering a serious accident.

He is lovingly remembered as a dutiful son, a devoted husband, a kind father and a good neighbor. He leaves to mourn besides his mother and widow, a sister, Mrs. Richard MacLean, a brother, Watson, and three sons, Heath and Layton of Hampshire, and Alec of Bothwell, Ontario.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. Howard Christie assisted by Rev. Donald Nicholson. Mr. Murdoch MacLeod of Hartsville rendered a solo. The floral tributes received were very beautiful and much appreciated by the family.
