A COMPLAINT.

Sir,—As an exhibitor this year, I was much annoyed on bringing in my fruit to find no one to give me the names. The man supposed to be Judge did not know any of them, he said, and my sample of plums was sent to him. Where are the names of our fruit, and judged it the last two years? Several others had come trouble. When I exhibit again it will be a long while. Country people interested in this institution would like to see some proper management and some decent satisfaction when they bring in their fruit.

COUNTRY EXHIBITOR.

HYPNOTISM EXTRAORDINARY.

The wildest interest has been excited in Europe this week by the story of the death of a young lady, a member of a prominent family of Venice, while under hypnotic influence in the hands of Neukomm, the well-known hypnotist of that capital. She suffered a violent attack for several months from nervous headaches. Nothing could cure her but Neukomm putting her into a trance. The last attack was before a numerous audience. The first accounts of the affair were incorrect, but the later version, given by Dr. von Bragassy, who was present throughout, is almost incredible. The experiment, it seems, had been one of spiritualistic trance rather than hypnotism. Dr. Bragassy says: "It was with the concurrence of her parents and the medium herself that the hypnotizer requested the medium to go and see his brother at Werchez, concerning which the opinion of physicians vary. In about twelve minutes the medium exclaimed: 'I am fast asleep.' The young lady gave signs of great excitement, which, according to her parents, had not been observed during previous experiments. Neukomm requested the medium to go and see his brother at Werchez, and what was the nature of his illness, and what cure should be adopted. What followed was incredible. The medium began a scientific description of the invalid's lungs, giving a minute account of their diseased condition. Technical particulars which even an ordinary doctor could not give, and which might only be expected from an experienced specialist. With full command and correct use of technical expressions, she gave the closest details, extending to a full diagnosis of inflammation of the lungs, and declared the diagnosis very unfavorable, as against that kind of disease medical skill is powerless. In conclusion, she described the end of the patient in the usual Latin terminology, and immediately afterwards she fell back senseless, uttering a piercing shriek. I at once had recourse to every conceivable means of restoring consciousness, but all in vain. Within ten minutes her pulse began to fail, and death shortly followed. According to the post mortem the immediate cause of death was congestion of the brain.

NEWS NOTES.

A remarkable accident occurred the other day in New York. A young man went to make a call upon his sweetheart. She saw him coming, and, opening the door, stood at the top of the steps waiting for him. There was an iron handrail at the side of the steps, and when the young man came up to the girl he put one hand on the rail. He fell dead at her feet. An electric fan used in driving a fan in the adjoining building by coming in contact with a metal cornice which touched the handrail had charged the rail so with electricity that the young man was instantly killed when he touched it. The young woman was so frightened by the occurrence that it is doubtful if she will recover.

The Dublin Freeman's Journal publishes a letter from Dr. Thomas Addis Emmett, of New York, in regard to the dissections in the party. Dr. Emmett calls Justin McCarthy's attention to the disastrous consequences to the national movement in America of constant references to scandal and public discussion of differences existing between sections of the Irish party. The national federation, Dr. Emmett writes, is about to hold meetings to raise money for the nationalist cause, but the whole movement in America has been paralyzed by Mr. Healy's letter about Mr. Gladstone's subscription to the parliamentary fund. He recalls the fact that the Irish federation in America sent Ireland $83,000 during the last three years, which could have relied upon an annual remittance of $10,000 but for the recurrent wranglings in the party. Dr. Emmett appeals to Mr. McCarthy and all Irish representatives to no longer paralyze the efforts of the warmest friends of Ireland in the United States.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The serpent of the still wears no rattles. Don't go to the wrong shop to get shaved. There is many a knock-out in a whiskey punch. A stunted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark. If we had eternal sunshine we would have no need of a lamp.

A school district in Grant county, Kan., contains but one family. The father, mother, and eldest son have elected each other trustees, and appointed the eldest daughter, aged 155 months, to teach the younger children.

It is said that James Tissot, of Paris, whose series of pictures on the life of Christ has been much talked about, is about to become a monk and devote his talents to the making of illuminated manuscripts.

Dr. Waldo, a London health officer, has found thirteen different kinds of living microbes in a loaf of new bread. It is said that the London underground bakehouses are proverbially dirty.

The dangerous end of a rattlesnake makes no noise. If every man were to get rich who believes he knows how, we would have no paupers.

A family who resides at Leesville, Ohio, possesses a cat which has three distinct eyes, two in their usual places, and a third directly back of its left ear. The cat is invaluable as a mouse-catcher, for it can see before and in the rear at the same time.

"I call him a bouncing baby," said the father, tossing the baby in the air, "considering the fact that we're raising him on the bottle." "How else do you raise babies, sah?" inquired the Kentucky colonel, eyeing him sharply.

THE PROGRESS OF THE WAR.

British Warships Watching the Russian. San Francisco, Sept. 25.—Advices from Shanghai say: The British man-of-war Centurion left Cheo Foo August 28th with three other men-of-war for Japan. The British-Cruiser squadron is, at the Government's orders, cruising in Cereva waters to watch the progress of the war and to keep an eye on the movements of Russia and France, but as the squadron is not large enough to watch the Russians at Vladivostok and the French at Tonquin, the commander of the squadron has telegraphed home for three men-of-war from the Northern Pacific squadron. British residents of Tien Tsin have strongly memorialized the Minister for protection, and Mr. O'Connor telegraphed the admiral that he considered the case urgently requiring his immediate attention. Sir Edmund Fremantle has ordered the Linnet to proceed to the northern port and will supplement this if necessary. The French "Lion" and German "Wolf" are already there, and Russian vessels are expected.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The Shanghai Mercury, received by steamer Rio Janeiro, says it was rumored in Peking that the emperor expressed his desire to personally take charge of the operations in Corea and to leave the throne under the regency of the empress dowager. When his majesty made his desire his desire his majesty's advisers were said to have knocked their foreheads and prayed him not to let his anger drive him so far as to engage with so paltry an enemy, but let his officers drive off the barbarians.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The Central News has been informed that Captain Gaird, worthy commander of the Chinese transport Kow Shing, stated under oath that the charter of the Kow Shing to the Chinese Government contained a clause to be kept secret—that in the event of hostile movement against the ship by Japanese, the Kow Shing should be regarded as Chinese property.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—A despatch from Shanghai to the Times says the anti-forging feeling in Peking is growing steadily. Foreigners while on the streets are subjected constantly to annoyance and insult by soldiers. They seem scarcely to realize the fact that this country is engaged in a serious war. Two Japanese cruisers passed Cheo Foo on 23rd.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Admiral Colomb, in an interview to-day concerning the recent fight in the mouth of the Yalu River, said he thought the battle tended to prove that moderate sized vessels were better even than great vessels that cost one million pounds. The result depended not on the mater rather than the material of the vessel. The Chinese fared the worst, he said, because the Japanese were the superior fighting race.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—A Shanghai correspondent says: "It is reported that the Japanese warships have left Tai Yang Tzu station. Their destination is unknown. Great anxiety is felt concerning their whereabouts."

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

VIENNA, Sept. 24.—The cholera has so diminished that it is now confined to a few districts.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 24.—From Sept. 2nd to 15th there were 245 new cases of cholera and six deaths in this city. In Warsaw there were 157 new cases and 88 deaths within the same period.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 24.—A number of skeletons with manacles attached have been found buried close to the surface of the courtyard of the custom house here. A similar discovery was made a few days ago at almost the same place, but upon the former occasion instruments of torture were also discovered with the skeletons. It is stated that a secret chancellor of the tyrannical regent, Byrne, the favorite of the Empress Ann, who reigned in 1730-1736, was situated where the remains were found.

VIENNA, Sept. 24.—The German Congress of Natural Science opened here this morning, with about 2,000 delegates present. Chevalier Stanislaus DeMadesky, the Austrian Minister of Public Instruction, delivered the inaugural address. He denied that the study of natural science forced human ideas into the background. The greater progress made, he added, the more strenuous would be the effort to weld natural and moral sciences into a harmonious whole. This, he continued, was the aim of the state in public instruction.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—A report has reached here that Col. Colville, administrator of Uganda, in mustering the remains of Emin Pasha's troops for a march on Bar el Ghazel on the Nile, with the object of heading off and preventing the Monteil mission. The departure of Col. Colville will be the signal for a joint Anglo-Italian expedition to Khartoum from Suakin and Kissa la.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 24.—At a rally in Gattingsburg Saturday night in the interest of Congressman Houck a row occurred in which pistols and stones figured. Two men had their skulls fractured and will die. Several others were more or less hurt.

PUBLIC, Sept. 24.—A group of old Fenians and inveterate have taken advantage of the discontent caused by delay in action upon the home rule question and have formed a new society called the Old Guard. They have issued a circular calling upon Irishmen everywhere to enroll themselves in a united brotherhood to resist all attempts to lower the Irish flag or to stay the onward march of freedom. Not one of the prominent members of the Irish party signs this appeal.
