

Two Islanders Join Moncton

By NORMAN MACDONALD

According to the latest report, ALAN GAUDET has made the Moncton Seals, farm team of the San Francisco Seals, which will be a member of the N.H.L. when it expands in 1968. Young WEATHERBIE from Charlottetown also made the grade with the Moncton junior aggregation. Alan says he is the smallest player on the team, that they are a big, bruising group of hockey players, and that they will be going all out to win the Maritime Junior Title this year. They will probably have some trouble with the Halifax Canadians who are going a storm in their early games.

Alan may not have the beef which some junior hockey players tote around but he can score goals with the best of them, and after all, scoring goals is the name of the game. Gaudet led North Sydney in scores last winter after arriving late.

Three players left out of our thumb-nail sketches last week LYNN FOLEY and ALLIE ARSENAULT, all capable ball players who made their contribution towards winning the three-province crown. Arsenault was second to STU MUTTART in the scoring race of the Prince County Baseball League this year. He is not a long ball hitter, but punches out a lot of one-base blows. Foley, who is a star hockey player with the Summerside Juniors, got some timely blows in the series with Chatham. Campbell is the smallest player on the team, but handles his chores well at third base. He will doubtless improve with the years. The C.F.B. EAGLE BASEBALL TEAM put up a fairly good fight against the Springhill Alpines for the Intermediate "A" Baseball Crown, after being walloped rather badly in Springhill. They extended the visitors to an extra inning at the local C.F.B. Baseball Grounds. They had a pretty good baseball team, but not in the same class as their softball aggregation of last year. This was seen chiefly in the pitching department. JACKIE PATE, PUCHINAK, and the lead-lease flogger, DONNIE SCHURMAN, all did well, but were not quite up to the standard set by PETE DEVANA in softball. We think it rather strange that softball should have gone by default in Summerside the past season as it consistently outdrew baseball for a number of years. But the baseball organizers kept the show on the road, and are gaining steadily in popularity, where the promoters of softball let things slip.

Bettors Have Tough Choice

What looks like a fine harness racing program is scheduled for Charlottetown Driving Park tonight.

The eight-dash menu has plenty of appeal and patrons are most likely to see the keenest kind of race program.

The feature, dashes four and eight, brings together three fine pacers and a steady going trotter. Mark Purdue, Irene Mir and Sunny Key will do battle with the trotter, Bell's Last, handled by Randall MacDonald. Both trips of this feature are certain to provide thrills galore.

Dashes three and seven will give a bit of variety. Eight horses are entered in these dashes. The first trip will be the usual regulation but the next time out, the horses will call it quits after one-half mile. That will have the bettors scratching their heads in fine style.

Other dashes are well filled and strong competition can be expected in every one of them. Picking winners should prove a really difficult task.

The usual win and place betting will be available and four features will be provided. The first daily double will be on races one and two, the quinella on race three, the exactor on the sixth dash and the second double on races seven and eight.

The horses get the word promptly at 8 o'clock.

SWIM STAR WINS SIX GOLD MEDALS

Charles Hickcox, 19-year-old Indiana University sophomore from Phoenix, Ariz., puts his arms around the shoulders of Jaime Monzo of Spain and Bernard Vicente of France (RIGHT) after the 200-meter backstroke finals of the Little Olympics at Mexico City Sunday. Hickcox won the event, Monzo was second and Vicente third. He also won the 100-meter backstroke, 100-meter freestyle and 200-meter medley, and swam with the 400-meter medley relay and 800-meter freestyle relay teams for a total of eight gold medals.

'Cop' Finds His Horse And Sets The Odd Record Or 2

By AL McNEIL
MONTREAL (CP) — The "kicking cop" of McGill may already have set one mark in the fledgling Ontario-Quebec Athletic Association football season.

Reidmen claim he's "the oldest rookie in latter-day league history." He's 28-year-old Sgt. George Springate, a full-time policeman and law student and, on the football field, a part-time kicker and offensive end.

Fortunately for him his job as a public relations officer for the department allows him some flexible working hours. "I work mostly afternoon and night shifts," he said.

WORKS ON TV, RADIO

The force's two-man PR bureau of Springate and Sgt. Ronald Toupin is responsible for weekly TV shows on police activities, in French and English, spot radio programming and information to news media concerning such things as traffic conditions.

When McGill lost its season opener to Queen's Golden Gaels 28-16 Oct. 1, Springate accounted for 10 points on three field goals and a convert.

However this didn't spare him a mention of another sort from coach Tom Mooney. "I got a special citation for making more mistakes than any other offensive end in league history," said Springate, with a rueful grin. "I was behind the quarterback's count at the line. Also, it seems like I missed my blocking assignments all day."

Mooney says Springate gives his squad something they lacked last season—a placement kicker. "He's not fast at end, but he's got probably the best pair of hands on the team to catch a pass," the coach said. "At least he gets the ball up and through the posts." DOESN'T BOTHER HIM

Mooney said Springate's presence had lent some maturity to his inexperienced squad.

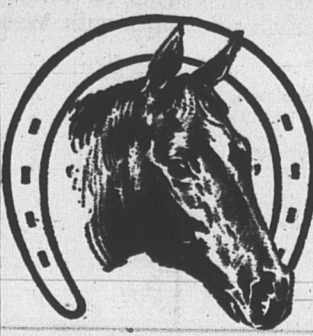

"The boys give him a hard time and call him 'cop,' but they still look up to him because of the work load he's carrying. Sometimes the crowd get on him, but it doesn't seem to bother him."

Springate said the crowd reaction doesn't upset him. "He had it before playing senior football locally with Hochelaga and St. Lambert. He played with St. Lambert last season, although a freshman at McGill.

"I think they (the crowd) enjoy the uniqueness of the situation," said Springate. He related how, when he first appeared on his weekly TV show Police in Action, he always had a "police horse" with him.

"One day I was having a bad day on the field at St. Lambert and a lady in the stands kept yelling, 'Come on, Springate, where's your horse?'" "I finally caught a pass and went 55 yards for a touchdown. On the way back to centre field I stopped by the stands and told the lady 'I finally found my horse.' After that they left me alone."

How They Stand In Eastern Football L.

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Weekend action in the Eastern Football Conference resulted in little change in the individual statistics with Ottawa Rough Riders leading in four categories.

The Riders, who clinched first place in the four-team conference, have the top scorer in Moe Racine, the best passer in Russ Jackson, the leading pass-interceptor in Joe Poirier and the top kickoff-return man in Bo Scott.

Hamilton Tiger-Cats, battling with Montreal Alouettes for second place, boast the leading punter in Joe Zuger and the top punt-return man in Garney Henley. Montreal's Don Lisbon leads rushers and Bob Taylor of Toronto Argonauts tops pass-receivers.

Racine scored eight points in Ottawa's 20-18 victory over Yamilton Sunday and maintained a one-point margin over Peter Kempf of Montreal in the scoring race.

Racine has 65 points on 28 converts, 10 field goals and seven singles while Kempf has scored two touchdowns and kicked 13 converts, 12 field goals and three singles.

TOPS RUSHERS
Lisbon, who took over from Bob Paremore as Montreal's backfield star, has gained 846 yards in 164 attempts for a 5.2 average.

Jackson, one of the powers behind Ottawa's 11-1 record, has completed 128 of 242 passes to lead quarterbacks with a 5.39 percentage.

Taylor, acquired in a trade from Calgary Stampede of the Western Conference, has caught 47 passes for 686 yards and five touchdowns.

Poirier has eight pass interceptions and two good combinations. Scott and Jim Copeland of Toronto have returned 15 kickoffs each, but Scott has gained 399 yards to Copeland's 335.

Henley leads punt-return men with 76 for 401 yards.
Zuger tops the kickers with a 43.9 average. Dave Mann of Toronto has a 43.6 average.

COMEBACK OF YEAR

Powell Is Amn. Comeback Player

NEW YORK (AP) — John (Boog) Powell, the husky first baseman whose improved batting helped Baltimore Orioles win the American League baseball pennant, Monday was named the circuit's Comeback Player of the Year for 1966.

He collected 124 votes in the balloting by 312 baseball writers in the annual Associated Press poll. Shortstop Luis Aparicio, also of the Orioles, was second with 32 votes and pitcher Jack Sanford of California Angels third with 27.

Powell increased his batting average 39 points, his home-run production by 17 and his run-batted-in output by 37 last season.

Howe Signs For Record No. Times

DETROIT (AP) — Gordie Howe has signed for a record 21st season in the National Hockey League, making his contract with the Detroit Red Wings.

The 36-year-old star said "I'm looking forward to my 22nd season." Previously Bill Gadsby of the Red Wings and Dit Clapper of Boston had played 20 years along with Howe. Both Gadsby and Clapper have retired.

Howe's salary was undisclosed, but Manager Sid Abel called the contract "the finest in Gordie's 21 years with the Red Wings."

Howe is 11 goals shy of becoming the first man in NHL history to score 700 goals in combined regular season and playoff action.

He has been league scoring champion six times and the league's most valuable player six times and holds a host of other scoring records.

He finished with a .287 average, 34 homers and 109 RBI. He was fourth in batting, the runner-up in RBI and third in homers. In 1965, Powell hit 248 with 17 homers and 73 runs batted in.

Orlando Cepeda of St. Louis Cardinals last week was named the National League's comeback player for 1966.

Irreplaceable Cheese

To-day's cooks use cheese the year round. Flavorwise it makes all our everyday foods sing. Nutritionally it contains most of the important nutrients found in fresh whole milk. And pennieswise, it's still one of our best food buys.

The Thoughtful Mother

gives everyday foods a gourmet touch. She adds a slice of thick cheese to minute steaks when they're almost ready to serve, then pops them under the broiler just long enough to melt the cheese. When serving cooked cauliflower she drizzles it with plenty of melted butter, then sprinkles liberally with grated Parmesan cheese.

The Gourmet Cook

uses a variety of Canadian-made cheese. Crumbled Blue cheese goes not only into tossed salads... but into sour cream for spooning over hot broccoli... and into whipped cream for topping warm fruit pies. Shredded goods is added to creamy scrambled eggs for Sunday brunch, and omelets are livened up with processed Canadian-made Swiss and a touch of chives.

The Amateur Chef

adds nippy Canadian cheddar to his hash-brown potatoes, and cooks them in plenty of butter! Also specializes in Reuben Sandwiches—made with corned beef, sliced Swiss cheese and sauerkraut sandwiched between thin slices of rye bread. He also "waffles" them in the waffle maker instead of cooking them on a grill.

The Smart Teenager

makes her hamburgers Italian style adding basil, oregano and garlic salt to the meat mixture and topping each patty with a slice of Mozzarella cheese when almost cooked.

The Knowing Hostess

starts things rolling with a pretty cheese tray, and always adds her own specialty-spread to the tray. Two cups grated Canadian cheddar, blended with a 4-ounce package soft Italian cream cheese, a tablespoon sherry and 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce form the basic mixture. Chopped olives or crumbled blue cheese can be added to taste; then roll in chopped parsley, or nuts—or served in a little crockery pot.
