sembles Rainey G. Henley 20414, that Charlie Ballard brought here some years ago. We are looking for some great battles between these two. I am sorry to report that our mutual friend, Allie Lewis, has been very sick this winter but is now making a good recovery and wishes to be remembered to you. Of course you'll immediately think of the many great free-for-allers he raced. Allie was one of the top drivers of his era and had a great following. All the boys that served under you wish you the best for 1952 and I join them." Thanks Matt, and we hope you will give our kindest regards to the boys and to Allie.

And now we turn to our faithful correspondent, S. Thane Belyea, Fredericton, N.B. "Thanks for review of Maritime racing. I have gone over it thoroughly and enjoyed it very much. Here is some news: Thomas H. Scovill of Gagetown, N.B. has left to join the Poplar Hill Farm stable at Lexington and then on to Florida. He would like to have gone with Joe O'Brien but could not get the necessary papers filled out in time. I hope he makes out okay, because he is crazy about horses. Poplar Hill Farm and Racing Stable is owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Larkin and they have some of the fastest trotters and pacers in the world. Just a few days ago they purchased Lana Direct 2:01 3/5, and Dolly Direct 2:03 1/2. They are large sum from parties in California. They race on the Grand Circuit mostly and breed and sell horses that have made world records. You will be glad to know that Johnny McManus is in his usual good health and is working with Harry Mount who is training the J.E. Forbes Stable with Pat D. 2:09 1/2, Miss Eloise 2:12 Sandy Budlong 2:14 and a couple of others. I enjoyed reading your report of the races held in Fredericton, N.B. in 1951, and believe it or not I saw all those races but I did not know any of the drivers at that time except Billy Beckley. I remember the battle between Tommy Raymond and Fred Cameron with Fred winning the first two heats with Dingola and James K. Newbro coming on to win the next three. It was a Game of Chance that Tommy bought in Indiana after looking over Single G. You will remember Game of Chance very well, no doubt. He was a big horse, raced free-legged and was owned by Bert Lint, Fredericton. He raced pretty well through the Maritimes but was handicapped getting away on the first turn. I wonder if you could look up a race that was held in Fredericton the fall of 1919. It was for trotters and Fred Cameron won with Victoria, owned by Dr. D.H. McAllister, Sussex. It was split up and they raced until dark. Brage was in it and Roy Miller. If I remember rightly Brage won the first heat. The time was very fast. Then Roy Miller won the next two, also in very fast time. Victoria, whose speed had been conserved won the fourth heat. The judges took down Roy Miller's driver and put up Peter Carroll the fifth heat and Roy Miller was shut out. Then the fireworks started. The crowd swarmed out on the track and I thought they were going to wreck the judges' stand. After a lot of talk they allowed Reardon to drive the sixth heat with Roy Miller but Victoria won the race. Dr. McAllister won a lot of money on Victoria that had been completely overlooked by the speculators.

"Yes, Thane, we found the summary of the race above. This is the way it appears. Fredericton, N.B., Sept. 18, 1919 - 2:16 trot, purse $400. Victoria (Cameron) 4 4 3 1 1 1; Roy Miller (Reardon-Carroll) 2 1 4 2 2; Brage (F. Boutiller) 1 2 4 4 2 Ro; Bravos (Lady Smith) 3 3 2 3 Ro; Cochoato (Gow) 6 5 5 Ro; Border Prince (Brickley) 5 dis; Time - 2:15 1/2, 2:13 3/4, 2:15 1/2, 2:16 1/4, 2:23 Note - Roy Miller had a record of 2:11, and was a co-holder of the world's record for one mile by two-horse trotter hitch. That same meeting at Fredericton Fred Cameron won the 2:14 trot and pace with Bob Mac, best time 2:11 1/4, one of the fastest heats paced in the Maritimes that year. Bob Mac was bred at the MacPherson farm, Charlottetown. Fred also won the 2:16 trot and pace with Jenny Penn in straight heats, best time 2:14 1/4 and the free-for-all race with Fern Hal, best time 2:12 1/2. He was one of the top drivers if not the top in the Maritimes that season. The 2:18 trot and pace was won by Singer, driven by Ernest Burke in straight heats and Bill Sharen, then a four-year-old won the 2:20 trot for owner Sam Boyle in 2:16 1/4.

Turning back to Bert Lint's great pacer a Game of Chance, we have a very keen memory of a race he took part in at the Nova Scotia Exhibition, Halifax, Sept. 18, 1914. The field was a classy one and at that time Hilda S. was making a great campaign for driver Peter Conroy. Other top horses were Mary Cromwell, Prince Wilkes and Dan Paine. The pacer Helen E. owned by the writer, was also in that class, although eligible for a much slower one as we were figuring on taking her to the ice races at Dufferin Park, Toronto, that winter and wanted to escape a win race mark. Helen R. got away on a break the first heat but paced the last quarter at a terrific clip and won the heat in 2:18 1/4. Hilda S. won the next two. Then Game of Chance came on and won the next two and the race was put over until the next day. Scoring for the final heat there was Hilda S., Helen E. and Game of Chance, the first named pacer took Game of Chance away so fast he made a bad break and Hilda S. won. The following week Helen R. set up a new track pacing record at Charlottetown against time, 2:12 1/4. A Game of Chance justified the high opinion that owner Lint had of him by winning later in the State of Maine, and the next year, raced on the Grand Circuit by Walter Cox, won several stakes and took a record of 2:02 1/4. He was just too big gaited for the twice arounds!

Our sincerest thanks are extended to the many horsemen friends and readers for their kind season's greeting by cards, letters, etc. and also for their expressions by letters and personally praising our Maritime Racing Review.

Miners-Hawks Game Again Postponed

AMHERST, N. S., Jan. 11 (CP)—The Maritime Major Hockey League game between Moncton Hawks and Glace Bay Miners scheduled to be played here tonight was cancelled when Miners reported themselves snowbound at New Glasgow.

Hawks, travelling by train from Halifax, had planned to stop off in Amherst but remained aboard when informed of Miners' plight. Officials of the Arena said both clubs had agreed to play the game here when it is rescheduled. The postponement was the second for the game, which was snowed out earlier this week. Miners also lost a second game to Old Man Winter this week and another game slated for Saint John was cancelled because of storm conditions.

Famous Australian Race Horses Dies

BRISBANE, Jan. 11—(Reuters)—One of Australia's greatest race horses - The Buzzard - died here last night at 26. He sired the winners of nearly 1,000,000 in purse money. A son of the British Epsom Derby winner Spion Kop, out of Valesure, The Buzzard was imported from England by J. G. McDougall, owner of the Lyndhurst Stud Farm in Queensland.

Hunters Corner

Not all pheasants who yielded to temptation and visited a farmyard did. In some instances the farmer acted as host; in others it was as executioner. I'm willing to admit that a big cock pheasant in the glory of winter plumage outlined against a snow-covered field a tempting target for a 22 calibre rifle and a lot of youths own such rifles and a target like that presents a lot of temptation. Not so long ago a farmer cutting in his woodlot told me he spotted a lad in his teens stalking along his line fence that led to a swamp where some pheasants were wintering. Often he'd hear a cock pheasant crow while he was working. He kept an ear open and in a few minutes the silence was broken by the sharp crack of a 22 rifle. He said that he wasn't a detective but it didn't require heavy mental strain to figure out the target. He told me he didn't know how successful the hunter was but in the two days following the shot he hasn't heard a sound from the pheasant cock.

In this age of high pressure hunting any species of game that is not able to look out for itself is in for a short life. Both the pheasants and Huns are well able to shift for themselves in respect to hunting. Severe winters present a different problem. Today the bulk of our pheasant population winter in the swamps. Once they decided to trust no one they increased and spread at a phenomenal rate.

It is now history that if our hunters had given the Prairie Chicken (Sharp-tailed grouse) a break this large and valuable upland game bird might now be legal game. Seven or eight years ago 28 Sharp-tails purchased in Calgary, Alberta, by Island Pheasants Unlimited, were released at Alexandra in Queen's County. The planting was made early in the spring. The birds paired off and several coveys were raised that summer. Two years prior to this planting three pairs of sharp-tailed grouse were purchased in Saskatchewan by the Provincial Department of Agriculture and liberated at West River. This planting raised broods as 18 birds were observed the same fall in the China Point area of southern Queen's.

The Prairie chicken were never given a chance to get "wised up". They were in the dumps in the early stages of their sojourn here. I look quite a time before their true story of what happened came to light. Just recently this columnist was told what happened to several coveys... local hunters gathered up on them and wiped them out during the open season on Huns and Pheasants. I was even supplied the names of some who had Prairie chicken when it was too late to do anything about it.

Four years after the planting at Alexandra a covey of seven were in existence, but since then there has been no trace of the Prairie Chicken as none have been observed or reported. The Sharp-tailed grouse were too trusting. Our own Ruffed grouse (partridge) have a like weakness. In the clear winter evenings of January and February they stand out like a sore thumb when budding in the tips of the leafless birch and poplar. More Ruffed Grouse are shot in outlying districts during this period than during the legal open season. They are a different bird then from what they are in October. Behind the old homestead stands a birch grove. Present day disease has thinned out many of the white monarchs but in my young days it was a real grove. In the winter evenings "natives" would flock to our grove to fill up on buds. Some evenings as many as eight or nine would be feeding in the delicate tracery of bare birch tips. They made a beautiful picture of grace and elegance etched clear against a winter sky. I've watched spell bound as feathered feet grasped slender twig and balanced daintily as black ruffed necks reached out full length for a succulent bud. Sometimes in my youthful exuberance I'd try to reach one with a snowball. They weren't disturbed in the least. The more I dwell on the unfathomable ways of a hunter with a gun in his hands the more I am convinced that the Ring-necked pheasant and Hungarian partridge are the birds for this country.

"Tom Fool" Gets Top Rating

NEW YORK, Jan. 11—(AP)—The Greenintree Stable's Tom Fool, voted the champion year-old colt of last year, received top rating of 126 pounds yesterday for the 1952 Experimental Free Handicap.

The husky bay son of Menow-Gaga heads a list of 128 horses compiled by John B. Campbell, racing secretary and handicapper of the New York tracks.

In his ratings each January, Campbell attempts to predict on the basis of last year's form what the three-year-olds will do in the Kentucky Derby, Preakness, Belmont and other sophomore classics.

Three other colts are in the runner-up position with 123 pounds—J. H. Dunn's Oh Leo, the top juvenile last year in the mid-west; Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Cousin, winner over Tom Fool in the Hopeful Stakes; and Primate, from the Starmount Stable of E. B. Jen-jamin. Oh Leo won the Washington Park Futurity among others, Frimate the Juvenile and Youthful Stakes.

OUR NEWS BUDGET for OUR SATURDAY SUBSCRIBERS

MONDAY

LOUISBURG, N.S., Jan. 6 (CP)—A jurk bought in Prince Edward Island lives in the Marine Hospital here because the town's children don't want it killed.

Fire Chief Lewis bought the turkey as a raffle prize to raise money for a new truck. Alex Bryan won the white, 25-pound bird, and had taken the eye of every child while on display.

Bryan took the turkey home, prepared to kill it. But neighborhood kids pleaded that "Mr. Tom" remain alive. He consented and took the bird back to the fire department. They gave him a dressed one.

Mr. John DuPasquier of St. Peter's was re-elected President of the new Edward Island Show-horn Breeders' Association at the very well attended annual meeting in the City Hall on Saturday.

In his annual report following the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the financial report, Mr. DuPasquier said that the judge at the Charlottetown Exhibition last year had remarked on the fine showing of Shorthorns. Mr. DuPasquier felt that still better results could be obtained by breeders concentrating on either beef animals or dual purpose and by the provision of separate classes at the show for the two types.

An increase in the electric light and power rates by the Maritime Electric Company on meter readings on or after January 1st, due to increased fuel costs, has gone into effect, it was learned on Saturday.

The Public Utilities Commission announced that the raise is due to the increased cost of Bunker C fuel oil delivered in Charlottetown under the clause of the recent order providing a revision of rates for the Maritime Electric Company.

The clause mentioned above reads: "The foregoing energy charges are subject to the following proviso: If, because of the rise or decline in the delivered cost of Bunker C Fuel Oil above or below the price of Two Dollars and Ninety Three Cents ($2.93) per barrel (of 35 Imperial Gallons), the cost of producing energy appreciably rises or falls, the said charges shall be subject to variation accordingly by the Public Utilities Commission after summary enquiry on its own motion or on ex parte application by the Company."

An increase of two mills per k.w.h. has therefore been authorized on all energy over and above that contained and provided for in the basic charge.

TUESDAY

The opening service in the local observance of the Universal Week of Prayer was held last night in Central Christian Church, which a large congregation filled to capacity. In the absence of the minister, Rev. M. D. Dunbar, the worship was conducted by Rev. J. D. Davidson, assisted by Rev. T. H. B. Somers.

Special preacher for the evening was Senior Captain Leslie Whitcombe, of the Salvation Army, who gave a powerful presentation of the music of prayer in the life of Paul. Mover for the evening was under the direction of Miss Thelma Burns and included the anthem by the choir, "Shine Star of Glory", and a solo by Mr. Preston Beck, "Night of Nights".

At the annual meeting of the Summerside Fire Department held last night in the Town Hall Mr. Abdon Arsenault was nominated for the office of fire chief to replace Chief W. B. MacNeill who after many years service is now retiring. Mr. Fred MacLeod was nominated as sub-chief and if elected will replace Mr. Claude Kenny, who has retired after service in this capacity for about half a century. Other nominations brought in were: Salvage Corps, captain, Malcolm Steele, Bill Morrison and Borden Connell. Hook and ladder, captain, Jerry Doucette, Art Corney and Cyril Kenny. Hose and reel (1) captain, Earl Sudbury. James Watson, Charles Mountain. Hose and reel (2) captain, John Watson, A. Woodside and Charles Cahill.

These nominations will be presented to the Town Council for ratification at the next meeting of the council.—S

In an inspiring and moving program the Trinity Men's Association, Charlottetown, last night at a supper meeting in the Church Hall, said "au revoir" to their retiring President, Mr. Milton Barkhouse. Assistant manager of the Bank here, he leaves Wednesday for Halifax to assume the post of Assistant Inspector, Supervisor's Department.

equal cost of living bonus of $200.00 to all teachers on the staffs of the City Schools. It was decided that non-resident pupils who have not paid their tuition fees must leave the schools within 30 days.

The report of the Art Supervisor was read as was also the report of the Truant officer. Mr. J. A. S. Williams was granted leave to allow him to attend a meeting of the Directors of the Canadian Teachers Association in Ottawa.

Mrs. Lantz and Colonel Johnston were appointed a committee to look into the possibility of securing some one to take over Physical Training in the four City Schools.

—COMMITTED TO SUPREME COURT— On Saturday, January 5th, Francis Arsenault, who had been committed to stand trial in Supreme Court on a charge of indecent assault, appeared before Judge L. G. Lewis, and elected to be tried by a judge and jury. This means that the accused will be tried by the regular sitting of the Supreme Court in June, unless he sooner re-elects to take a speedy trial. Mr. J. A. Gallant appeared for the accused, and Mr. J. Harold Goodwin represented the Crown.—S

—BEFORE MAGISTRATE— Mr. Elmer Murphy, editor of the Journal and Pioneer, was charged yesterday morning in Magistrate E. H. Strong's court with contempt of court. The charge arose out of an editorial which appeared in the Journal and Pioneer on January 4th under the heading of "Thoughts On The Civic Election" in which Mr. Murphy, among other things, commented on the manner in which the Taxation Appeal Court dealt with the twenty five per cent increase in property valuation for taxation purposes. The case was adjourned until Thursday, Jan. 10.

Mr. Bruce Waite, employee at the Hall Manufacturing Co. Garage, and Mr. Harry Birch are desirous of a deal of credit for their prompt action yesterday morning in rescuing a collic dog which had in some way fallen into the sewer hole in the harbor at the East End. The men, hearing the dog whining, went to investigate and were unable to approach near enough on foot to help the animal. Planks were procured and the two men were just able to reach the dog by lying flat just as the animal was sinking. They managed to haul the dog on solid ice and although immersed in the cold water had almost stopped its circulation they were able to restore it by brisk rubbing and after some time the dog, which proved to be a beautiful collic was able to go on its way.—S.

WEDNESDAY

There was a total of 1,250,000 pounds of cucumbers delivered to Matthew Wells plant here during the year just ended, it was announced yesterday by Mr. Chester E. Shaw, senior inspector, Dominion Fruit and Vegetable Inspection Service.

This quantity represents an income to the growers of the Province of approximately $50,000, he added.

Yesterday's heavy snow storm in the West Prince area, which was accompanied by strong winds, made all roads impassable. Government snow plows kept going all day but a heavy drift filled in the roads shortly after the plows went past.

Towards evening the wind calmed down and it is expected that the main roads will be cleared of snow today (Wednesday), but it will be some time before all roads will be open to traffic. Many cars were snowed in on the Summerside to Tignish highway awaiting the snow plow. A party of Alberton curlers finally made their way to Summerside after two attempts, to take part in the annual bonspiel.

The weather ran the gamut here yesterday, freezing rain followed the heavy snowfall of late Monday night and early Tuesday morning. Snow began to fall again last night, in the City plows and other snow-fighting equipment fought a stubborn battle to keep traffic moving. The freezing rain marked the first silver thaw as wires and trees were coated with a heavy white crust.

Late last night Provincial Government officials said all main streets had been opened with the Government-owned plows out fighting all day. However, in view of a new storm apparently in the making they were worried for fear roads would again be blocked this morning. If they are the plows will start early to clear them again.

The various aspects of the extreme coal shortage on Prince Edward Island were discussed in Summerside Monday morning before J. Walter MacNaught, M.P., and representatives of two of the largest coal companies on the island. He promised he would take the matter up with the authorities of the Dominion and other coal companies in Montreal; and if that is not satisfactory he would discuss the coal shortage with Hon. C. D. Howe, M. P., Minister of Trade and Commerce.

day by the Grand Jury on the four indictments with which they were presented as the Supreme Court held its Queens County January sittings. Two of the indictments were for rape, one for driving to the common danger and one for possession of an offensive weapon.

In the case of manslaughter, charged against Robert Rackham, arising out of a truck-train collision on June 7 last, the Grand Jury returned to the courtroom to see if the charge could be reduced to that of the common danger of driving to the indictment. The Grand Jury then found no true bill on the manslaughter charge but did return one on the lesser count.

The two indictments for rape were on charges against Elmer Wilfred Feehan, Mount Stewart, and Edward Francis Fall, of this city. They arose out of an incident involving a 15-year-old girl whom they are both accused of criminally attacking. In the case of Fall he appeared in Court not represented by counsel. When asked by presiding Justice M.R. McGuigan if he wished to be, he replied in the affirmative. Mr. Justice McGuigan then appointed Mr. Allison Gillis as his counsel.

A true bill was also found on the indictment charging Hensin Gay, Hazelbrook, with possession of an offensive weapon.

THURSDAY

An amendment to the Highway Traffic Act which would make mandatory the stopping of all motor vehicles at railway crossings was urged in the report of the Grand Jury which was presented by foreman P. R. McCormack to Mr. Justice McGuigan in Supreme Court yesterday.

The report viewed with alarm the "ever increasing" number of accidents occurring at railway crossings in this Province.

Montague and surrounding areas were cut off from electric power and telephone communications on Tuesday evening at approximately 5 p.m. when a sleet storm broke communication wires between Montague and Charlottetown. Several breaks occurred in the power line, the main one being centred at Millville. Power was restored at 1 a.m. Wednesday, much to the relief of many householders who were without heat for eight hours. However, after about an hour the power went of again until almost 11 a.m. Telephone and telegraph communications were not established until yesterday evening when all breaks in the lines had been repaired.

Slow delivery of mails by afternoon train to King's County, discontinued last October when replaced by a special mail truck service inaugurated by the Canadian National Railways, is to be resumed shortly and the likelihood is that the old service will remain in effect indefinitely.

Reversal to the oldtime system has been ordered as a result of representations made about three weeks ago by a clandestine delegation headed by Mr. Thomas J.
