PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION, 1893

Pleasant Weather---Continued.

THOUSANDS ON THE GROUNDS

Some of the Exhibits and Special Exhibits.

CONTINUATION OF THE PRIZE LIST.

The scene at the exhibition grounds this morning was bright and animated. Judges were judging the horses, cattle, sheep and poultry, and the gathering crowds clustered about the classes in which they were most interested. There is no question as to the ability and honesty of Professor Shaw and Dr. Reid; and consequently though there may be some disappointment on the part of some of the exhibitors, there was no anger as in former years, and but little discontent. Everything is going on without a hitch.

In the exhibition building Mr. Fred Macdonald, of Glenadale, is successfully operating his butter making machine in the presence of a critical audience of ladies. On the grounds adjoining, Prof. Shaw delivered an address to the assembled farmers. He pointed out the distinction between the dairy and beef herds from living specimens chosen from among the exhibits. He said that in beef cattle the object was to get them shaped as much as possible in body like a parallelogram. They should be low and thick set, deep and broad. The breed should be medium in size, clear cut, and possessed of a full, calm, large eye. The neck should be short, widening gradually to where it joins the body, and blending as evenly as possible with the shoulders. The shoulders should be smooth, wide at the withers, and well filled before and behind. The back should be broad, long and well fleshed. The body well developed, that is to say the ribs should be well sprung and deep. The loin should be broad. It was specially important to have good development in the hind quarter, which should be long, wide and deep. The legs should be short rather than long, and the skin should be soft and easily movable on the ribs and certain other parts. A good skin and hair were the indications of quality.

In dairy animals, the fore part, especially in females, should be lighter than the hind part. The breed should be finer than in the beef breeds, the neck longer and thinner, the eye more lively, the withers fair and the shoulders light. The back should be prominent along the spinal column and the joints open. The crops should have a steep pitch. The barrel should be large. The ribs have a more downward spring than in the beef breeds. The hocks and rumps should be wide apart, the quarters deep, the thighs thin, the twist open, the legs medium. The udder should be well forward and backward, evenly quartered, and with good teats well placed, the milk veins long and tortuous and entering the body through large orifices, the skin fine and elastic, and the hair fine and soft. The reason why these respective points were necessary were given at the proper time as the lecture proceed.

Prof. Shaw said in conclusion that his address would afford to the young men present a fair specimen of the information which was daily afforded to students at the agricultural colleges. He advised young farmers to take a course at these colleges if they could manage to do so.

On motion of Mayor Haviland, a unanimous vote of thanks was given to Prof. Shaw.

Some of the Special Exhibits.

The tasteful appearance of the Exhibition building is due largely to the efforts of our merchants and others who have supplied special exhibits of the wares they have on sale. One of the first things to greet the eye on entering the building is the booth of Messrs. James Paton & Co., artistically hung and furnished with the beautiful goods they have in stock. Further on to the right a large space is occupied by the McKay Woolen Mills Co., who show a hundred and fifty different patterns of their excellent tweeds which they make in their factory in this city. Messrs. Haszard & Moore, too, make a very fine exhibit of samples of their printing and book binding, their blank books being particularly well worthy the notice of business men. In a quiet corner is the tasteful exhibit of Messrs. George Carter & Co. These Carters are wonderful people. Carter's ink and Carter's seeds are of world-wide celebrity, and now we have Carter's Books and Stationery Further on, Messrs Prowse Brothers have a large exhibit of gentlemen's furnishings, carpetings, hangings, etc., all of which are sold by them at the Wonderful Cheap Men's prices. In connection with their exhibit, we note particularly a wonderful chair, the framework of which is entirely of horns. On enquiry, we learn that it is the work of Mr. Armour, the well-known and popular driver on the P. E. Island Railway. The horns are beautifully polished, and altogether the chair is well worthy of notice. It is said that Mr. Armour proposes to make a set of them. Across the way is a large and well-arranged exhibit of the wares made by the enterprising firm of Mark Wright & Company, including samples of the chairs which they are now providing for the Masonic Hall. Adjoining this is an exhibit of the machinery used by the Messrs. Goff Bros. in their boot and shoe factory. The machinery is running by steam, and the shoes are being turned out. This lively exhibit "takes the crowd." Messrs. Dodd & Rogers have extensive exhibits of their hardware and stoves. The Charlottetown Soap Factory exhibits again a saponaceous pyramid; and in sharp contrast with it are the tomb stones of Mr. Purdie, to remind the moving visitors that all are journeying to that bourne from which no traveller ever returns. In passing along, we omitted to notice—we cannot see everything at a glance—the large and creditable exhibition of organs, pianos, etc., made by the Messrs. Miller Brothers of this city. Nor must we forget to notice the stuffed birds, including the owls, or the key check and stencil exhibit of Mr. R. F. Maddigan, and his interesting collection of old coins.

NOTES.

The crowd present on the grounds to-day was larger than that of the second day of last year.

The Citizens' Band discoursed music between heats.

Mr. Bent is in town reporting for the Summerside Journal.

Dr. Creamer, of New York, was among the visitors at the Exhibition to-day.

Messrs. Quirk Bros. are doing a rushing business at their restaurant.

Mr. Machum, of the Fredericton Globe, is here to see our Exhibition.

The Teachers Convention.

The first session of the Teachers Convention opened this morning at 10 o'clock in the Philharmonic Hall. The attendance was perhaps the largest of any held here, there being over 200 present. The President, Mr. D. J. McLeod, Superintendent of Education, opened by a short and practical address, after which the several committees were appointed. The next session will open to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock sharp. Teachers not present at first session will please give in their names then.

Body Identified.

The Rev. Father Burke, of Alberton, has received letters from the parish priest of Caraquet which enabled him to identify the body found on the beach at Howard's Cove recently, and interred at St. Mark's, Lot 7, as that of Raphael Gionest, of Paquetville, N. B. The body found at St. Margarets is that of Henri Duguay, according to appearances. Those men were lost out of a Caraquet boat on North Cape in the great storm, together with another Caraquet fisherman whose body was found by his friends and interred at his home in New Brunswick.

HAVING LEASED
—THE—
QUEEN HOTEL,
Halifax, Nova Scotia,

The Lessee takes great pleasure in announcing that the rates are:

Upper Floors, two in room, $1.50 per day.
Single Rooms, $1.75, $2.00 and $2.50 per day, according to location.

This great reduction in rates will not in any way impair the present efficiency of the Hotel either as regards the service or cuisine. A single trial will convince any one of the fact.

GRAND DISPLAY.

Messrs. Prowse Bros. & Co.

DEAR SIRS,—It was my pleasure to visit the Exhibition Building yesterday, and while looking through it was very forcibly struck with the good taste displayed in the arrangement of your show, which is certainly magnificent. I am only sorry I am not in a position to buy some of those elegant Silk Curtains or Portieres at present, but hope to be very shortly, when I will make a bee line for your Store. I hope you will meet with the success in your Carpet Department your rich display and low prices deserve.
