P. E. I. EXHIBITION OPENED TO DAY

A Splendid Show of Cattle and Horses

EXHIBITS FROM THE NEIGHBOR PROVINCES

Small Show of Roots and Vegetables ---Fine Fruit Exhibit

All day yesterday and all this forenoon exhibitors with their exhibits were pouring into the exhibition grounds. At the hour of the opening this afternoon the show was practically ready.

In respect to horses and cattle, it is the largest, perhaps, taken for all in all, the finest ever held in Prince Edward Island.

The live stock exhibits from the neighboring Provinces add largely to the interest of the show. These include eighteen splendid Ayrshire and Durham cattle with two bulls from the herd of Mr. C. A. Archibald, Truro; seven sheep from the flock of Mr. Andrew McPherson, of Westville, a fine herd of Holsteins by Messrs. Logan Brothers, of Amherst, and a splendid herd of Herefords by Hon. W. W. Black, of Amherst.

Among local exhibitors of live stock Senator Ferguson, John Richards, John T. Ferguson, Alexander Robertson, William Miller, Alexander McPhail (of Argyle Shore), Joseph Wise, Mr. Stewart, Henry Lane, E. R. Brow and last but by no means least, F. G. Boyer, Georgetown Royal, were early on the ground—all with splendid animals, in their various classes. The Senator's Galloways seem to thrive in this climate; for we have never seen them in a better condition. Mr. Richards' Polled Angus cattle are also in splendid order, and are evidently well suited to this northern climate. Mr. Boyer's short-horns are a show in themselves, splendidly developed animals in their years—several of them milk-white, resembling in this respect their great sire, Silver Chief, of the celebrated Crickshank's stock.

Mr. Henry Lane, of Lot 49, and Mr. Stewart, of Lot 48, exhibit splendid short-horn bulls, and Mr. Wise a fine herd of short-horns.

Messrs. J. T. Ferguson, Edward Wood, Alexander Robertson and William Miller are exhibitors of Ayrshires—excellent specimens of the hardy good milkers which contribute so largely to our flourishing cheese and butter factories.

A very interesting exhibit is that of Mr. Alexander McPhail, of Argyle Shore, who exhibits two very fine Jersey bulls and a Jersey cow—three beautiful animals—from a herd of five recently imported by Mr. McPhail from Wilmington Stock Farm, Massachusetts. The enterprise which adds in such a way to our stock of pure bred animals is worthy of high commendation.

Mr. William Clarke, of North Wiltshire, is again to the front with fine exhibits of cattle, sheep and horses—three beautiful Jersey cattle being particularly admired.

Of course we are quite unable today to mention a tithe of the exhibits worthy of notice; but we will add to the list. Among the side shows on the ground is that of Mr. John D. McQuaid, Royalty Junction, who exhibits this year a large and interesting family of mongrel ducks, a large and interesting family of buff Cochins China poultry, together with fox terriers, pointers and spaniels.

There is complaint among the exhibitors of the finer kinds of cattle that the sheds are not covered in as at Halifax and St. John.

IN THE EXHIBITION BUILDING.

The first thing that attracts attention on entering the exhibition building by the northern door is a monster squash which on enquiry, we find was grown by Mr.

James Houston, of this city, and weighed 190 lbs. This is the largest squash ever exhibited here—larger even than that great squash which formed the theme of our late lamented friend, Mr. Archibald McNeill, at many a social meeting. It was grown by Mr. Richard Burke and weighed 177½ lbs. This one is 12½ pounds heavier.

The exhibit of grain, roots, and vegetables is upon the whole smaller than we anticipated. It appears that in so far as the number of exhibits is concerned, a mistake was made in shutting out the small cultivators who reside near Charlottetown. The farmers of the country at large have failed to make up for the loss of this class of exhibitors. There is, we think, upon the whole, a falling off in the size and quality of these classes of exhibits as well as in the number. But Messrs. Richard and Arthur Burke are to the front with fine collections of vegetables, each numbering between forty and fifty different varieties; and we are pleased to note that Mr. John Berrigan shows samples of as fine turnips as were ever shown in Charlottetown, grown from seed supplied by our enterprising local seedsmen, Messrs. Geo. Carter & Co. Mr. Berrigan's potatoes also are superior.

It is pleasing to see a large exhibit of dairy products. This is as it should be. The array of cheese is fine and the competition exceedingly close.

If the exhibit of roots, etc., is disappointing, the fruit exhibit is reassuring. The space railed off for fruit is so overcrowded that resort was had to the neighboring tables which are also covered. The samples shown are very fine, though many of them are not yet fully grown, and though the size of some of the varieties of apples—as for instance the Emperor Alexander—is not so large as at some former exhibitions.

Mr. Johnson, of Wolfville, N. S., exhibits about fifty samples of fine Nova Scotia apples.

The flowers also make a beautiful exhibit, highly creditable to Messrs. Hazard & Moore and the other exhibitors.

A tasteful, artistic and instructive exhibit is that of the Maritime Experimental Farm at Nappan. The numerous samples of grain, fruit and other products of the farm are effectively arranged and capitally presented. For instance we are, by a useful sketch, shown the value of clover as a manure, and by another the best kinds of corn to grow. This exhibit is highly creditable to the designer of it, whoever he may be.

In the galleries of the exhibition building the floor are too bare. It is pleasing to note that the artistic ability of the Provinces is well represented, and that many of the ladies are vying with each other in the production of fine and fancy articles. In the art department, Mr. L. W. Watson makes an exhibit which is of historic as well as artistic value.

In a modest corner we are pleased to note a good sample of Jordan's celebrated oil.

Other private exhibitors including Messrs. George Carter & Co., Messrs. Hazard & Moore, Messrs. Sentner, McLeod & Co., Messrs. Miller Bros. make creditable exhibits of their goods.

At three o'clock, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor entered the Exhibition building, and after congratulating the Directors and the Province and welcoming the exhibitors, particularly those from abroad, declared the Exhibition open.

Troops to the Rescue—Hot Talk to the Men.

[SPECIAL TO THE EXAMINER.]

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Sept. 25.—The peace which prevailed in the entire coal field is in danger of being disturbed.

General Corbin has received information that an attack was to be made on Preston, No. 3 mine, of the Reading Company at Guardville, about eight miles from here. Troops were accordingly ordered there.

A disturbance was expected at Cambridge colliery, south of here. Of one hundred and forty men employed at the mine a hundred and thirty went to work. Every man is said to be armed.

J. McInnes, one of the officials of the company, addressed the men this afternoon and said: "Fight if you must. Retreat when attacked. I will fire the first shot. When I do so fight for your lives. Don't shoot until I do, and then shoot to kill."
