FEATURE ALBUMS

SUPERTRAMP ALBUM SHIPS IN EXCESS OF 200,000

Supertramp's latest album, "Famous Last Words" has shipped over double platinum... "Famous Last Words" marks the first Supertramp album in three years. The band's previous album was the live project, Paris. Why so long for a new studio album? "They're Perfectionists", You have to take into account the excellence they put into an album and the criteria they use before recording a song. In 1979 they toured almost a year and in 1981 started working on new material.....

BLUSHING BRIDES brew brand of basement rock

Even before RCA had released Unveiled, the debut album from the Kingston, Ontario-based Blushing Brides, the quintet had established themselves as the highest-grossing non-recording group in Canadian history, setting box office records in several centres.

Recorded and mixed at Toronto's Sounds Interchange with production by Hilly Leopold, the album features the single What You Talkin' About. The band is presently on tour in support of the album.

The group comprises vocalist-harpist Maurice Raymond, guitarist-vocalist Paul Martin, guitarist James "D.B." Green, bassist Martin Van Dijk, and drummer Richard "Ricco" Berthiaume.

Under the direction of their former teacher, now manager Gord Nicholl, members Martin and Van Dijk founded a band called Consilium and for over six years they performed standard hits of the '60's and '70's.

However the new band wasn't formed until a chance meeting between Martin and Raymond, of the group Jade, in a Montreal pub. It was out of that initial discussion that the new band was born.

On July 15, 1979 the newly-formed group made their debut as the Blushing Brides on the Grandstand stage of the Kingston Exhibition.

After perfecting their act both visually and musically, it wasn't very long before they began to attract a large following. With their roots in R&B and the British bands, the quintet became especially well-known for their uncanny re-creation of Rolling Stones numbers and performances.
