Dodgers Shade Stars 5-4 In City Baseball League Game

The Dodgers edged the Stars, 5-4 in an exciting but rather erratic city baseball league game at Memorial Field last night. It was a nip and tuck ball game all the way as the Stars took a 2-1 lead in the first inning, spread it to 3-1 with a single marker in the fifth only to see the Dodgers go in the lead with one in the sixth and two in the seventh. The Stars tied it up in the top of the eighth but in the last half of the same inning the Dodgers won the game by scoring their only earned run of the night.

Ronnie Stanley pitched the victory for the Dodgers, his second this week, although he was tagged for 10 blows, including four doubles.

Roger MacLeod, with an able assist from Vern Handrahan, held the Dodgers to only six hits but his teammates developed a bad case of nerves behind him and kept errors. MacLeod gave up three walks, including an intentional pass to Buck Whitlock in the seventh, and hit one batter. Stanley walked nobody and hit nobody.

Handrahan, whose hot bat slammed out a pair of doubles and knocked in one run for the Stars, first came to MacLeod's assistance in the third frame when the Dodgers had loaded the bases with none out. He got LeClair on a pop fly, caught Ken MacDonald in a run down when Irv MacKinnon missed a bunt on an attempted squeeze play and proceeded to strike out MacKinnon on the next pitch. Handrahan was less successful in his second try in the seventh. Once again the bases were loaded with MacKinnon at bat. However,

MacKinnon picked out a Handrahan pitch he liked and swatted it for a clean single to account for the third and fourth Dodger runs. The Dodgers scored the winner in the eighth when Donuts MacDonald was walked, advanced on Gillis' single and came riding home on a single by Ken MacLeod.

The total of 11 errors played a considerable role in the scoring and as a result only the Dodgers' winning run and the Stars' initial run in the first inning were earned. Ken MacDonald and Irv MacKinnon each had two singles for the Dodgers. Handrahan's two doubles led the Stars. Kip Ready followed close behind with a double and single and Bill Morell hit two singles. Johnny Squarebriggs had the other Stars' double.

Cadet R.A. Kennedy Qualifies For 2nd Round Queen's Prize

Despatches from the Blesley Rangess, Surrey, indicate that the name of Kennedy is still a name not to be conjured with particularly when it looked onto an Islander. Yesterday reports were received that Cadet Ralph Kennedy, son of Major and Mrs. Earl Kennedy, Charlottetown, is among the ten Canadian marksmen out of about fifty who qualified to fire in the second stage of the Queen's Medal, the premier match of the British Empire rifle meet.

Ralph who is a member of the official Canadian Army Cadet Team, was the only cadet from the Dominion to qualify with a score of 99 two points behind the top Canadian, N. L. Beckett a veteran marksman from Hamilton, Ontario.

In building up to this, what may be his most successful year as a cadet, he has for the past four or five years trained under the very critical eye of his grandfather, F. G. Kennedy, Southport, who himself for several years was one of the leading marksmen in the country. This is the son of Ralph's grandfather who will fire in the final stage of the match.

FORD DEFENDS TITLE

Snead Doesn't Bother Champ

By WILL GRIMSLEY
CANTON, Mass. (AP)—Straight-talking Doug Ford champions today, one of the few men in the 127-man field completely unconcerned about Sam Snead.

"I wouldn't give twenty cents for Sam's chances, the way he's driving the ball," the moon-faced pro from Yonkers, N.Y., said Thursday. "It's going to take a good, straight driver to win here—and Snead, from what I've seen, is all over the premises."

First round matches are scheduled today in the five-day marathon which calls for staying power as well as steady shot-making. The site is the Blue Hill Country Club, 15 miles south of Boston.

Snead, a three-time winner is one of six former champions challenging the powerfully-built Ford, who defeated Cary Middlecoff in last year's finals at Detroit.

Sam said his broken left hand, which bothered him in the recent Canada Cup and International Trophy matches in England, had healed considerably and he was back in almost topflight form.

THE OLD SNEAD
He pulled in yesterday from Chicago where he beat Middlecoff the National Open champion, in an 18-hole exhibition match, shooting a 67 to the doctor's 68. He is playing so much like the old Snead that he has been made a strong PGA favorite, with everybody except Ford.

The Blue Hill course, a 6,634-yard layout which plays a par 36-35-7, has straight fairways, eight dogleg holes and a number of elevated greens.

Ford said his personal choices for the championship, besides himself, are Ed Furgol, Tommy Bolt and Shelley Mayfield.

A single round of 18-hole matches is scheduled today, with two rounds Saturday and two more Sunday reducing the list to four semi-finalists. The thirty-six hole semi-finals are slated for Monday, with the championship round Tuesday.

Joe Adcock powered Milwaukee Braves to a runaway 13-3 National League victory over New York Giants Thursday. He clouted two homers, one a grand-slam blow, and drove in eight runs.

They were his 18th and 19th home runs of the season and he now ranks two grand slams in 57 1/2 days and a total of nine homers in the last 11 games.

Adcock chased starting pitcher Jim Hearn in the first inning when his drive over the left field fence scored Billy Bruton, Eddie Mathews and Henry Aaron. Mathews earlier singled home Danny O'Connell, who had walked.

Adcock's second homer came in the sixth inning, off Dick Littlefield, scoring Mathews and Aaron ahead of him.

The league-leading Braves ran up 15 hits in all to give winning pitcher Warren Spahn ample support. Hearn was the loser.

CUBS EDGE PHILS
Chicago Cubs nipped Philadelphia 4-3 in 10 innings as Dee Fony powered a home run with two out to end the game. Bob Miller, relieving starter Saul Rogovin, was the loser and Turk Lowm the winner.

Jim King and Walt Moryst also hit homers for the Cubs while Gran Hamner clouted a four-hagger for the Phils.

Tom Morgan checked off a two-out rally by Detroit Tgeirs in the ninth inning to nail down a 7-3 American League victory for New York Yankees and Tommy Byrne. The Yankees broke open the game with four runs in the sixth inning, with four runs in the sixth inning.

The big blow was Hank Bauer's ground-rule double with the bases loaded, scoring two runs. Byrne gave way to Morgan after singles by Harvey Kuenn, Jack Phillips and Charley Maxwell loaded the bases with two men out. Then Al Kaline grounded to Gil McDougald who tossed to Billy Martin to force Maxwell at second.

The lowly Kansas City Athletics belted Boston Red Sox 8-4 behind the six-hit pitching of Walcy Burnette. Home runs by Vic Power and Harry Simpson accounted for five of the As' runs. Ted Williams and Jimmy Piersall hit for the circuit for Boston, each with the 1 sees empty.

Dick Sisler was the losing pitcher. One night game was scheduled in the National League and two in the American.

There were high expectations for the kid even then, and they've been fulfilled. He turned out to be one of baseball's great right-handers.

The glory days are gone and the lightning has faded from his famed fast ball, but Bob Feller is still pitching for the Cleveland Indians and his name still has magic.

In his debut on July 19, 1936 the pink cheeked reliever walked home two runs and Cleveland lost to Washington.

BLEW 'EM DOWN
But in his first start, Aug. 13 the same summer, the 6-foot youngster blew 'em down with his blistering speed. He struck out 15 while beating the St. Louis Browns, 4-1.

Through 20 memorable years, covering 3,770 innings in 862 games, Feller has won 266, lost 160 and fanned 2,572 batters. He's hurled three no-hitters, to tie the major league mark set by Lawrence Corcoran and Cy Young, and earned a batch of other records.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twenty years ago Thursday a 17-year-old greenhorn thrived nervously from the bullpen at Griffith Stadium to throw a ball in his first big league game.

BEATS WILLEY

Bedard Wins Tennis Crown

OTTAWA (CP)— His blistering serve working to perfection, Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., Thursday night won the men's singles final in the Ontario tennis championships, disposing of Paul Willey of Vancouver 6-0, 6-1, 6-1.

Bedard took only 40 minutes to down Willey who couldn't handle the Canadian champion's serves while doubling faulting himself several times.

Willey managed to win his two games only by holding his own service in the sixth game of the second set and breaking Bedard's in the second game of the third.

Both finalists were selected Thursday as members of Canada's Davis Cup team which meets this United States in Victoria later this month.

Bedard teamed up with Ann Stacey of Halifax to win the mixed doubles crown with a 6-3, 7-5 win over Willey and Eleanor Dodge of Montreal.

The Bedard-Stacey team, behind 2-5 in the second set, broke the losers' service twice to win.

In addition to Bedard and Willey, two other competitors at the Ontario tournament—Don Fontana of Toronto and Lawrence Barclay of Vancouver—were named to the Davis Cup team. Barclay is a newcomer in the Canadian lineup replacing Henri Rochon of Montreal.

Eighteen golfers from the Belvedere Golf Club will leave here over the weekend to compete in the annual N.B., P.E.I. Golf Championships which will be held at the Riverside Golf and Country Club outside Saint John next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Leading the strong Island contingent will be club pro Cecil Dowling who won top professional honors in the Nova Scotia Open held last month.

Bill Beer, runner-up to Maurice Dowling for N. B. P. E. I. honors and a member of the Willingdon Cup team a year ago, will match the club's top player, the New Brunswick crip. Beer, who has been practising steadily these past few weeks, came up with scores of 72 on two occasions at the local course this week.

Art MacKenzie, the N. B. P. E. I. champion of 1954 will attempt to win back the title that he took in a never-to-be-forgotten extra hole play-off with Bob Gray two years ago.

Last year's Maritime Junior Champion Errol Nicholson of Charlottetown will be back again to defend his junior crown and add new laurels to his successes in his promising golf career.

Errol won the N. B. P. E. I. Open last year and later showed

18 Local Golfers to Play In N.B.-P.E.I. Golf Championships

it was no accident when he took the Maritime Junior Crown as well.

In addition to Nicholson two other juniors will compete. They are Bobby Dowling, brother of Club pro Cecil Dowling and young Gerald Burgoyne.

Two teams of golfers will compete for low gross and low net scores. The first team will be comprised of Art MacKenzie, Bill Beer, Had MacInnis and Don MacDonald.

Second team members are Bob Dowling, Dr. Brown, Gerald Burgoyne and Doug Saunders.

The favorable weather this week has given all players an extra opportunity to get their game in shape. All of them have been practising steadily and turning in scores which indicate they will do well in the big meet.

Island players competing in the meet include: Bill Beer, Art MacKenzie, Tom Rogers, Errol Nicholson, A. G. MacMillan, Had MacInnis, Don MacDonald, Doug Saunders, Bob Dowling, Dr. Moreside, Dr. Brown, Dr. Irwin, Gerald Burgoyne, Mac Kennedy, Maynard MacMillan, Jack Brown, Cecil Dowling and Bob Giggey.

Veterans And Newcomers Tee Off Today In Can. Ch'ships

TORONTO (CP)— A band of leathery veterans and an assortment of newcomers will drive off Golf Club in the first round of the $4,175 54-hole Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship.

Nearly every CPGA champion for the last 20 years is entered in this first recognized tournament for the Downview course where 71 is par for the 6,720 yards.

Stan Leonard of Lachute, Que., and Vancouver, who won his first pro title in 1940 and followed it up with four others, was slightly favored to repeat his 1954 championship performance.

He did not complete last year when the title was taken by Al Balding of the Credit Valley Club, Toronto. Balding is the brightest of the new pro stars in the wake of his winning winter and spring tour of the U.S. golf circuit.

Montreal's Bill Kerr disagreed; he favored 212 as the mark to shoot at.

Red carpet or no red carpet, Amoyot can claim a few credits including the fact his swim was also the earliest on record in any year.

Amoyot, 31-year-old industrial draughtsman from Quebec City, made the crossing Tuesday, but he did it in almost suspicious fashion. Buffeted by tides, he came ashore at an inaccessible cove at the foot of a 300-foot cliff, then scrambled into his trawler and headed back to Calais before civic officials—and reporters with pencils poised—could get near.

CONFLICTING REPORTS
Sam Rockett, who trains many channel swimmers, said in Dover: "The trouble is you don't know where the swimmer is going to come ashore."

D. C. MacIntosh, entertainment and publicity manager in the Kent resort town, said "you get conflicting reports." First he heard Amoyot had failed in his bid, then he was told he had already returned to France.

Two OTHERS FAIL
In Calais Mayor Andre Parmentier Thursday invited Amoyot to be guest of honor at a civic reception today. Other members of the Quebec swimmer's party, including the crew of his escort ship, also were invited. Calais has a soft spot for Canadians, laurels to his successes in the city in the Second World War.

Amoyot said he had received about 30 congratulatory cables from Canada.

Meanwhile two swimmers failed in attempts to duplicate Amoyot's effort.

Behl Wild, 19, of South Africa, was pulled from the water five miles from Calais more than 13 hours after she left Dover. London real estate agent Wilfred Westley gave up three hours after leaving Calais. He had covered about three miles.
