4,000 Seats Claimed To Hear Billy Graham

Four thousand reservations have already been received for special sections of the seating facilities at the Exhibition Grounds for Sunday afternoon's Charlottetown appearance of Billy Graham.

Victor B. Nelson, crusade director, is urging that families bring folding chairs and camp stools which can be used for seating on the race track and the grass around the speaker's platform.

In conference with the police department and the RCMP it has been decided that most streets leading to the exhibition grounds be converted to one-way traffic from noon Sunday to permit cars to be parked in time for the meeting. Ample parking is being arranged in and around the grounds.

A local committee headed by Lester Keiser is now busy erecting risers to handle a choir of several hundred voices for the Sunday meeting which begins at 3.00 p.m.

Tuesday night, 1,600 people attended the Joe Blinco meeting. According to crusade officials this is above average for a third-night crowd in a community this size.

Seats at the driving park will be free for the rally on Sunday. All local denominations are attending the meeting and everyone is welcome, it was stated.
