HALIFAX (CP) — Lady Dunn turned a sod on the Dalhousie University campus Tuesday when a new $1,000,000 science building will be erected to bear the name of her late husband, industrialist Sir James Dunn.

Money for the new building is being provided by the Sir James Dunn Foundation, set up by Lady Dunn to carry on projects in which her husband was interested. She said one of her "chief interests" was to provide Dalhousie with a science building which was "first class in every respect."

As she turned the sod on what would have been her husband's third birthday — he died in January, 1956 — she said she hoped the new building "will help Dalhousie keep pace with other major universities" now that science has entered into the era of space.

The building will house the university's engineering, physics and geology faculties. The gift is one of the largest Dalhousie has received. It will be called the Sir James Dunn Science Building.

Other speakers included Brig. H. R. D. Laing, chairman of the university's board of governors, and C. D. Howes, Dalhousie's newly-appointed chancellor. Mr. Howes, once an engineering professor at the university, said the appointment was "possibly the greatest honor" ever bestowed on him.

French Market Was For Primary Can. Products

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's trade with France, already hampered in by currency restrictions, will likely be reduced still more as the result of the imposition of a 30-per-cent tax on all imports by the French government earlier this week.

Trade department informants, however, were hopeful that Canada's exports, largely raw materials, would not be as severely affected as those of countries selling manufactured goods.

Last year Canada sold roughly $35,000,000 worth of goods to France, almost 50 per cent of them raw materials. This was a marked increase from the previous year.

PURCHASES FALL

During the current year French purchases in Canada have been falling, particularly as France's monetary position approached a crisis.

This week's move by the French government to stimulate exports and curtail imports is viewed as completion of the devaluation of the Franc begun last year.

Canada's efforts consist predominantly of copper, pulp, asbestos, synthetic rubber and flax seed — all articles desperately needed by French industry if production is not to be curtailed.

France buys little wheat from Canada. Last year French purchases of durum and seed wheat totalled roughly $4,500,000. This sizeable sale occurred mainly because European wheat crops were hit by unseasonably cold weather.

During the six-month period ended June 30, Canada imported goods valued at $17,000,000 from France, an increase of more than $2,000,000 from the corresponding total in 1956. During the period Canadian importers bought wines, textiles, cosmetics, perfumes and other luxury items.

AUTUMN FOLIAGE

The summer season has ended, and Autumn is heralded in. The splendor and beauty of nature is displaying her best therein. The foliage and trees are laden with leaves of splendor and gold, crimson, purple and scarlet. Wonderful indeed in behold.

The panorama of greens and yellows and vivid reds, and so are many too numerous to mention. But beautiful and all agree.

The shimmering leaves in the sunshine. Moving with grace sublime. All tell of God's wonderful handwork. And speak of things Divine.
