why wait for SPRING TO DO YOUR RENOVATION, REMODELING, REPAIRS, INTERIOR DECORATION AND MAINTENANCE? MEN AND MATERIALS ARE AVAILABLE IN THE WINTER MONTHS DO IT NOW ROLAND PHILIPSON

Asks Summerside Citizens To Have Jobs Done At Once With over 1,400 men and more than 200 women in Prince County presently registered as unemployed at the National Employment Office in Summerside, a campaign is being sponsored as advertised elsewhere in today's paper, to encourage employers and citizens to have various jobs done now rather than wait until spring. Roland Philipson, male employment officer with the National Employment Office at Summerside, who heads this campaign in Prince County is seen above with one of the many placards which are being placed in various business places and show windows about town, which suggest that renovation, remodelling, repairs, interior decoration and maintenance work be done now rather than waiting until spring. Mr. Philipson said he was pleased to note that several Summerside firms have already responded to the idea and have provided employment for several persons who are doing interior, repair, renovation and painting work. He said that during this period of seasonal unemployment, if jobs were undertaken now, rather than waiting until spring, it would mean that a large number of people, many of them skilled tradesmen, could be gainfully employed. Y's Men Hear Talk On Early History, Traditions Of P. E. I. At their regular weekly meeting in the Green Street Y Center, the Summerside Y's Men last night heard a very interesting talk on the early history and traditions of Prince Edward Island given by Dr. Frank McKinnon of Charlottetown, principal of Prince of Wales College. After being introduced by Clarence Mercer and starting with Prince Edward Island's history as a colony of England, owned mainly by absentee landlords, he gave to his listeners an insight into what political and social life was like in those days. The land was heavily wooded, requiring a great deal of clearing before being suited for agriculture. Ships were built and loaded with produce which was shipped to all parts of the world, where both cargo and ship were sold. In those days, the speaker said, anyone who returned to Prince Edward Island after being out of the province was met by a torchlight procession. The biggest mistake made by Prince Edward Island, he said, was when the government contracted to have a railroad built, costing some $5,000,000 per mile with no stipulation as to its length. As a result the railway was built with the greatest possible mileage and the province was bankrupted in its paying for it even before its completion. Previous to this Islanders were not interested in joining confederations but were driven to it by necessity and thus could not obtain favorable terms. The speaker went on to say that culture and traditions are equally as important to a people's happiness as wealth, political power and industry. P.E.I. is rich in the former and may yet be rich in the latter. He was thanked on behalf of the club by Ross MacKenzie. Art Robinson, co-chairman, asked for volunteers to stay after the meeting to help send out letters soliciting goods for this project. Charles Linkletter called for reports from the various committees preparing for the Y's Men's open house day at the Y Center. These reports showed that work was well under way to welcome the general public to the Y Center on this day. Ralph MacFarlane asked for a volunteer to assist George MacLennan in instructing the newly formed H-Y basketball team on Saturday mornings from 10 to 12 a.m. Willard Hogg reporting on club finances stated that there was a present overdraft of $1,539.20. George Key, Jr., asked the members to plan now to attend the Maritime Regional convention in Fredericton over the May 24th weekend. Chairman for the meeting was Keith Hobson with Jack Scott leading the sing-song and Laurie Coles levying fines. Guests present were Bill Robinson of Charlottetown, Clay White of Key West, Florida and Rev. C. R. Webber of Summerside.

Hungarian Revolt Shook Terror System To Roots

Editors note: The Hungarian revolution broke out three months ago Wednesday. Endre Marton of The Associated Press is the only non-Communist reporter who saw it start and then followed it hour by hour through the ensuing 12 weeks. Now, facing the possibility of arrest, he has left Hungary. At the AP bureau in Vienna he is putting into focus the things the revolution has meant for its native land, and to think about its future. This is the first of three stories.

By ENDRE MARTON VIENNA (AP)—The Hungarian revolution is still going on, even though the guns are silent except for an occasional burst. The last three months have seen the spiritual rebirth of a people long debased and humiliated by the terror of totalitarian dictatorship. They will continue resisting. In the two weeks or so after Oct. 23 a couple of thousand desperate Hungarian freedom fighters destroyed some 360 Russian tanks and killed a few thousand Russian soldiers.

SHOOK TERROR SYSTEM They achieved something more. They shook to its foundation the efficient terror system international communism uses in ruling 800,000,000 persons. The Hungarian freedom fighters disillusioned thousands of Western Communists. They opened the eyes of many people in Asia's "uncommitted countries" who had been beguiled by communism's soft talk. The Hungarian armed revolution was crushed in two weeks by nearly 5,000 Russian tanks and more than 200,000 Russian soldiers. But neither terror nor tanks have been able to conquer this revolution.

It keeps on, with different and less spectacular methods, even though hope has vanished for active help from the outside. It is continued by a desperate and valiant people who were humiliated for almost 13 years by Nazis and Communists and the Hungarian stooges of both. THREE PHASES The revolution had three phases between Oct. 23 and, roughly, the end of 1956. The first was that period of the victorious, jubilant revolution that started with peaceful demonstrations, and then roared through the streets of Budapest to tear down Stalin's statue. It reached its peak when Imre Nagy set up his coalition government, and when Hungary's 600,000-member Communist party and its 60,000 member secret police force virtually disintegrated. The second phase brought Russian revenge. It started at dawn Nov. 4, when the Soviet army launched a lethal attack on Budapest. It ended after six days and nights of war in the capital's streets, when all armed resistance had been broken. Then came a period of passive resistance. This started immediately after Nov. 10 and was broken only around the end of the year. In a subtle and modified form, this continues, especially among the intellectuals. MASSIVE HATRED Now the revolution is in its fourth phase and all signs indicate this will be a long one. This fourth phase is difficult to describe, especially for people who have never lived under totalitarian occupation. Now that the dramatic things have largely ended, there remain the 10,000,000 Hungarians, united as never before in their thousand years of history in one massive hatred against the Russians and communism. It is a peril that international communism must reckon with. The hard fact is that resistance, both active and passive, is continuing in Hungary despite all efforts of the Russian - imposed regime of Premier Janos Kadar. STILL HAVE GUNS A high-ranking official admitted recently to this correspondent that there are still firearms "in considerable quantity" in the hands of the population. Some of them are being used by dihard rebels. The open strikes of factory workers and miners have largely ended. But a subtler slowdown of factory hands and coal miners continues. The economy is virtually bankrupt. The three groups that prepared the way for the October revolution continue to snub the government's overtures and refuse to cooperate. They are the writers, journalists and students. And this despite the fact that secret police have arrested leaders of all these groups and ordered their organizations dissolved. EXPECTED WESTERN AID What is the "secret" that led this nation to find its real self again? What inspired revolt in a nation whose backbone was believed to have been broken long ago? The Hungarian people rebelled because they could no longer stand terror, communism, humiliation and exploitation. The overwhelming majority appeared convinced that once they took up arms the West would come to their aid. This belief came from Hungarian language broadcasts by Western radio stations. This correspondent personally believes the Voice of America, the BBC and Radio Free Europe did not intend to "incite" Hungarians to revolt. But the hard fact is that persons in Budapest listened to these radio stations as if they were oracles. They simply could not believe that active Western military help would not follow the broadcast words.

Welfare Officer Is Suggested By Legion Committee A total of 194 needy persons in Summerside, representing approximately 35 families, received assistance from the local branch of the Canadian Legion, as shown by the annual report of the committee presented at the annual meeting of the branch on Monday night. The committee chairman was Victor Sanderson, with Leo Wedge as a very active member. 145 of the 194 persons were children and all received assistance from the Summerside Legion at different periods throughout the past year. The report recommended that a study be made by the incoming executive in regard to the need for some positive action to provide better housing for veterans in such cases where the need is urgently indicated in Summerside. Also, the report recommended the appointment of a full time welfare officer for the town.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain. Thousands have been relieved—without resort to surgery. In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Trade Mark Reg.
