The young people of Keppoch Beach had an opportunity of passing swimming and water safety tests at the completion of the Red Cross course of instruction conducted by Mr. Darold Tanton. Miss Mary Farmer carried out the tests and presented awards to the successful candidates. Mrs. Gordon White, chairman of the Keppoch swimming and water safety committee, made all the arrangements for this project. The following received certificates and crests:

Elementary: Jimmy Ives, Peter Clarke, Brian Prowse, Donald Miller.

Juniors: Janis Fulton, Jeanne Arsenault, Donald Sanderson, Louise Jones, Mary Cullen, Jimmy Matheson, Pamela Aikroy, Intermediate: Donald Pickard, Marshall Jones.

price increases of other cuts will be allowed.

A month later all other cuts are to be reduced by the same 10 per cent.

The government also has plans for bringing down by five to 10 per cent the prices of coffee, oil, soap, margarine and macaroni. By removing local taxes on these products and by asking the merchants to add a voluntary price cut of four to five per cent.

It is also negotiating with industrial associations for price reductions in furniture, shoes, household goods, electrical appliances, hats, clothes, wallpaper, paint and linoleum.

If the traders really play ball with the government, a small increase in the purchasing power of wages might be brought about, but it seems doubtful this will be enough to ward off the threatened labor trouble for October after parliament reconvenes.

Entertainers Cast

A very pleasant evening was spent at Sandy's Restaurant, Marsfield, yesterday when Father George MacDonald of St. Margaret's entertained the cast of the play, approximately 20 people. A wedding was presented to one of the cast, the coming bride's wedding day being in the near future. A vote of thanks was extended to Sandy and his staff for services rendered.

Funeral at New Dominion

The funeral of the late Reuben Betts was held from New Dominion United Church yesterday afternoon. Services were conducted by the Rev. A. S. Weir. During the service Miss Shirley MacDonald sang as a solo "Someday He'll Make It Plain". Interment was in the church cemetery. Pall bearers were Martin MacDonald, James Betts, John Betts, Cam MacPhee, Thomas Lowther, and Walter MacEwen.

Roland MacDonald. Interment took place in the church cemetery where services were conducted by Rev. Owen Sharkey. Pallbearers were Alex O'Hanley, Colin MacDonald, Joseph R. Larkin, Roy McLaine, Edward Quigley and C. C. Pratt.

Meeting of Creditors

The first meeting of creditors was held yesterday in the Law Courts Building in Charlottetown in the bankruptcy of John S. Edgett, operator of the Barn Drive-In, Malpeque Road. The Eastern Trust Company was confirmed as trustee. Three inspectors were appointed: Ivan Nicholson, representing the C. R. Simons, representing the Island Propane Gas Ltd., and N. W. Lowther, Q.C. for Michael Bros. Mr. A. Alistair MacLeod submitted a report on behalf of the trustee indicating that the business had been operated since 1948 with a balance of profit until the present year. This year, however, revenue declined and two judgments were recorded in August. The land, buildings and most of the equipment is covered by mortgages and bills of sale to the P.E.I. Government and to Edward and Susanna Powley. In the opinion of the trustee the reason for bankruptcy was insufficient capital.

Tanjug said the troops were "deployed in fighting formation" and left only after being ordered to do so twice by Yugoslav frontier guards.

Italian newspapers have reported that Italian troops and tanks were being moved up to the frontier town of Gorizia, but defence officials refused to confirm or deny these reports. An Italian army spokesman said only that troop movements were part of "normal summer manoeuvres."

Official representatives of Britain, the U.S. and France spoke Monday with the governments in both Belgrade and Rome, urging a policy of caution.

Death Yesterday

The late Mr. MacLeod taught school for several years at Heatherdale, Valleyfield, Montague and Digby. When he gave up teaching he came to the city briefly in the employ of Prowse Brothers to obtain a knowledge of merchandising. Then he started in business in Montague as a partner in the firm of MacLeod and MacGregor.

He returned to the city permanently in 1922 and the following year became chief clerk in the Tax Office until 1927. He entered the Registry of Deeds in 1943 and remained until his retirement last March 1 although he had been on sick leave prior to that.

He was a member of Trinity United Church and served a great many years on the Committee of Stewards as well as having been treasurer of the church.

Surviving are his wife, the former Miss Emily Martin, of Kinross, and one daughter, Jessie, Mrs. Arthur MacLeod, a son, John, predeceased him several years ago. An adopted sister, Maud, Mrs. Johnathon MacLean, Edmonton, Alberta, also survives.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock from Trinity United Church with interment in Valleyfield Cemetery.

Nursing Problem

Touching on the nursing problem which exists in all parts of Canada Dr. Burns said that whereas the medical profession did not accept the responsibility for this situation, it is so intimately connected with the general health programme, and is so vital to the treatment of patients that the C.M.A. cannot escape a share in the task of making a survey and assisting in an attempt to increase the number of nurses and nursing aids. Despite the fact that nursing training attracts approximately thirty per cent of Canadian girls of matriculation standards, the shortage is widespread and increasing. He suggested an increased enrolment of student nurses and the better utilization of graduate nurses.

Afternoon Meeting

Mr. F. W. Jelks, Department of Health and Welfare, P. E. Island, spoke at the afternoon meeting in the Prince of Wales College auditorium explaining the activities of the newly instituted Laboratory Services for fungus diseases, and was followed by Dr. G. MacLean of Saint John, N.B., who described the clinical picture of some skin infections. Dr. Gerald M. Halperin of Montreal concluded the afternoon session with an address on "Management of Constipation."

A happy release from a strenuous indoor day with the temperature hovering above 81 was provided by Dr. Harold Shaw and Mrs. Shaw at their beautiful summer home at Stanhope. Seventy-five doctors and wives were in attendance at this informal assembly where there was no disagreement among the fraternity about the quality of entertainment prescribed with barbecue steak as the main item of diet, followed by a period of vigorous exercise as exemplified in lawn dancing.

The sessions will continue today with addresses at P. W. C. both morning and afternoon and a luncheon at the P. E. Island Hospital where the guest speaker will be Dr. A. D. Kelly of Toronto, with Dr. E. S. Giddings presiding.

Stresses Progress Made In Fight Against Cancer

"There is hope for the cancer sufferer if he visits the doctor early. We are making progress in the fight against cancer and we are saving lives. Prince Edward Island has done more, on a per capita basis, than any other Province," declared Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, O.B.E., one of the founders of the Canadian Cancer Society and President of the P.E.I. Division, at the opening of the Charlottetown Cancer Campaign last night.

"From a scientific standpoint we are making progress and from an educational standpoint we are making progress," Dr. MacMillan said. "Because of the educational program being carried on in this Province we are getting cases earlier and thereby saving lives. We know we are getting the cases earlier because the pathological specimens show more 'new' cancer whereas a few years ago most specimens showed 'old' cases which were practically hopeless when they went to the doctor. We are adequately equipped here to treat cancer by surgery, X-ray, radium either singly or in combination."

"We are saving lives through our educational program and we are contributing towards cancer research and fellowships for doctors. We are sending several of our own Island doctors away each year. We need money to carry out this program and this is the reason for the cancer campaign. That the cancer campaign is regarded as a most important one is evidenced when our people always subscribe to the amount of our objective—the cancer campaign has always gone over the top and I am sure it will again this year."

"This money for the cancer campaign is going to help people save the lives of their loved ones and perhaps it will help save their own life," concluded Dr. MacMillan.

Mr. W. H. Beaton, general chairman of the Charlottetown Cancer Campaign presided, and expressed his appreciation to the team members who turned out on such a hot night. He paid special tribute (as did Dr. MacMillan), to Mr. Ralph M. Jones, chairman of the special names division.

Mr. Jones distributed the cards to the splendid band of workers (listed in another column) and thanked them for their attendance and splendid co-operation.

The "special names" canvass starts today and must be concluded this week to make way for the general canvass next week.

Country Women Of Wor' Conclude Visit To P.E.

Tea guests at Government House late yesterday morning were visiting women from the Associated Country Women of the World Conference who were honored previously to their departure from the island. Receiving them were Lieutenant Governor T. J. Prowse and Mrs. Prowse, Premier A. W. Matheson and Mrs. Matheson.

Prince Edward Island is the first Province whose lieutenant governor has so honored this group.

The tea table at Government House was decorated with crimson sweet peas in a crystal bowl, on a base of greenery. The rooms also contained bouquets of late summer flowers.

Previous to the tea, the group toured the Provincial Building, escorted by Premier Matheson, Hon. J. L. Herring (life member of the Confederation Chamber. I didn't realize it was located here in Charlottetown."

The visitors seemed impressed with the design of the historic room and pointed out to each other the points of beauty which they saw.

The international party left for Murray Harbour at 11:15 a.m. Mrs. J. L. Herring (life member of the Confederation Chamber, P. E. Island, and Mrs. F. Gates, East Royalty, accompanied them on their buses.

At Murray Harbour they were met with friendly greetings from the local W.I. president, Mrs. T. H. Fraser and many Institute members. At the public hall, they were served luncheon and heard the Island Hymn. Lady Brides Binney of Tasmania, expressed the appreciation of the group and how much they had enjoyed warm island hospitality.

Before they departed on the ferry for Caribou, N.S., the women were presented with souvenir seashore shells on which were painted a map of the Island.

Their tour of the Maritimes continues this week through Nova Scotia after which they will return to their homes.

Douglas MacKinnon, Minister of Public Works; Hon. Eugene Cullen, Minister of Industry and Natural Resources; and Hon. C. C. Baker, Minister of Agriculture.

"It was a lesson in history for me," said one lady, "to visit the Confederation Chamber. I didn't realize it was located here in Charlottetown."

of commission," Murray said. "We tried contact navigation, flying below a heavy cloud covering, but got completely turned around."

About 2 a.m. Sunday we were turning to try to get on the directional beam from Churchill, when I felt the aircraft twist. The pilot hit me on the leg and I knew we had a starboard power failure.

"I was working the throttles, but getting no response. The pilot said there was water ahead, but we hit the ground first, exploded to starboard and bounced nose-up into the water."

The starboard side of the aircraft was flaming after it hit the first time. The plane bounced into the water, hit and exploded again, then cartwheeled in flames. Its estimated speed was 175 miles an hour.

"When we hit the water I started to pray, then the steering column came back and hit me across the nose," Murray said.

FO. A. R. Gossel, 24, of Granum, Alta., and Lac. F. M. DeBale, 20, of Halifax, were slightly burned by the flash fires following the explosions. All the crew but these two jumped into the water.

Salvage Equipment

When the plane remained afloat, the men returned and spent the night on the fuselage. The next day, the fire in the aircraft died, they freed a rubber dinghy and rowed ashore. They returned to the craft a couple of days later and removed more equipment and food by chopping holes in the top and fishing through the fuselage with grappling hooks.

On shore they lived in a tent made from the rubber dinghy and a tarp. Each day, Murray and Cpl. D. H. Wentzell, 21, of Bridgeport, N. S., went about 10 miles southeast, over a small hill and lit a signal fire to supplement the one at the camp.

Murray was in charge of the food and each morning gave the men a mixture of oatmeal and cocoa. In the afternoon he made a stew of meat bars and biscuits in a pressure cooker.

Discusses Health Insurance At Rotary Luncheon

"We keep always in mind the injunction of our Code of Ethics, 'The greatest well-being of the sick person should be the whole study and care of the honourable physician,'" said Dr. A. D. Kelly of Toronto in addressing the Rotary Club at yesterday's luncheon held in the Charlottetown Hotel. Dr. Kelly, who is deputy general secretary of the Canadian Medical Society and scheduled to address the P.E. Island Medical Society in session here this week, was speaking on "Medical care security for Canadians."

Dr. Kelly referred to matters touched on in the recent Federal campaign which are designed to make our lives richer and fuller, "basic policies which sincere men of good-will of every political party have advanced as good for the country." He spoke of the remarkable unanimity in endorsing health insurance as a legitimate goal for the Dominion and the Provinces. "By this," Dr. Kelly continued, "they obviously mean compulsory health insurance. It is unmistakable that a system of financing personal medical and hospital services from taxation is in the minds of those who legislate for us Canadians."

"We can look forward," said the speaker, "to a continuation of the Government's policy of introducing health services gradually by extending the range of national health grants."

"The precipitate introduction of a service providing personal medical services is a hazardous undertaking and personnel and facilities must be available before a service can be delivered. Federal financial aid would be forthcoming when half the provinces indicated they were ready to proceed," was the inference drawn from a recent statement of the Prime Minister of Canada.

Quoting Oldtime Contract.

"We should recognize that most of our people are so dependent on the regular receipts of next week's pay envelope that they are very much interested in protecting themselves against the foreseeable hazards of life, which is not a new departure in Canadian history," continued the speaker. He then quoted from a contract contained in the archives of Montreal dated 1555 "Between Etienne Bouchard, Master Surgeon and Urban Tessier, and 36 others. Under it's terms the said Bouchard undertakes and obliges himself to dress and to physic, of all sorts of illness, except the plague of smallpox, leprosy, epilepsy and erysipelas, a complete recovery or a complete cure may be possible, in consideration of 100 sous each year, payable by each of the above named persons."

The present form of health insurance indicates 1,034,000 Canadians covered by the plans. This does not include the subscribers to plans of medical care under the Quebec Oldtime Contract.

The large number covered by commercial insurance contracts, co-operative plans and those covered by industrial medical contracts. It is estimated that at present over five million Canadians are covered in whole or in part with contracts for medical or hospital care.

On concluding his address Dr. Kelly, who had been introduced by chairman Walter Hyndman, was thanked by the co-chairman, Norman W. Lowther.

Mr. Allan Holman of the Summerside club was a visiting Rotarian and Rev. Athol Roberts, M.D., a guest.

Secretary's Report

Following is a brief report of the Provincial Council of the C.W.L.

Annual Convention Of Catholic Women's League

The 31st annual Provincial Convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada opened at North Rustico last evening with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at Stella Maris Church, celebrated by Rev. Eric Robin, pastor. This was followed by a dinner meeting at 6:30 in Stella Maris Hall, presided over by the hostess president, Mrs. M. J. Doyle, North Rustico. In the unavoidable absence of His Excellency, Bishop Boyle, grace was offered by the Provincial Director, Rev. George MacCormack. The delegates and visitors were cordially welcomed by the chairman, Mrs. Doyle, and greetings were also extended by Rev. Eric Robin, parish priest, as also fraternal greetings from the Knights of Columbus by Grand Knight Walter Morrissey.

A short address was then given by the Provincial President, Mrs. L. L. Noonan, who on behalf of the Provincial Council expressed great pleasure at the privilege of holding the convention in the historic parish of North Rustico. She also paid tribute to the beloved Queen Elizabeth II, whose coronation was celebrated since the last annual convention, and expressed pleasure at the response of the League members in this Province, who together with Sister members from all across Canada joined in prayer imploring Almighty God to grant her a long and happy reign to grant peace and prosperity to Canada, the Commonwealth and the world.

She also paid fitting tribute to the former beloved Director, the late Father McQuaid, and expressed the pleasure of herself and a members of the appointment by His Excellency the Bishop of Rev. George MacCormack to succeed him. "World conditions present a challenge to our faith and morals," she said, "and we must fortify our spiritual front if we are to meet this challenge successfully and as Catholics whom we can do much to restore Christ in the family, in the hearts and minds of men by word and example."

A message of pleasure and good will was then extended by the Provincial Director, Rev. George MacCormack, who congratulated the League and encouraged them to keep up the good work and expand, if possible, in the unavoidable absence of the Recording Secretary, Miss Iphigene Arsenault, her report was read by the Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. James Pendergast, a synopsis of which appears elsewhere in this paper.

Rev. Clarence Petrie, pastor of South Rustico parish then introduced the guest speaker, Judge J. S. DeRoche, who delivered an inspiring address on matters important to the League and to the public in general.

A word of thanks on behalf of the Provincial Council was then given by Mrs. Fred Steele, Provincial Treasurer. She sincerely thanked the pastor and ladies of North Rustico, the guest speaker, the Provincial Director and all who in any way helped to make the meeting both profitable and pleasant.

The meeting closed with "The Queen" to convene for the business sessions on Tuesday morning.

divisions were organized during the year bringing our total number to 37 and our membership to over 2000. In addition our honorary membership consists of 225 Sisters of the Congregation of Notre Dame and St. Martha.

Education—Study Clubs—The Catholic girls scholarship stands out as our principal educational project, $85.00 was donated to this fund by 22 sub-divisions, during the past year, while each year sees several young ladies receive degrees who have been given scholarships. Almost all sub-divisions donated prizes to schools and colleges. A silver trophy was donated to the D-ama Festival Association Musical Festival Association. The delegates and visitors were cordially welcomed by the chairman, Mrs. Doyle, and greetings were also extended by Rev. Eric Robin, parish priest, as also fraternal greetings from the Knights of Columbus by Grand Knight Walter Morrissey.

Legislation and Citizenship

Our members take an active part in every worth while community project and contributions and active assistance is given to every deserving cause. Our obligation as citizens was marked by attendance at special services on coronator day and a share in the spiritual banquet which was sent to her Majesty Queen Elizabeth on that occasion.

"Lay Retreats and Spiritual activities—The Retreat movement is growing in popularity. A Diocesan Retreat was held at Notre Dame Academy in July, besides several parish Retreats under C. W. L. auspices. Prizes were donated for Christian Doctrine, Vestments, Altar Linens and flowers were donated. Financial assistance is given to Sacred Heart Radio Program, Precious Blood Monastery and St. Martha's Building Fund, also Our Ladies' Missionaries. Masses are offered for living and deceased members, help practically all sub-divisions while keeping altars and churches clean and attractive.

"Social Action, Child Welfare Health and Nutrition—The Social Welfare Bureau receives financial assistance as well as willing workers from our sub-divisions. Several of our women sew and knit and send boxes of clothing while members who are near to the bureau meet there weekly for sewing, knitting, remaking, and any other assistance necessary. Contributions are sent to Red Cross, March of Dimes, Sacred Heart Home Orphanage, T.B. League, Hospitals etc. Besides financial assistance our members assist at Blood Donors Clinics. Red Cross Campaigns sponsoring the distribution of cod liver oil at cost price from the Red Cross, and clothing, groceries, milk and school books were supplied in many cases. All sub-divisions visit the sick and shut-ins and bring them treats.

"Publicity—Canadian League—Reports show that about 100 copies of the Canadian League are coming to this Diocese. According to reports received only about one half of our sub-divisions publish their meetings and activities. This, I think could be improved on. We have always found the press in this Province most co-operative in the matter of publicity especially in respect to our annual convention reports.

WERE enthralled with the modern simplicity of design that is demonstrated so very beautifully in the new "TWINTONE" EASTERNWARE now on display in the China Departments of Holman's in Charlottetown and in Summerside. Personally, I find the dinnerware, whether for tea sets in the interesting odd pieces, quite irresistible. There are several soft color combinations from which to choose—Magnolia white and sepia—mushroom and ice green—mushroom and sepia—mist blue and petal bloom. The prices of "Twintone" are reasonable—for instance a cup and saucer in the lovely classic shape is just 1.25 and the prices are in comparable proportion to that... Please do come and see the "Twintone" in the East-Westward—I'm most enthusiastic about it! You'll find it in the China Departments of Both Holman's Stores.

TO GIVE your tresses that desired professional look of "not a hair out of place" you will want and need the wonderful HELENE CURTIS "SPRAY NET"—a magic mist that sprays on easily and quickly, that is absolutely harmless to the hair and scalp and that gives a perfectly natural looking control for loose ends and whisps. It is available in the Cosmetic Section at Holman's and the price for the spray container it will last for ages (and ages) is only just 1.75. More and more professional hairdressers use Helen Curtis "Spray Net" for their most fastidious customers—now you can use it yourself in your own home. Treat yourself to this wonderful hair controller—you'll be truly delighted with the effect and the appearance of your hair after using it. Helene Curtis "Spray Net" is available in the Cosmetic Section at Holman's.

THE golden days of Autumn are just around the corner BUT right through this lovely season are plenty of rainy days too... That's why you do need an ALL PURPOSE COAT to serve you whether the day be shiny or dull. Maybe you've strained your clothing budget to the point of bursting—if this be the case, you'll be interested in the new ALL PURPOSE COATS that have arrived in the 5 and 10 Department. They're priced 19.95 but they look much, much more! Smartly made in a full lined, raglan style with convertible cuffs and a neat one-button neck closing; you may choose gray, wine, navy or green in such fine fabrics as rayon cord, woven bar checked rayon tweed effect rayon or material with a close nubby dot. Be smart for Fall in one of these reasonably priced but ultra smart All Purpose Coats from the 5 and 10 Department at Holman's.
