Sudden Death Yesterday Of J. R. Williams

John R. Williams, 52, prominent Charlottetown jeweller and one of the province's outstanding sportsmen died suddenly yesterday morning at his home, 1 Young St., Geytstown.

The late Mr. Williams had only ten days ago left the Prince Edward Island Hospital where he had been a patient since early December. Apparently improving in health, he had Tuesday made a visit to his business establishment on Great George Street. However, early yesterday morning he succumbed to another heart seizure.

"Johnny" was widely known, not only in this province but throughout the Maritimes. He had keen interest in sports and was keen with many persons, all of whom will deeply regret his sudden passing.

During the First World War, the late Mr. Williams entered the employ of C. W. Patterson, Jeweller, where he learned his trade. All then joining in business for himself at the present site, 137 1/2 Great George St. In this enterprise he had associated with him his son John Jr.

Nearly every branch of sport John Williams devoted himself with a real energy to the cause of junior hockey and was instrumental, along with Nelson Whitlock and Ev. MacNeill, in forming the famous Junior Royals Club. Another club which was fathered by the late Mr. Williams was the Junior Rangers, which held its practice sessions on the outdoor rink at Government House, provided by the then Governor, Hon. George D. DeBlois.

His interest in athletics never faltered, and right up to the time H. Brown, Interment was in Merston Jenkins, Roy Mitchell, Austin Coady, Elmer Myers, Robert MacKinnon.

In his younger days he performed with the Abegweit baseball team and participated in two Maritime baseball seasons with the Yarmouth and St. Stephen's. He also performed with the City League Royals. When he hung up his spikes, he devoted a great deal of his time to the promotion of junior ball.

In the harness racing game, his role as spectator turned to an active participant with his purchase in conjunction with Sam Kennedy - of the pacer "Fairgo" last spring.

He is survived by his wife, the former Ruth Cairns, one son, John, his only child, Mrs. Mary Williams, one brother Ernie, a sister Mrs. Clifford Downe (Mae) and three half sisters, Mrs. Roy Taylor (Hazel), Mrs. James Arling (Phoebe) and Mrs. William Johnston (Carrie).

Notre Dame Welcomes Bishop MacEachern

On Wednesday morning sisters and students of Notre Dame Academy welcomed the Most Reverend Malcolm MacEachern, at a reception held for him in the assembly hall. Prior to the reception, His Excellency celebrated mass in the Academy chapel with the high school students in attendance. He was assisted by Rev. F. F. MacDonald, chancellor.

The reception program began with a two piano duet played by the Misses Mary Claire Smith, Shelaugh Malloy, Genevieve McGuigan, and Paula Morris. An address, delivered on behalf of the students, was given by Miss Rosemary, who was the sincere expression of their sentiments of joy, gratitude and respect. The senior choir then sang the very excellent and appropriate motet "Ecce Sacerdos Magnus arranged by Sadler."

Following the address of welcome by a group of grade one pupils, little Misses Shirley Simpson and Patricia Dillon presented His Excellency with a basket of beautiful red roses and Miss Maureen Hughes, also of grade one, presented him with a bouquet. All then joining in singing a enthusiastic and sincere "God Bless You."

In responding to the greetings which were presented, His Excellency spoke of his happiness in being present at the Academy and of celebrating mass for the spiritual and temporal welfare of all the student body. He urged the students to make the best use of their years at school, because education is not merely a preparation for future years, but it is also life in the very present of the word - the development of body, mind, and soul. The program came to a fitting close by the singing of the "Oremus Pro Pontifice." The already memorial service became even more memorable as the students sang the "Oremus" and of celebrating mass for the spiritual and temporal welfare of all the student body.

On the subject of the teaching of Canadian history the Queens member felt it was unfortunate that Canadian school children get have been provided as requested. From the public standpoint, the dairy booth at the Maritime Winter Fair sponsored by the Maritime Federation of Agriculture, financed by the various dairy associations and staffed with persons from the three Maritime Departments of Agriculture ranks as an outstanding effort. This booth was visited by large crowds of people and brought forth very favourable comment. It is the intention of the Federation to continue this program for the coming year.

The trend in this Province is towards larger plants for the manufacture of butter and cheese. Last year these six plants manufactured in the vicinity of over one half million pounds of butter. Three new plants for the pasteurization of milk have recently gone into operation at Alberton, Kensington and Souris.

"Uppermost in the minds of progressive dairy farmers at the present time is the necessity of efficient economical production, which requires efficiency not only on the part of the dairy cow but also high production per acre of low cost feed. High production per cow is not the answer if she produces one half cent of cost per pound, rather the emphasis must be upon the efficient conversion of home grown roughages into milk. The dairymen who are successful in combining these factors will be the ones to continue in the business."

CAREFUL DRIVING The suggestion was made by the President Mr. Hubley and accepted by the meeting that an effort be made to encourage motor vehicle drivers drive more carefully and display more courtesy in order to make to Province more accident-free.

Resolved that the Provincial Government be requested to advise the persons in the Department of Agriculture by making special fieldmen available to carry on the inspection of milk and cream at both the farm and factory.

Resolved that the meeting be asked to authorize a lowering for the month of June of one cent in the price of butter to provide for the June Set-Aside.

Scores Lack Of Balance In History Textbooks In Use

OTTAWA (Special) - J. Angus MacLean, Conservative MP for Queens, struck out on the floor of the Commons against some history textbooks which convey the impression "that Canadian history is entirely embraced in a recording of the events which took place in the St. Lawrence Valley and in what now are the provinces of Ontario and Quebec."

He was speaking in support of a government resolution on the Historic Sites and Monuments Act. Parliament noted, Mr. MacLean said, that in marking places of importance in the early history of the country, the whole history of Canada should be borne in mind. Provinces of the East Coast, he reminded the chamber, are steeped in history and played a great part in the beginning of both the fisheries and the fur trade.

The Queens member noted that the Historic Sites and Monuments Board was a heavily loaded in favor of historians from Ontario and Quebec. When Northern Affairs Minister Lesage recalled that this was in accordance with a Commission, Mr. MacLean said he quite realized that but felt it would be more advantageous to have two historians named from any part of Canada rather than from the Central Provinces only.

Mr. MacLean further urged the establishment of historic parks in Provinces which have not this type of park. He pointed out that the regular national park, the Provinces without such landmarks are Prince Edward Island, British Columbia, Alberta and Newfoundland.

He felt that the Government should erect more artistic and attractive memorials to events in the country's history than simple cairns or pyramids of stones with a bronze figure attached.

Churchill Wins This was the prime minister's first admission of the seriousness of the illness which kept him confined to his home through the summer of 1953. At that time it was officially described as "severe fatigue" though reliable reports said he had suffered a stroke.

Churchill said he had hoped for a meeting with Malenkov after visiting Eisenhower in Washington last July. At that time, he said, the president rejected the idea of a meeting with the Soviet premier.

Diplomatic quarters here assumed Eisenhower would have been agreeable, however, to a three - power talk if Churchill's planned meeting with Malenkov had achieved results.

Churchill broke into the debate after left-wing Labour member Aneurin Bevan challenged him to say why he had not insisted on meeting Malenkov. Bevan suggested Churchill had dropped the plan at the dictation of the United States.

This brought Churchill to his feet.

Business Men To Visit Tokyo

TORONTO (CP) - More than 50 Canadian representatives of Canadian business will go to Tokyo in May to attend the biennial congress of the International Chamber of Commerce.

R. C. Berkshaw of Toronto, president of the Canadian council of the organization, said Wednesday the size of the delegation, the biggest which has attended any of the overseas congresses since the chamber was formed in 1919, indicates Canadian interest in the chamber's world-wide interests.

He spoke at the Canadian council's annual meeting at which he was re-elected president and, as such, leader of the Tokyo delegation.

In his review of activities of the chamber, an international organization of business men with headquarters in Paris, Mr. Berkshaw said freeing of currencies and establishment of open foreign exchange markets, which would constitute a major impetus to international trade, is one of ICC's most cherished aims.
