Mr. Jacob Wilcox of St. Thomas, Ontario, is one of the best known men in that vicinity. He is now, he says, an old man, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has made him feel young again.

"About a year ago I had a very severe attack of the grip, which resulted in my not having a well day for several months afterwards. I was completely run down and my system was in a Terrible Condition.

I lost flesh and became depressed in spirits. Finally a friend who had been benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla advised me to try it and I did so. I continued taking it until I used twelve bottles and today I can honestly say Hood's Sarsaparilla has restored me to my former health." JACOB WILCOX, St. Thomas, Ontario.

THE MARKETS.

THE tendency of cheese is still upward. We quote the Montreal Gazette, Oct. 22, as saying that:

"The deal in fall cheese goes merrily along and there was active buying on spot to-day from first hands in line with the higher priced contracts recently made in the country. In fact, the market to-day advanced fully another ½c. per lb., and looks as though it was still going higher. The English market is slow in following the rise on this side and for every rise in cable quotations recent values on this side have gone up, so that they have been steadily above the offers made by British buyers. The situation has, therefore, resolved itself into a question between the people who are speculating in fall cheese in Canada and the British consumer. The Canadian factorymen having contracted the great bulk of their make, with the exception of those west of Toronto, are practically out of it. At the wharf this morning 4,000 to 5,000 cheese sold at 9c. to 9¼c. This buying means an advance all round in our quotations.

Messrs. Hodgson, Liverpool circular of the 12th inst. reads: 'Butter is in steady demand, the stock of all kinds being light; we quote finest American and Canadian creamery, 85s to 90s per cwt.'" A Bristol letter of the same date says: "The market wears an entirely altered aspect to that borne of late, and prices have advanced some shillings on the week, both for shipment and on the spot. Firm offers from Canada are difficult to obtain, and up to 100s has been paid, c. f. i. terms. On spot Canadian creamery is offered at 98s to 104s.

The Toronto Globe reports that the wool crop is pretty nearly cleaned out of the country now, and local dealers are offering 25 cents for fleece. A year ago they were paying 17 cents. Pulled wools are quiet. The offerings are small. A lot of 30,000 lbs. of choice sold this market at an outside point at 26 cents; ordinary lots are quoted at 25 cents. The American Wool and Cotton Reporter says of the wool trade: The market has strenethened the past week, without, on the whole, showing signs of much increase in activity. New York principal business has been in foreign wool, while in Boston there has been a falling off in sales of this class of stock as compared with the previous week. The feature of the market which commands most attention is, of course, to be found in the fact that the American market is considerably below the European.

There is also a stronger feeling in the egg market. The Boston quotations are: Western, 19 to 20c; Michigan, 20 to 21c; limed, 16c; icehouse 13 to 17c; eastern 22 to 23c; fancy and nearby 25 to 30c. In Charlottetown there is a good demand for eggs at 13 cents per dozen, but not many are moving.

We regret to state that the prospects for oats are bad. Dealers here are now giving 28 cents per bushel, and fear that even that price will not be maintained. In Toronto oats are reported easy at 22 cents for white, and 21½ for mixed. The Globe, Oct. 22, reports that "ten cars sold to day at the Michigan Central and Erie & Huron at 21c. for mixed and 22c. for white, and 1c. more is quoted on the G. T. R. west."

Good pork is sold in this city at 5 cents per pound, while not more than 4½ cents can be obtained for inferior lots. The Toronto Globe reports the receipts on the street market to-day were firm, and prices were steady, with sales at $5.25 to $5.30. Cars of choice weights delivered here are quoted at $5.20 to $5.25." Montreal quotations are as follows:

Canadian short cut, clear.$14.50 to $15.00
Canadian, short cut, mess 16.00 to $16.50
Hams, city cured, per lb. 0 9 to 0.11
Lard, Canadian, in pails. 0 9½ to 0.10

As to trade in the United States Mr. Henry Clews, of Broad street, New York, writes:—The most stubborn factor in the foreign trade situation is the largeness of the imports. For the month of September the arrivals of foreign merchandise show an increase over 1894 of $14,600,000, or 29 per cent; and for the first nine months of the current calendar year the increase has been $97,480,000, or nearly 20 per cent. On the other hand, the exports of merchandise are almost identical (both for September and the nine months) with those of the same time of last year. Thus, the course of our foreign trade since January 1st, 1895, has been $97,500,000 less favourable than it was for the same period of 1894. In these nine months of 1894, the exports exceeded the imports by $73,000,000; this year the imports exceed the exports by $43,000,000. Contemporaneously in 1894, the net exports of gold amounted to $73,000,000, while this year they have been $43,000,000. The circumstance that the net export of gold has been so much less this year than last, notwithstanding the large relative increase of merchandize imports in 1895, is to be explained chiefly from the fact that since February last we have been able to make a net export of securities to the amount of over $100,000,000.

SHIPMENTS FROM SUMMERSIDE. — On Saturday last Mr. D. B. Macdonald, St. John, shipped by the Northumberland to Mr. A. G. Wallace, Dalhousie, N. B., a fine draft horse, which he purchased from Messrs. Matthew & McLean, Souris. About a dozen horses were shipped on the Northumberland on Tuesday morning by different parties, Mr. E. Gorrell, Northam, shipping four of the lot. Mr. C. A. Macnutt, Kensington, forwarded a consignment of fat sheep by the same boat to Messrs. J. A. Leaman & Co., Halifax.—Journal.

SOCIAL AT KINGSTON.

The social in connection with the Baptist Church at Kingston on the night of the 16th inst., was a grand success. The amount realized was $62, and had the night been more favorable, the receipts would have exceeded this. The entertainment was opened by a few remarks from the chairman, the Rev. Mr. Higgins, followed by a chorus by the choir, entitled, "Victory through Grace." Miss Blanche Fraser presided at the organ. A recitation was given by Miss Avalena Newson, title, "To my Brother." A duet by the Misses Fraser was rendered in good style. Then for the space of fifteen or twenty minutes the audience was held in a state of rapt attention by a recitation given by Mrs. N. Higgins (Rev) entitled, "The Death Bridge of the Tay."

A noticeable feature of the entertainment was a dialogue by Miss Mable Cruwys and Spurgeon Ward, which added much to the evening's enjoyment.

Miss Heeley then favored the audience with a violin solo which would do credit to a professional. The choir, with Miss Mabel Cruwys at the organ, again sang, "Faith is the Victory."

Mrs. Higgins brought down the house with a second recitation, the title of which was the "Defence of the Bride." Mrs. Higgins' ability as a reciter is unquestionable.

The entertainment closed with singing by the choir, "The Light Burns to Dawn."

The choir was conducted under the efficient leadership of Mr. Reuben Barrett, of whom we wish to make special mention for his assistance; and also we feel indebted to Miss Mabel Cruwys for her aid, and judging from the way she always plays her part we feel sure that in the near future she will make herself conspicuous as an organist.

The baskets were auctioned off by Messrs. F. H. Horne and J. McWilliams, with their usual ability.

A Halifax Book-keeper Runs Away.

HALIFAX, Oct. 23.—A firm by the name of Hutchinson and Seaton, who have been doing a commission business here in a way that attracted attention of others in like business on account of the high prices paid for goods, and who furnished certain inducements to customers, reported to the police that a book-keeper named Johnson was missing, taking the day's collection with him, $1,800 in all. The detectives set about the city on the trail and to-night on an I. C. R. train between Wellington Station and Truro, Detective Power succeeded in arresting the culprit with $1000 on him. He was taken to Halifax.

Kidney Facts.

In Jan. 1892 my son was taken with Kidney disease. Though attended by three physicians, and change of climate he grew worse and by '93 had fallen from 195 lbs. to 95 lbs. In 10 days from starting to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills we were able to move him home. In 4 months he gained 50lbs. and was fully restored to health by the use of this medicine Jno. S. Hastings, 23 St Paul St., Montreal.

A Most Important Step.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—A step of far-reaching importance to the five central American republics has been taken by Guatamala. This is in brief the negotiation of a series of treaties between Guatamala and the other republics looking to closer commercial and friendly relations. Aside from the material results which will follow their adoption, the fact is significant in that it paves the way for a unification of Central America which has long been the dream of her most eminent statesmen.

WORD FROM KOOTENAY.

Good Mining Prospects for the Year and Increased Facilities to Miners.

NELSON (Special) Oct. 21—The mining prospects for next year in this locality are excellent, and a large influx of prospectors is expected. Miners and others coming in have been in the habit of bringing with them large quantities of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which they all swear by and whose virtues they have extolled to such an extent, that the druggists throughout the section have become alive to the necessity of laying in large supplies to meet the greatly increasing demand. The remedy is generally regarded as an indispensable part of a miner's outfit both for it's portability and a value in preserving health which cannot be overestimated.

Japan to Evacuate Corea.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—It is learned from a good source that Japan has decided to evacuate Corea in order to avoid complications and in order to enable the government to concentrate its energies upon the subjugation of Formosa.

That Pale Face.

For Nervous Prostration and Anæmia there is no medicine that will so promptly and infallibly restore vigor and strength as Scott's Emulsion.

The New York Herald's cable from Buenos Ayres says Rio Janeiro advices state that a prominent member of the House of Deputies recently talked with the Brazilian minister of Foreign Affairs, and now reports that the Government of Brazil is ready to recognize the belligerency of the Cuban insurgents as soon as application is made by the authorized agents of the revolutionary party. A meeting has been called in Buenos Ayres in sympathy with the insurgent party in Cuba, and it is proposed to ask the Government of Argentina to at once reorganize the insurrectionists.

MARK IT WELL.

A Development Peculiar to the Present Generation Dangerous and Often Fatal.

As each generation comes and goes it is marked by changes, developments and discoveries unknown to its predecessors. From a physical standpoint one of the most to be dreaded conditions and peculiar for its rapid increase during the present generation, is when the mind labors under the delusion of persecution, continual restlessness, pain in the back and head, twitching of the muscles of the face and hands, furred tongue, breath foul and heavy, nausea and further indications of stomach trouble. There may be delirium, convulsions or sinking spells. Medical authorities apply different names to the conditions that are unintelligible to the average reader. The actual fact is the demoralized and dangerous state of the system is due to the accumulation of "Body Poison" in the blood that should and would be thrown off by the Kidneys if in a healthy condition. In order to restore health, strike at the root of the disease with Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the only medicine known that will control the changes going on in the Kidneys, enabling them to furnish for the whole system blood free from disease-breeding poison, building up the shattered condition of nerves, and relieving mental depression Price 25c., sold by all dealers. LIEUT. PEARY'S RETURN.

His Second Expedition to Frozen Greenland Practically a Failure.

About all there is to rejoice over in Lieut. Robert E. Peary's second expedition to Greenland is the fact that Peary, Lee and Henson have come home from the frozen North in safety. They succeeded in getting no nearer to the pole than Peary did in 1892, and accounts of their arrival at St. John's, N. F., showed that they suffered bitter privation.

Lieut. Peary, Lee and Henson were the three members of the Peary expedition of 1894 who volunteered to spend the winter at Anniversary Lodge for a summer dash to the northward. The remainder of the party, it will be remembered, left Falcon Harbor for home on August 26, 1894. On April 1st of this year the trio started north with five sledges and 49 dogs. After failing to find a cache of provisions left in 1894, Lieut. Peary decided to continue on toward Independence Bay, which he had reached in 1892, hoping there to augment his limited stock of provisions by shooting game. He expected to reach the bay and do some coast exploration, which two hopes were realized, although at the cost of dreadful hardships. Lee gave out, and had to be hauled for several days till the bay was reached, where they contrived to shoot several musk oxen. Owing to the smallness of the party and the scarcity of food Peary could not make his way northward. He did some coast exploration himself, while Lee recuperated, after which they began their return journey to camp. The dogs became emaciated from want of food, and then developed contagious sickness. Peary had to kill the weaker ones to supply the stronger ones with food. Ultimately the stock of dogs became so reduced that only one remained when headquarters were reached on the return journey. During the return Lee again collapsed, and had to take to the sledge, which Peary and Henson, with the remaining dogs, drew over the frozen snow until he recovered. For over two weeks all three lived on one meal a day. They ate their last ounce of food 20 miles from camp, and passed 26 hours without food before they succeeded in reaching home. They got back July 25th, just a week before they heard news of the relief expedition.

Thus ends one more gallant, but unsuccessful effort to reach the pole. It ends happier than most, in that all the members of the expedition have reached civilization again.

THE KAISER'S BOYS.

Daily Routine in the Family of the German Emperor—What the Princes Eat and Drink.

The princes rise at 7 o'clock and at 8 appear with their attendants in the swimming bath of the Hotel Konstanz, where they don short linen trousers and jump in with the rest of the guests. At 9 follows a rowing excursion on the lake; the princes do the rowing while their governor looks after the steering. After lunch all rest for an hour and then proceed on a long walk. In the evening the princes attend the open air concert in their boat on the lake. They would like to mix with the crowd, but fear to attract undue attention. The princes occupy at the hotel four bedrooms, a parlor and dining room combined. They sleep in the same room in two brass beds; each of their attendants has a room for himself. From the balcony of the dining room an enchanting view can be had of the lake and mountains. The apartment has a separate corridor and the balcony is protected against observation by awnings.

The boys plan their own menu, which generally contains only bourgeois dishes such as rare roast beef and Yorkshire pudding, veal cutlets and lamb chops with beans or peas, rice pudding and potato pancake. Here follows a menu written by Ettel Fritz for Saturday evening:

Pelkartoffeln mit butter,
Schweinscoteletten,

Markgraefler.

In the Queen's English: Potatoes boiled in the jackets with butter, pork chops and stewed apples. Wine, Markgraefler.

The hotelkeeper told me that the boys never were content unless they had stewed potatoes for dinner. For breakfast, coffee, cold meat and eggs were served; for luncheon, cold meat, bread, potato salad, fruits and a light white wine and seltzer water. At 4 o'clock the boys had coffee and cake.—Berlin Correspondent Boston Transcript.

How They Do It in Japan.

At the appointed day and hour all the guests gather at your house and wait in the waiting room until all have come. You, having already made the necessary preparations in the tea room for receiving your guests, will welcome them in the most polite and accomplished manner. All the guests salute you and then enter the tea room through the narrow entrance. Before entering they wash their hands and mouths. As they enter, before arranging their seats on the mats, they must observe with critical admiration the wall picture, flower arrangement, base, furnace and all the utensils that reveal the superb taste and artistic mind of the host or hostess.

When the guests have seated themselves you appear, to make another salutation and to examine the charcoal in the furnace to see whether it is well arranged. Finding it all right, you will again retire from the room and go to the kitchen, first bowing low and telling them that the dinner will soon be served. A few minutes later you will bring a small low table called the dai, for each guest. Upon these several dishes are placed, always accompanied with two chopsticks made of cypress wood. Asking them to commence to eat, you will again go out. Upon your retirement the invited guests salute each other, take the chopsticks and begin to eat. At this moment you again appear to the party, saluting and requesting them to eat and drink freely and to make themselves perfectly at home. Again you disappear. Leaving them alone for some time, you will once more return and give yourself up to the entertainment of your guests.—Lippincott's Magazine.

EDMANSON, BATES & Co.

Gentlemen,—About three or four weeks ago I had an attack of Itching Piles. I tried two or three different remedies recommended by druggists as the "best and only cure," etc., but got no relief. About the time I was beginning to despair of finding any relief, with some slight misgivings I bought a box of your pile cure, which I am pleased to say gave me almost instant relief and permanent cure. I consider your Dr. Chase's Ointment a God-send. ALF. J. DEAN.
