Selected Poetry.

TRUTH.

No secret sin shall ever skulk
Behind my sheltering screen,
But in the blaze of noontide sun
Each word and act be seen.

No tricks of speech my tongue shall know,
Nor flattery's honeyed ways;
But to each rival claim award
Its honest blame or praise.

Though men should frown on every side,
And brows be black with hate;
Though thong and scourge and dungeon cell
Upon my speech await,—

They shall not seal my fearless lips,
Nor stay my warning hand:
On God's own rock, Eternal Right,
My feet firm-planted stand.

Household Hints.

Nice Tea Cake.—When company comes, and I have no cake, this is how I make one. Take a cupful of sugar, a cupful of sour cream, an egg, a teaspoonful of soda, and flavor with lemon or nutmeg. I prefer nutmeg. It is nice, and easily made.

Mrs. Hodgman's Mock Apple Pie.—One and a half pounded crackers, a cupful and a third of boiling water, a cupful of sugar, the grated rind and juice of one lemon, a teaspoonful of butter and a pinch of salt; bake between crusts, as an apple pie.

To Preserve Hams in Summer.—Slice all from the bone ready to fry; then have ready a stone jar or pail, as you may have, to keep it in. Thoroughly fry it, and pack it, covering it with lard. In this way it is always ready for table just by warming, and will keep sweet the year round.

Vanilla Cookies.—A cupful of butter, a cupful of sugar, one egg, a small teaspoonful of cream tarter, half a teaspoonful of soda, half a cupful of milk (scant measure), flour till stiff enough to roll without trouble; flavor with vanilla. Roll thin, sprinkle sugar over, and roll again, cut out, and bake in a quick oven.

Tea Rolls.—A pint of warm milk, a tablespoonful of butter rubbed into the flour, a tablespoonful of sugar, an egg, two-thirds of a cupful of yeast, salt, flour to knead, not hard; when risen knead again, and let rise again, then roll and cut out. If made the first thing in the morning they will rise in season to bake for tea.

Graham Gems.—Two cupfuls milk, one and a half cupfuls of Graham, half a cupful of fine flour, an egg, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, and a little salt; melt a small piece of butter and pour in; half a teaspoonful of cream tartar, fourth of a teaspoonful soda; have the pans smoking hot, drop a piece of butter into each one, put in the mixture, and bake in a hot oven until done. Makes one dozen.

Tapioca Pudding.—Four tablespoonfuls of tapioca; cover with water, and soak three or four hours; pour off the water, put in one quart of milk, place it in a pail, and put it in a kettle of boiling water; when the milk boils stir in the yolks of three eggs and a little salt; stir till it begins to thicken. Make a frosting of the three eggs and spread over the top. Flavor with lemon or vanilla, as you please.

Facts and Scraps.

Black friars—colored cooks.

Ladies should remember that it is the last ostrich feather that breaks the husbands back.

Boys who are philosophers at six years of age are generally blockheads at twenty-one.

All a chap has to do in these days to pass for a genius is to button his coat behind and put his hat on wrong side out.

"What's a fellow to do, doctor, when he's in company and has nothing to say?" "He should say it quietly," replied the doctor.

A consul being questioned by a judge to know "for whom he was concerned," replied: "I am concerned, my lord, for the plaintiff, but I am employed by the defendant."

A Danbury man describes a church festival for raising money as an operation wherein one-half the church buys berries at fifteen cents a quart, and sells them to the other half for a dollar.

"Madame," said a trance-medium, "your husband's spirit wishes to communicate with you." "No matter," said the widow "if he's got no more spirit in the other world than he had in this, it's not worth bothering about."

At a Sunday school a teacher asked a little boy if he knew what the expression "sowing tares" meant. "Courth I do," said he pulling a pair of his trousers round in front, "there's a tear my ma sewed; I teared it when I was sliding down hill."

Irascible Old Party:—Conductor, why didn't you wake up as I asked you? Here I am, miles beyond my station." Conductor—"I did try, but all I could get out of you was 'All right, Maria: get the children their breakfast, and I'll be down in a minute."

The parishoners of a clergyman in Scotland, in expressing to him their aversion to the use of manuscript sermons, asked: "What gars ye take up your bit of papers to the pulpit?" He replied that it was best, for really he could not remember a sermon, and must have his paper. "Weel, weel, minister," they retaliated, "If ye canna remember the sermon then dinna expect that we can."

A German enlisted in the army was in the course of a few days put on picket duty. His instructions were, when any one approached to say: "Who comes there?" three times, and then shoot. Before long he perceived a man approaching; he waited quietly till the man got near, and then he suddenly brought his musket to his shoulder and shouted: "Who comes here, dree times?' Bang!

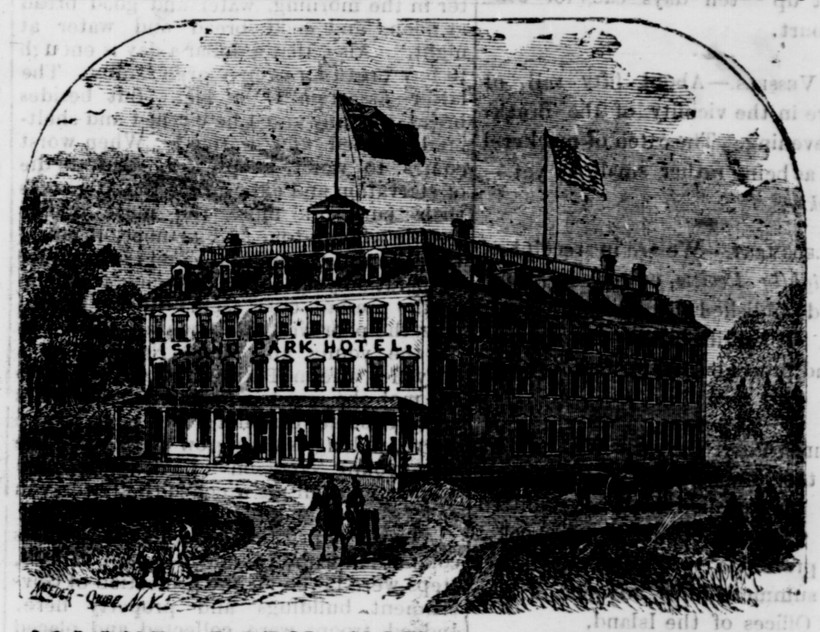
P. E. ISLAND SUMMER RESORT.



ISLAND PARK HOTEL, SUMMERSIDE.

Terms Weekly: June, $9; July, $10.50; Aug., $12; Sept., $9

THIS NEW HOTEL, accommodating about one hundred and fifty guests, is now open. It contains, in addition to the sleeping apartments, a number of Public and Private Parlor, Billiard, Reading, Smoking, Barber's and Bar-rooms. Picturesquely situated on an Island, one hundred and forty acres in extent, in the Bedeque Bay, directly opposite the rising town of Summerside, it combines the retirement ensured by the insular position of its surroundidgs with equal convenience to a position in the town. Beautiful views of the harbour are obtainable from the windows and roof of the Hotel, and from the carriage drive around the Island. The grounds are being tastefully laid out with walks and drives, the greater part being left finely wooded. Sea bathing can be enjoyed with suitable privacy on various parts of the beach near the Hotel, dressing rooms have been constructed for the purpose. A Ferry Steamer belonging to the Hotel, will ply frequently to and from Summerside, and will regularly meet all Steamers from Shediac and Charlottetown; and can be made available for picnics, fishing and shooting parties and pleasure excursions on the Bay. Horses, carriages, rowing and sail boats, always on hire. Families and parties can have contiguous suites of rooms, if required, by seeding reasonable notice beforehand.

TERMS:—From $2 to $2.50 per day, according to room. Special arrangements can be made for summer residence.
