

After Ego, the CIMN program guide, is out. Pick up your very own copy of the Fall/Winter '92 issue around Charlottetown, the Pit, the Barn, or at CIMN itself. There's a heavy metal supplement, all sorts of reviews and articles, and, of course, your guide to what's on, when, on CIMN.

Coming soon to CIMN, radio drama returns to the Island. A large group of enthusiastic and amazingly talented dramatic types will be reaching out over the airwaves in the coming weeks. Stay tuned to this space to find out exactly when.

Here's what's new to CIMN this week.

Below is the CIMN Chart for the week of November 12, featuring more great bands than you can shake a stick at. Thanks to Music Director Joel Sutherland for compiling it.

Speaking of great bands, a reminder to get your tickets now for the "Four Bands for Four Bucks" event, coming up on Friday, November 20. Sons of the Mourning and Skinkeeper (remember them from the New Music Festival in September?) as well as Tormented and Earth A.D. will be there to rock the Barn, starting at 8 pm.

A final reminder that you can find CIMN at 700 am on campus, and 104.5 cable FM off campus. If there's something special you want to hear, phone the request line at 892-CIMN.

Until next time, Get Wired!
