Ontario Has Surplus For Year

TORONTO, March 6 — (CP) — The Ontario Government will wind up its fiscal year March 31 with a $1,276,000 surplus after paying a new $1,500,000 grant to hospitals and putting an extra $14,500,000 into debt retirement funds.

In his 15,000-word budget address to the Ontario Legislature, the Premier predicted a $688,000 surplus in the next year in the face of a general increase in subsidies and grants to municipalities and reductions of roughly 2 1/2 per cent in taxes on amusements and race track betting.

The budget contained no new taxes nor increases in existing rates. Chief tax reductions announced were: a 2 1-2 per cent cut in the amusement tax, now at 15 per cent, and an adjustment of the race track pari-mutuel tax on a sliding scale, which will in effect reduce the tax 2 1-2 per cent on the majority of betting pools, which are under $20,000.

New and increased payments include free text books for children in Grades I to VIII in public and separate schools, indigent grants to hospitals totalling $1,500,000, and payments to hospitals for out-patients, isolation hospitals and infant care.

LONG FLIGHT

ported off the north coast of P. E. I. Seven sealers were in the ice some 15 miles east of Alberton yesterday, with their crews busy on the ice as much as five miles from their ships. Heavy ice prevented the ships getting close to the main herd, which was between the ship and the P. E. I. shore.

TO IMPORT

The service of the sires will be open to all Ayrshire breeders, it was decided. Those supporting the scheme financially would be entitled to breed a certain number of cows at a certain rate.

Open To All

The breeders pointed out that the majority of the families developed here in the past 15 or 20 years were very close to Scotch blood. The only sire to be brought here directly from Scotland, that can be recalled, was Douglas Hall Red-land.

The following committee was appointed to draw up plans for the proposed purchases: Messrs. Major and MacRae, Charlottetown; Royalty, chairman; R. C. Parent, Superintendent of the Experimental Station; J. H. MacPhail, Clyde River; and Gavan Reid, Montague.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. R. C. Parent. Others present included: Messrs. Death Of Former Customs Officer In His 96th Year

Mr. Robert MacDonald, South Melville, and one of the Island's most highly respected citizens, passed away on March 3rd at the home of Mrs. Joseph Dunsford and we wish to join with his host of friends in paying tribute to his memory.

A descendant of two of this district's earliest pioneer families, the late Robert MacDonald had lived at Crapaud most of his life, except for a few years in his younger days when he resided in the U.S.A.

For many years he served as Customs Officer at Victoria, but his first job was blacksmithing at Crapaud.

One of ten children of Joseph MacDonald and Phoebe Percival, he was born in 1855. Upon returning to this province from the United States, Mr. MacDonald married Marina Dunsford of South Melville, and to this union was born two sons and one daughter.

After his retirement from the Customs, Mr. MacDonald returned to Crapaud and married Mrs. Annie Percival who predeceased him a number of years ago.

In addition to the numerous duties associated with his office, Mr. MacDonald always found time to take part in community activities. His remains will be in St. John's Cemetery, Crapaud, close to the spot where he spent his childhood days.

front, the North Korean 2nd Corps unleashed a heavy assault today against the South Korean 7th Division. First reports indicated a Red penetration.

Allied officers told AP correspondent Tom Stone this blow, struck eight to 12 miles northeast of the Allied-held highway town of Pangnim, might be the opening of a Red counter-offensive. However, it fell in a mountainous terrain unsuitable for swift movement.

One regiment of the South Korean 7th Division reported it was under attack at 6 a. m. by four Red regiments.

West of the South Koreans, two American divisions—the 7th and 2nd—have been cutting up North Korean units and chasing them deeper into the trackless mountains.

Yanks Advance

The 2nd Division slogged forward Tuesday more than a mile in a blizzard on the trail of casualty-riddled Korean Reds.

Field dispatches said that while the snowstorm grounded Allied planes it helped the American troops to follow the tracks of the elusive Communists. Along the route they the frozen bodies of "hundreds of enemy dead" killed in recent fighting.

Farther east, the U. S. 7th Division was reported by Lt.-Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U. S. Eighth Army commander, to be in possession of the highway communication centre of Changpyong.

A field dispatch, however, said a tank-led force that entered Changpyong Monday withdrew at nightfall. An Eighth Army briefing officer reported a 7th Division armoured patrol drew stiff Communist anti-tank and mortar fire Tuesday one mile south of the town.

In the centre of the United Nations line of attack, Chinese Communists battled stubbornly at two road approaches to Hongcheon—headquarters of the Chinese 68th Army Corps.

Hongcheon, 22 air miles south of the 38th parallel, forms the apex of a defence triangle formed by three vital roads. It is reputed to be the focal point of a 300,000-man Red buildup.

Hampered by mud, slush following a six-inch snowfall, Greek infantry attached to the U. S. 1st Cavalry Division nevertheless captured the left base of the triangle at Yongdu, 15 miles southwest of Hongcheon. They were pounded by heavy Communist fire from the hills to the north.

Along the base of the triangle, troops of the 27th Commonwealth Brigade turned their big guns loose on Communists entrenched in the hills, preparatory to going in after them. This was along the Yongdu-Hongcheon lateral road.

Dental Programme For Children In City and Vicinity

Children of Charlottetown and vicinity will be among those privileged to receive treatment for the prevention of tooth decay.

A limited program for the application of sodium fluoride on the teeth of children of three years of age will be commenced in the very near future under the division of Dental Public Health of the Department of Health and Welfare.

It has been proven that this treatment will reduce the decaying of teeth on an average of forty per cent, and the local department has issued details of the treatment to approximately 350 homes in which there are children of three years of age.

Dr. B. J. O'Meara, Director of Dental Public Health for this Province, hopes that in time the treatment will be available to all children, but due to the limited staff it is being limited to children of the Charlottetown area.

The treatment itself is very simple. The teeth are first thoroughly cleaned and then dried, after which the liquid is dabbed on, and allowed to dry. This is repeated weekly for four weeks, and will last for approximately four years.

Canada's Exports To U. S. Increased During January

OTTAWA, March 6 — (CP) — Canada's exports to the United States climbed 43 per cent in January, pushing sales to $186,948,000 compared with $130,895,000 a year ago, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Domestic exports to all countries in January totalled $285,100,000, a 29-per-cent boost over $221,200,000 in January, 1950. Lumber and paper took the lead with sales of these items climbing to $101,300,000, compared with $70,200,000 last year.

Shipments to the United Kingdom continued along 1950 patterns, dropping to $40,054,000 in January from $48,008,000. Biggest declines were among the farm products groups, with animal products, including pork, dropping to $2,164,000 from $15,724,000 and the agricultural products groups, including wheat, slipping to $15,286,000 from $21,705,000.

Sales to Latin America look a surprising upswing with domestic exports doubling to $14,043,000 from $6,866,000. The trade pendulum continued to swing towards the United States' direction. January's shipments to all nations—even higher than the average 64.9 per cent in 1950.

By far the largest portion of sales to the U. S. was for pulp, newsprint and other wood products. This group obtained about one-half the dollar receipts—$89,553,000 of a total $186,948,000. The U. S. took about $28,000 worth of non-ferrous metals, such as aluminum, nickel and zinc, up from $17,512,000 last year.

Canada sold nothing to Russia in January, compared with $3,000 worth of miscellaneous goods in January, 1950.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. JOHN A. HOWATT On February 13th, the death occurred at Charlottetown Hospital, of John A. Howatt, retired Railroad employee, after a brief illness, at the age of eighty-three years.

The late Mr. Howatt was born in Summerside where at an early age he took employment with the Prince Edward Island Railway in the Freight House. Later he entered the train service, commencing as brakeman and working up as baggage master and conductor on the different branches, until his retirement at the age of sixty, after forty-five years of faithful service.

Mr. Howatt lived most of his life in Charlottetown. He married twice. His first wife was Miss Annie McKinnon of Grand River who predeceased him in 1928. Of this union were born six sons and three daughters. The sons are: Fred in U. S. A.; Arthur and Frank of the C. N. R. City; Lorne in Fredericton, N. B.; Dr. Roland D. City; and Clarence in Ontario. The daughters are: Mrs. Nicholas Power, City; Edna, who died in 1945 and Irene who died in infancy.

This second wife was formerly Mrs. Mary Kelly of Charlottetown who survives and is now living at Vernon River, where she has resided since 1930.

The funeral took place on February 15th from the Frank Hennessy Funeral Home to St. Dunstan's Basilica and was largely attended.

Rev. James Kelly celebrated the Solemn Mass of Requiem and also officiated at the grave. Rev. Urban Gillis, Parish Priest at Vernon River, occupied a chair in the sanctuary. The pallbearers were Messrs. Peter Power, Isaac Clarke, Frank Christopher, T. F. Sigsworth, James Smith and Clarence—Redmond, R. I. P.

Building Huge Radar Network In Great Secrecy

By DOUG HOW OTTAWA, March 6 — (CP) — The drive is on to build a joint Canadian-American radar network but, in Canada at least, it is being shrouded in the greatest possible secrecy.

This policy has important foundations. For one thing, any idea of trying to give complete, over-all radar protection has been written off because of the prohibitive cost.

That means that certain areas must be singled out for priority protection and that there must be gaps elsewhere. It is no secret that first priority in Canada is going to what might roughly be called the Montreal-Toronto-Ottawa area and in the United States the great industrial areas of the east and mid-west, including cities like New York, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago.

Again, a vital reason for Canada's caution is that the geography of North America makes this country a great approach area for raids on the U.S.

The Defence Department puts the case for secrecy this way: Because of the limited range of each radar station, it is just as bad to say what we haven't got as to say what we have got. The Russians are just as interested in where we haven't got stations as where we have them or intend to have them.

Canadian newspapers have already been asked to omit mention of any new radar construction in their areas. Reporters here are being asked to skip mention of stories pinning the scope of the screen down in any detail.

These facts have been made public. The North American screen will be completely integrated, with about one-quarter of the construction in Canada. It's not ready yet and won't be for some time. It will be backed by fighter air forces.

Canada's main defence emphasis is on fighter squadrons, with a three-year target of about 30 regular and part-time squadrons largely concentrated in the east but ready to move anywhere.
