THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JANUARY 31, 1891.

A Ridiculous Statement Confuted.

THE Patriot has been trying to amuse its intelligent readers, and mislead those who are not intelligent, by quoting the remarks of the Ottawa correspondent of the Detroit News. One of these remarks is the following:

"The fact that the Imperial Government wants Canada to accept unrestricted reciprocity with the United States has estopped the tories from raising the loyalty cry against that policy."

Perhaps the best answer that can be given to this ridiculous statement is contained in the following words of Mr. Erastus Wiman, the leader of the unrestricted reciprocity movement. In the course of a speech delivered at Boston a few days ago Mr. Wiman pointed out that Canada "cannot expect money to go back for her agricultural and mineral output, both being admitted without duty into this country, while she continues to exact a duty on the manufactures which she gets back in payment for her products"; and proceeds:

"This being the condition of the trade, it implies that considerably over one half of the total imports into Canada would be admitted free of duty, this being about the proportion now derived from the United States. Under a freedom from tariff exactions on the border this half from the United States would grow enormously.

"Hence a provision for revenue would require that goods brought from abroad would have to continue to be taxed, and taxed in the same proportion as the United States taxes foreign goods, else Canada would be a back door for smugglers.

"Now, this taxation on foreign goods means that the wares produced in Great Britain and imported into Canada would have to bear a heavy weight of taxation, while those admitted from the United States would come in free from that exaction.

"Hence a discrimination would exist in one part of the empire of Great Britain against the goods of another part of that empire, meantime the manufactures of a foreign country would be admitted free.

"Under these circumstances it will be seen that no diplomacy between the United States and Great Britain could for a moment be successful. NO GOVERNMENT IN ENGLAND COULD STAND FOR A DAY THAT WOULD AGREE TO INAUGURATE A TAXATION IN A PART OF THE COLONIAL EMPIRE OF GREAT BRITAIN ON BRITISH GOODS WHILE THEY WERE WILLING TO ADMIT THOSE FROM A HATED COMMERCIAL RIVAL FREE OF DUTY.

"Mr. Blaine, therefore, in any overtures which he may make to the British government, would be met at once by this obstacle, that Lord Salisbury could not maintain his position as Premier of Great Britain if he consented to the free admisaion to 40 per cent of the British empire, of goods from the United States, while those from the balance of the empire were shut out.

"Hence, diplomacy can do nothing toward reciprocity, on the terms that reciprocity with Canada is acceptable to the United States."

To say that the Imperial Government is pressing the Government of Canada to accept the Wiman scheme of unrestricted reciprocity, is to say that which, in view of the circumstances and conditions here stated by Mr. Wiman himself, cannot possibly be true.

If additional evidence of the utter nonsense and falsity of the ideas which the Patriot is propagating were needed, it may be found in the Patriot's telegrams of last evening. We quote:

"Blaine replied—'No negotiations whatever are on foot for a reciprocity treaty with Canada.'"

How Far They Are "Off."

WHEN the late Hon. George Brown went to Washington in 1874, as a special commissioner to negotiate a Reciprocity Treaty with the United States, his Government, led by the Hon. Alexander McKenzie, drew up a statement for his guidance in the negotiations. One of the directions contained in this statement was the following:—

"The Government of Canada do not propose any modification in matters of trade and commerce which would in any way injuriously affect imperial interests"

This question was interpreted by the Hon. George Brown as follows:

"In regard to the addition of certain classes of manufactures to the free list under the old treaty, we reminded you that the revenue of the Canadian Dominion was largely obtained from a 15 per cent. ad valorem duty on manufactured goods, and that any articles made free in Canada under agreement with any foreign country must be made free to Great Britain."

In the following year Hon. George Brown declared, in the Senate, that,—

"It was perfectly understood from the opening of the negotiations that no article could be free from duty in regard to the United States that was not also free with regard to Great Britain, and nothing else was ever contemplated for a moment."

This was the policy of the Liberal Party then. Now, the policy of the Liberal Party is to discriminate against imports from Great Britain and in favor of imports from the United States, to the amount of $22,000,000 a year! Now, the policy of the Liberal Party is to admit everything that may come from the United States free of duty and—really, though not admittedly,—to apply the McKinley tariff to every article imported into Canada from Great Britain, from the sister Colonies, and from all foreign countries.

Yes, they have varied from the course of the Hon. Alexander McKenzie and the late Hon. George Brown? Will the supporters of McKenzie and Brown follow them? We shall see.

—Mr. Chauncey Depew said in New York recently that "commercial union would lead in a few years to political federation which would carry the American flag from the Falls of Niagara to the "North Pole." Chauncey is regarded as one of the cleverest men in the States.

Notes and Comments.

—The Patriot should refer to a better authority than the Toronto Globe. It was the Globe which led astray those electors who turned the scale in this Province at the last general election.

—We are authorized to state that in the interview by the Guardian reporter wherein Dr. McLeod is represented as having said that "a defective and ill-constructed system of sewerage is better than no system at all," is incorrect. What Dr. McLeod did say was that "as a rule, a defective system is worse than no system at all."

—A convention is to be held at Georgetown on the 10th February to perform the melancholy duty of selecting a Liberal-Conservative candidate for the seat in the Provincial Legislature left vacant by the late Hon. H L Macdonald. At the same time and place Liberal-Conservative candidates will be selected for the representation of King's County in the House of Commons. The leading supporters of the Government in King's County are to be commended for their prompt action. Whether the general election be held forthwith or a year hence, it is well that all doubt as to the personel of our candidates be removed. The sooner the men are in the field and at work the more absolute will be their certainty of success.

—The question of reciprocity with the United States has lately been criticised in an able article published by the Canadian American, of Chicago. This journal surely knows the opinion of of a great many of the public men across the border. Therefore, its statements may be accepted with confidence. The Canadian American says: "If the Liberals of Canada are not prepared to adopt the the United States' tariff in order to have free trade with that country, they are wasting a lot of powder. A trade agreement with the United States means the enclosing of the North American continent with the tariff enacted at Washington. . . . The voice alone of the United States would determine the fiscal policy that would rule the continent. The Canadian voter, under a reciprocity agreement, would have to be content to be an irresponsible individual in the field of tariff discussion. His attitude towards the outside world would have to be in harmony with commands emanating from Washington. No other attitude would be tolerated, because any other would compel American statesmen to submit to dictation from Canada, and that is not to be thought of under any circumstances." "We know," continues the Chicago paper, "that not a few of our Canadian friends imagine that Canada can have free trade with the United States and yet frame its own tariff against the rest of the world. Those who hold this belief are deluding themselves. A plan of this sort is not feasible, it would not abolish the custom houses at the boundary line, nor close all avenues to the smuggler. Commercial union means the acceptance by Canada of whatever tariff is on the statute books at Washington. To get Americans to think otherwise would be a herculean task, beyond the ability of a party ten times as strong as the Liberal party of Canada."

Georgetown Carnival.

The Georgetown Carnival which came off on the night of the 28th inst., as already announced in THE EXAMINER, was a brilliant affair. A correspondent says: The Drill Shed used in winter for a skating rink was beautifully and artistically decorated. The walls of the building were tastefully festooned with evergreens and flags of every shade of color were suspended from the framework of the interior of the roof, the side and centre lamps shedding a mellow light upon the fairy-like scene. The costumes of the skaters well represented the various characters assumed. The healthful exercise was spiritedly kept up for several hours, inspired by the music of the Youths' Band, the performance of which was not the least attractive feature of the entertainment. The writer heard many complimentary remarks from the spectators of the fine music of the Georgetown Band. The space in the building allotted to spectators was well filled, and all seemed highly delighted not only with the costumes of the skaters, but with the good order maintained in so large a gathering—it was altogether a very enjoyable affair, and creditable to the managers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

A Word of Warning.

SIR,—In a recent issue of your paper, I noticed a paragraph headed as follows: "Disgusted Word Competitors," and if I am correct this was copied from a Halifax paper. I am not one of those competitors, but I am nevertheless, a "disgusted question answerer," as the following facts will show:

Sometime in September I noticed an advertisement in the Montreal Family Herald and Weekly Star, and on the 22nd of the same month a letter was registered enclosing $1 and answers to three Bible questions as sent out by the Ladies Journal, published in Toronto. After waiting in expectation for some time for a copy of said Journal, I had to ask the post office authorities to start a tracer in re on my letter, to which I received a favorable reply. I then sent a post card, the result of which brought me the December issue of said Journal, and up to this present writing, after allowing sufficient time to bring me an answer to another registered letter sent them, I now deem it my duty to utter a word of warning so that others may be preserved from such base treatment. I am not at all disappointed in regard to "prizes" so much as non-receipt of Journal for those three months. Does it not look as if some fraudulent operations were being carried on by some of those special advertisers of "prizes?"

FAIR PLAY.

Charlottetown, Jan. 30, 1891.

The Winsloe Estate.

SIR,—The tenants on the Winsloe Estate, Lots 24 and 33, are petitioning the Government to purchase the freehold of their lands. We believe this is the only large estate which has not been purchased under the provisions of the Lands Purchase Act. The tenants on this estate fell that they should receive the same justice that has been meted to other tenants in the Province. I am informed that money was provided when we entered the Dominion to purchase the freehold of all lands for the benefit of the tenants. Can you inform us whether the fund has been exhausted or whether we can attribute the neglect to the Government or to whom? The tenants have petitioned two or three times, but no notice has been taken of their petitions. Unless something is done soon, we shall be under the necessity of arranging a "plan of campaign." We respectfully ask the assistance of THE EXAMINER in this matter. Yours &c.

A TENANT.

Verity, Medicus, & Co.

SIR,—The letter from "Medicus," in your issue of Thursday, is so evidently home-manufactured that I cannot understand how you could lend yourself to such a ridiculous deception.

Do you suppose your readers can be so easily hoodwinked as to believe that that letter came from a New York physician?

If it were so, and "Medicus" had any standing in his profession, he would not commit such a breach of medical etiquette as to write over an assumed name, or fear to write a criticism over it.

It is so self-evident a piece of the same ungentlemanly persecution of Dr. Baynes, that I do not wonder at his contemptuous silence.

What a travesty it is on the glories of this liberal and enlightened age, and on the boasted etiquette of the medical profession, to witness the jealous meanness of our local doctors in their treatment of Dr. Baynes.

But we know that all reputation and distinction is earned at the expense of making an astonishing number of enemies and many friends; unless it is mediocre—then one is safe.

Mediocrity succeeds wonderfully well now-a-days. Nobody hates it, because everyone feels how easily they themselves can attain to it.

Exceptional talent is aggressive; actual genius is offensive; people of the same profession are insulted to have a reputation held up for their admiration which is entirely out of their reach.

They become like bears climbing a greased pole; they see a great name above them, a tempting sugary morsel, which they would fain snatch and devour; and when their uncouth efforts fail, they huddle together on the ground beneath, look up with dull peering eyes and impotently snarl—thus it is with Verity, Medicus & Co. But Dr. Baynes need not mind their "snarls," for I can assure him (and I have a very large acquaintance here) that the citizens of Charlottetown particularly, and the people of P. E. Island generally, are on his side, and do not sympathize with such mean-spirited conduct. Let him pursue his way in the future as in the past, and he will earn the love and gratitude of us poor suffering creatures and our friends and relatives.

I know of no man in my time whose advent to Charlottetown was more opportune than Dr. Baynes', for, as "Fairplay" mildly puts it, "our local talent is not so brilliant as to outshine all foreign assistance."

I enclose my card and thank you for giving me so much space in defence of one who has been the instrument in God's hands of saving my life.

A GRATEFUL PATIENT.

[We have only to remark that our correspondent is mistaken in supposing that the letter referred to is of "home manufacture." It was written in New York by a gentleman who has not been, at least in recent years, a resident of Charlottetown; and was written, as we believe, in good faith by one who is wholly unacquainted with Dr. Baynes.]

Should Be Sincere.

SIR.—The large vote polled at the Civic Election recently held for Mr. Haviland, demonstrates the fact that had all the professed temperance men voted as they would wish the public to believe they did, the Scott Act would have been sustained.

The Guardian agent attends the Police Court and publishes very minutely the evidence against Scott Act offenders and criminals arraigned before the Stipendiary Magistrate when it will not offend any of his temperance patrons; but should Little Donald purchase alcohol and nearly end his life, he will not tell us who he purchased it from. Perhaps the president of the W. C. T. U. or some of its members could furnish him with this local item, and also how brandy by the bottle and other quantities are sold and charged in account when we have no license law on our statute books. Now, Mr. Editor, I voted for the retention of the Scott Act and did not make much fuss about it; but I am well informed that many who howled the loudest against the liquor dealers covered up all their great interest for the cause of temperance at the ballot box. When people publicly espouse any cause tending to moral reform they should be

GRAND OPPORTUNITY —TO SECURE—

Blood, Speed, Style and Beauty.

SEALED TENDERS will be received by the undersigned up to MARCH 1st, 1891.

for all or any one of the following Horses Sleighs, Wagons, etc., etc.:—

Stallions { PRINCIPAL, 5629, / WESTLAWN, 5038,

1 Buggy, 1 Road Cart, 1 do. Sulky, 1 Trotting Sleigh, 1 Driving do., 2 sets Harness, 2 sets Hobbles, 1 Sweat Blanket (new), 1 suit Blankets (new, worth $16), 1 set Rolls, 1 pair Skelpers, 4 pair Quarter Boots.

PRINCIPAL, w. b. s., small star, very black points, foaled 1884, 15¾ hands, by Hambletonian Prince, 819, he by Rysdyk's Hambletonian, 10. Hambletonian Prince's dam is by Cassius M. Clay, 18. Principal's first dam is Bay Fanny (sister to Kitty Cook, 2 26), by Abraham 353, he by Daniel Lambert, 102; second dam Fanny Allen (dam of Kitty Cook, 2.26), sister to Daniel Lambert and Ethan Allen, 473; third dam Fanny Cook by Abdallah, 1; fourth dam by Stockholm's American Star; fifth dam by Red Bird, by Bishop's Hambletonian. Rysdyk's Hambletonian, 10, when crossed with the Clays has found no equal in reproducing. Clay mares have produced Electioneer, George Wilkes, Dauntless, Victor, Von Bismarck and Hambletonian Prince (sire of Principal). During the past few years the Hambletonian-Morgan cross has become very popular, many of the most successful turf performers having this combination of blood. Principal, who inherits these two strains, has a very fine, easy gait and action, with lots of style, and with proper handling he would make a fast trotter.

WESTLAWN, ch. s., 15¾ hands, small star, little white on hind heels, foaled 1884 by Woodlawn, 1568, he by Hero of Thorndale, by Thorndale. Woodlawn's dam is the renowned brood mare Waterwith (dam of five in 2 25 or better). First dam Minnie West (trial 2.35), by Allie West, 715 (record 2 25). Allie West (by Almont) is sire of the dam of Allie Wilkes, 2.22¾, which sold lately for $20,000; also sire of the dams of five others that have trotted in 2.30 or better. Westlawn's second dam is by the world-renowned sire of brood mares, Mambrino Patchen, whose blood flows in 106 that have entered the 2 30 list during the past season. It will thus be seen that Westlawn is made up of the very richest of producing and reproducing blood. In the Dominion we doubt if he can be excelled in his maternal line of ancestors. Just look at what Waterwitch, Old Dolly, Heroine, Lady Patriot and others have done. Westlawn, although never handled for speed, was given a public exhibition at Charlottetown, during the Exhibition races there in the fall of 18 9, by a man who never saw him previous to that day. The time made for a half-mile was 1.14 2 5. Westlawn, having lots of vim and nerve, would not surprise us if, with proper handling, he yet paced his mile in 2 20 or better. This speed, combined with his style and beauty ought to make him a very valuable sire and a good investment. The get of both these stallions show size, style, action and finish that stamps them as successful sires.

Having other business which requires all our time and attention, we have decided to close out our stables, so that bargains may be expected.

The Stock, &c., may be seen at all times, and all information given by the undersigned on application. All mares served last season not proving in foal can be returned free up to the date of opening the tenders, or so long as the horses remain in our possession.

Terms either cash or one-half cash, and the balance in one or two years on approved security, and this to be stated in the tender. We do not bind ourselves to accept the lowest or any tender.
