

Successful Apple Day Sale At Montague

The first Montague Boy Scout troop held a very successful apple day this year with total returns amounting to over $11,000. There were 21 boys selling. Scoutmaster Eric Duvar was well pleased with the results and was very grateful to the people for their generosity.

Montague Troop In Deployment Scheme

Taking a keenly active part in a special deployment scheme worked over the week-end was the Montague Troop of the 28th L.A.A. Regiment. The scheme was held in the area of South Granville and the 16 members of the Montague Troop came to the city by Army vehicle to take part. They were under command of Sgt. Malcolm MacKenzie who expressed himself as highly pleased with the results shown. Sgt. MacKenzie said he hoped to greatly increase the strength of his troop before the end of the year as many young men of Montague and vicinity have recently shown interest in joining the group and participating in the many activities.

Geo' Town Man Believed Oldest Active Mariner

The enclosed is taken from a mainland paper and will be read with interest by residents of Georgetown, where Capt. Dicks formerly resided and where he has two brothers, both sea captains, now living. He is also well known throughout the island. "If Captain William Dicks of Big Harbor, Cape Breton, is not the oldest active mariner around, he's not far off the mark. Veteran of more than 50 years sea experience and the picture of health, sprightly Captain Bill at 84, is still going strong. He was in Halifax a few weeks ago, paying his first visit in about 20 years to that Port from which he sailed in and out for about 30 years. Since the days, years ago, when nothing but sails and spars dotted the wharves along the Halifax waterfront, Capt. Bill says he has seen a "wonderful difference." There are very few sails or spars around the wharves nowadays, he noted. "The years too, have brought scores of new faces on the scene. He recalled the days when he knew almost everyone along the waterfront and "almost everyone and their dog knew me. Retirement is a word foreign to Capt. Dicks' vocabulary. He now pilots a Department of Highways ferry between Ross' Ferry and Big Harbor down in Victoria County of Cape Breton. He began his career as a ferry Skipper 13 years ago at an age when most men would have been willing to seek out a rocker and call it a day.

Skipped Own Vessels
"For many years before joining the Highways Department service, Capt. Dicks skipped his own vessels carrying freight between Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland and other ports. His long sea-career has not been without event—thrice he was shipwrecked and in his own words he had some "close calls."
His keen memory can reach back through the years and recall events of 80 years ago with accuracy and vividness. When he was a mere lad of 22 he was shipwrecked on a voyage from Boston to St. John's. "We ran smack into a cliff in a blinding snowstorm. I remember we had to scale a cliff and walk 14 miles through snow-covered woodland to a settlement."
"Another time, years ago, he was aboard a two-masted sailing vessel, the Lucy J. Warren, when the ship rolled over in a storm off the Newfoundland coast. The ship eventually righted herself but her masts were gone and it took hours for the wreck to drift ashore at Broad Cove. Dicks and the rest of the crew members all reached land safely.
Capt. Dicks was born in Newfoundland but his father moved to Georgetown, P. E. Island when he was just a little shaver and he considers Georgetown his home. In Halifax he visited his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown. Accompanying him were Mrs. Dicks and daughter Minnie. The veteran seafarer has no plans for retirement. "My grandmother lived to be 104 years of age so I guess I'm good for another 20 years," he said with a smile. Capt. Dicks has two brothers residing in Georgetown, Capt. Nelson Dicks and Capt. John Dicks."

Georgetown Gunners Hit Jack Pot

Two Georgetown hunters, Mr. Temple Goteil and the Rev. W. A. Peterson, hit the season's jackpot on Thursday, October 30, on Brudenell River, when they both fired into a flock of black ducks and together knocked eight beauties. A few weeks ago Temple, Georgetown's outstanding gunner and hunter's guide, in company with a visiting American gunner, had good luck on downing both ducks and geese. In Temple's case experience evidently pays off in knowing where to find the birds and what to do when they're found. Both gunners were highly pleased with the day's kill, and rightly so, as black ducks are reported as scarce, while other varieties are quite plentiful.

Fire early Saturday morning destroyed a house and large barn filled with hay at Greek River, owned by Mr. Ed Jenkins of Peter's Road. The fire, of unknown origin, was discovered about 1:30 A.M. and was too far gone at the time to be extinguished although a large number of people gathered. The house was vacant at the time, Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins having moved to Peter's Road some time ago. The total loss is estimated unofficially around $6,000.
