THE entertainment of Stuart Rogers, in the Lyceum last evening, was fairly well attended, and, judging from the laughter and applause which followed the talented actor's efforts, greatly appreciated. Mr. Rogers possessed a facial expression and mimicry are extraordinary. Of his comic selections, Darina Green, Gus Fitzgibbon, Miss Anyrinda and the Three Italians (the last named in Italian) were perhaps the best. In sentimental line, the scene from Hamlet was well enacted, while the story of Little Jina was very affecting, as also were the trials and tribulations of Ben, the Newsboy. The performance closed with an impersonation of the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone in full costume and a selection from one of his Home Rule speeches, which was pronounced first-class. Mr. Rogers performs again this evening with an entire change of programme, when all those who can enjoy a hearty laugh should make it a point to attend.

That Stabbing Affray. HALIFAX, Sept. 13. Details of the murder of McLean in Whycoombah have been received, and an extraordinary state of affairs is reported as existing there. John McLeod, his son and daughters, as well as two young men who were present at the time the stabbing took place, all swore that they did not know anything about it, and, as a natural consequence, the coroner returned a verdict of "death at the hand of some person or persons unknown." Through fear of being lynched McDonald subsequently confessed to the stabbing.
