Read Paton's big advt.
 I. O. F.—Meeting of Court Avondale tonight at 8 o'clock. Important business. A full attendance is requested.

A GREAT EVENT.—The visit of the Vice Regal party is the greatest event of the month. The next in importance is the orchestral concert in St. Peter's Hall on next Tuesday. Read the programme.

AN EXPLANATION.—Attention is directed to the letter on "Educational Matters" published on the fourth page of to-day's issue. Through a mistake only a portion of the letter was published on Saturday.

COMING THIS WAY.—We learn from good authority that one of our best known young men will in a short time lead a prominent young lady of Charlottetown to the hymeneal altar.—Picton Advocate.

THE OPERA HOUSE.—Ansbach the Magician who makes his first appearance in the Opera House tonight comes highly recommended and those who attend will pass a most enjoyable evening. His programme is an excellent one, and should attract a full house.

FIRE NEAR MONCTON.—Fire totally destroyed Patrick Gallaher's farm house at Fox Creek Road, about three miles from Moncton, on Sunday night. There was no person in the building at the time the fire occurred. It is supposed to have caught from the stove. Insured for $1,500.

MORE PRIZES.—In addition to the prizes won by P. E. Island exhibitors at the Halifax exhibition, mention of which has been already made in THE EXAMINER, are the following:—

Pure bred Clydesdale stallion, any age; first prize, F. Boyer, Lot 48.
 Shire stallion, any age; first prize, Fred Guard, Southport.
 Pure bred Clydesdale filly; first prize, Lemuel Wood, Mount Stewart.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.—One day last week Charles McKeen, of Westville, N. S., and a companion named Briggs, were pertridge shooting in the woods. McKeen thoughtlessly struck a snake, bringing the butt of his gun down on his head; the gun in some unknown way discharged and tore up into his right thigh, into his right side and peeled the flesh off his right arm. His condition is very serious and many doubts are expressed as to his recovery.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS.—Maritime province players are anxiously awaiting the arrival of copies of the new rules from England. It is understood that one rule provides that there shall be no "throw out" from "touch" but that the opposing side gets the ball sent in touch and can kick it in towards their opponents' goal. This is to prevent so much touching. English sporting papers are advocating a rule to do away with players being offside.

ST. JOHN LODGE, No. 1, A. F. & A. M., Centennial will be celebrated in the Opera House, Masonic Temple, on Wednesday next (tomorrow) the 13th inst., commencing at 3 o'clock, p. m. The doors will be thrown open to the public at 2.30, when the following programme will be presented. Worshipful Master Adam Murray, will occupy the chair. After his opening remarks, Brother P. G. M. T. A. McLean, will read the original charter, which will be followed by the brethren joining in the chorus "Meet upon the Level." Brother P. G. Secy, G. W. Wakeford, will read a historical sketch of St. John's Lodge for the past 100 years. At its close Miss Collings will sing a solo. A collection in aid of the P. E. Island Hospital will then be taken up. The Rev. Bro. P. G. Chap. G. M. Campbell, will deliver an oration suitable to the occasion. Then follows the Benediction and God Save the Queen.

IS THE CHRIST A REALITY?

In the Brick Methodist Church last night Mr. Gale spoke knowingly on this subject. After Mr. Sutherland had led in prayer he proceeded to show the why and wherefore of the faith that was in him and should be in those who named the name of Christ. To all, said he, who say that Christianity is a reproach to man's intelligence: if I thought so I should not preach this Gospel; but since it can be refuted there fore I preach Christ crucified. Faith is an act of the mind, but it is based on evidence. These evidences are: Nature, Jesus Christ, and the Holy Word. He then proceeded to give the case of Lord Lytton and West, when students who were infidels, they wanted to show that the Bible was a myth and people began studying it to prove its fraudulent assertions. After they had calmly studied it for a long time they came together and one said, well I am afraid that the Bible is true, and more than that I have decided to follow its teaching. That is my experience, said the other and the two then and there followed the Saviour. He cited also the cases of Vanderbilt and John Jacob Astor, who on their dying beds declared that their lives were failures since they had lived only for the making of money.

The idea that if we keep the law except in a few minor cases could be accepted by God was disposed of when he quoted, "If we keep the whole law and yet offend in one, we are guilty of all." The penalty is that the soul that sinneth, it shall die. But God sent His Son that whosoever believeth in Him shall be saved. You won't be asked, have you been a thief or a murderer, but have you accepted Christ? What stands in the way of accepting Christ? Just two words—"I won't." Jesus convicts us of sin, but we must be willing when he does so to receive him into our hearts.

Mr. Greenwood sang very touchingly "I shall know Him by the print of the nails in His hands."
 After he had laid the facts fairly before them he first asked the Christians to rise and then requested all who desired to lead the Christian life to stand with them.

Tonight he will speak at 7.30.
