ADVERTISING RATES

For small advertisements which are ordered for only one or two weeks the charge is 5 cents per inch for the first insertion, and 2 cents for each continuation. Rate cards are furnished on application at the office. Special contract prices at a reduced rate are quoted for advertisements four inches in size or larger, which are to run for three months or longer.

No special notices inserted unless paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line, and under no circumstances will such paid notices appear in the local column.

Special discounts made on all advertisements connected with Church Fairs, Bazaars, Picnics, etc. No notices will be inserted with the same unless the regular rate of 10 cents per line is paid.

That THE EXAMINER is considered by our Merchants and Manufacturers to be the leading newspaper in P. E. Island, and consequently the most valuable advertising medium through which to make their announcements public, is abundantly proved by the fact that in order to accommodate our advertisers we have been compelled to enlarge the paper to its present size.

THE DAILY EXAMINER is for sale by the following agents —
R. H. Mason, Post Office, Charlottetown
J. McIntyre Malpeque Road, "

And all the Grand and Wonderful Features of the Great Fair, taken at the height of the Splendor of the World's Exposition by a Special Corps of Artists.

The consecutive weekly parts will be mailed to any address, or delivered to persons calling at our office, at the uniform price of TEN CENTS EACH, and ONE COUPON. Don't miss the greatest and best of all the World's Fair histories.

THE AMERICAN
$8.00 Typewriter.

This is a well-made, practical machine, writing capitals, small letters, figures, and punctuation marks (71 in all) on full width paper, just like a $100 instrument. It is the first of its kind ever offered at a popular price for which the above claim can be truthfully made. It is not a toy, but a typewriter built for and capable of REAL WORK. While not as rapid as the large machines sometimes become in expert hands, it is still at least as rapid as the pen, and has the advantage of such simplicity that it can be understood and mastered almost at a glance. We cordially commend it to helpful parents and teachers everywhere.

Writes capitals, small letters, figures and marks—71 in all.
rites just like a $100 machine.
No Shift Keys. No Ribbon. Prints from the type direct.
Prints on flat surface.
Writing always in sight.
Corrections and insertions easily made.
Takes any width of paper or envelope up to 8½ inches.
Easy to understand—learned in 5 minutes
Weighs only four pounds—most portable.
Compact, takes up but little room.
Built solid and simple; can't get out of order.
Capital and lower case keyboard ailke—easily mastered.
More "margin play" for the small letters which do most of the work.
Takes good letter-press copies.

Packed securely in handsome case and expressed to any address on receipt of price, $8.00, in registered letter, money order or certified check. We guarantee every machine, and are glad to answer all inquiries for further information as to this machine and also the "Yost."

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

THE MAKING OF A WOMAN.

The education of a girl resolves itself to a single basis, writes Edward W. Bok, in a strong article in the January Ladies' Home Journal. Woman's progress may, in the minds of some, have seemed to make it more complex, and confusion can enter into the question if a mother allows herself to listen to the proclaimers of so-called "advanced ideas." We will be led into the mistake of cultivating the mind at the expense of the heart, if we allow ourselves to be so led. But the error is a cruel one—painfully so to the girl who is led, unknowingly into it. But if we permit common-sense to rule, the problem solves itself. We do not want our daughters to be encyclopædias, but true, womenly women. The first we can buy; the latter we cannot. Let us first look after the physical development of our girls, teaching them that good health outweighs all things. Let them understand the human mechanism, hiding nothing. Let them know what God requires of a woman, and why it is essential that she shall be as perfect in health and as well developed in body as possible. Teach, by example as well as by precept, the value of outdoor exercise. Then begin mental development, giving her the benefit of the largest educational advantages within your powers, insisting, however, that her studies shall be those likely to be of greatest usefulness in after life. Let her study not up to her fullest capacity, but just a little this side of it. A margin of unspent power is a tremendous force to a woman. Then, if our schools and colleges shall continue to neglect the teaching of household economics, keep your daughters close to you at home for a year at least, or longer if necessary. With her mind free from mental studies, teach her the rudiments of the home, hiding not the kitchen utensils as you show her the dainty china. Make of her an all round good home-builder and housekeeper, holding up ever before her the one great truth that a woman is always most satisfactory to herself when she is a woman, and most beautiful to others when she is womanly. Let her know what it means to be a wife and a mother. Make her not dependent but likewise not independent in the modern interpretation of that word. Between the two lies the truest type of womanhood. Let her aim to be womanly, her thought of others tender, living her life so that the world may be better because she passed through it.

CONSIDERATION FOR OTHERS.

We too often commit the great, though natural error of thinking persons of no importance to us. No persons can be unimportant as long as they live amongst us, for we are liable to be affected for good or ill by them. We are so bound up in interests with them as one of the human family, that what hurts one hurts all, and we suffer and enjoy as our neighbors do. How often it has happened that a beggar has brought to a city some infectious disease that has carried off thousands, the disease perhaps contracted by filth, and the enforcing of cleanliness and sanitary precautions upon him might have prevented it. It is a terrible form of admonition, but is it not a just one, considering we are one family and ought to cherish one another? We cannot change the arrangements by which we live and breathe, so we must act by them. Let no one say or think that another is of no importance; the poorer classes tell powerfully upon the highest, and everyone, according to his gifts, is continually operating for good or ill upon all around him.

For Over Fifty Years.

AN OLD AND WELL TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures the colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.—m. w. f. wkly—1 y

—The Montreal Gazette remarks that if there is any plea for the salubrity of our Canadian climate that deserves precedence it is that which can be based on the advanced ages reached not by statesmen, professional men, merchants and manufacturers only, but by the representatives of all classes of our population. According to the census of 1881, the ages of those who had survived their 70th year (three score and ten of Holy Writ) were as follows: 70 to 71, 7,532 men and 6,941 women; 71 to 72, 5,413 men and 4,722 women; 72 to 73, 5,170 and 4,649 . . . 90 to 91, 430, and 469; 91 to 92, 182 and 185; . . . 95 to 96, 106 and 123; 98 to 99, 49 and 52; 99 to 100, 25 and 45; 100 and over, 99 and 110. According to the last census, there were (in the mortality tables) from 65 to 75, 5,223; from 75 to 100, 7,582; over 100, 68. Of these, 25 were males; 43, females. The whole table showed that over two-fifths of the deaths in Canada were of children under the 5th year; over a quarter, between 5 and 45; and one-twelfth, between 65 and 75. About one-ninth were between 75 and 100.

—Whatever we may be left to guess about the nature of sleep, the fact that it is a necessary part of our existence is abundantly evident, and the more uninterruptedly we enjoy the peaceful oblivion, the greater is the amount of renuted strength and vigor we derive from it. It is during the hours of sleep that the electric battery of the nervous system becomes replenished with invigorated powers, and the body with renewed vital force. To enforce the full immensities of refreshing slumber, two things are especially requisite—a regularity as to the time of its indulgence, which always should commence an hour or two before midnight, and the most rigid abstinence from hearty suppers. "An hour's sleep before midnight is worth two after," and the maxim is easily to be verified and tested.

A MIDWINTER MAGAZINE.

The methods of an actress are always interesting, and they are particularly so when an actress of such renown as Adelaide Ristori consents to tell them as she does in the February Ladies Home Journal. The "Aberdeen Waltzes," by Mrs. Frances J. Moore, to which was awarded the first prize in "The Journal's Musical Series" of last year for the best waltzes, are given in the full piano score and are as melodious as they are "danceable." A most interesting article on "My Tabooed Playmate, Adelina Patti," is contributed by her one-time child-playmate, Katherine B. Foot. The concluding paper of Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's series of "How Fauntleroy Really occurred," will be read with mingled pleasure and regret. A more beautiful story of a story cannot be imagined than the author of "Fauntleroy" has given here. The quaint "Pomona" continues her European travels and writes in her characteristic manner with Frank Stockton's assistance. William Dean Howells continues his literary biography under the title of "My Literary Passions." The better appreciation by the husband of the wife's devotion is advocated by Edward Bok, and the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage is eloquent on the subject of aged women who are sometimes overlooked in the home. This valentine month is celebrated by a description of "A Dainty Valentine Dinner," by Mrs. Burton Kingsland, and the "Social Side of Life" is represented by suggestions for feasts and modest home entertainments. Palmer Cox gives a page of his inimitable "Brownies" as they shoot the Lachine Rapids and otherwise enjoy themselves in Canada. Sketches, with portraits are given of the daughter of Sir Garnet Wolseley, General Grant's eldest granddaughter, the daughter of "Mrs. Alexander," and Dr. Talmage's eldest daughter. Mrs. Mallon's pages, "Black Costumes of To-day" and "The Art of Dressing for Business," are charmingly illustrated. A particularly valuable article is that by Elizabeth Robinson Scovil on "Care in Infectious Diseases." Mrs. Lyman Abbott discusses many questions in "Just Among Ourselves." Altogether, this midwinter number, with its daintily-illustrated cover by Henry Sandham, and its attractive table of contents, is worth many times its price of ten cents, and no woman can afford to be without it. Published by the Curtis Publishing Company of Philadelphia for ten cents per number and one dollar per year.

CANADA AND AUSTRALIA.

At a banquet given by Mr. Bowell, Premier McIllwraith, of Queensland, Australia, is reported to have expressed amazement at the extent and the resources of Canada. He was satisfied that the Canadian route would become the chief pathway between Britain and Australia. He spoke at length of the Pacific cable project. Canada could count, he said, on Queensland's co-operation in putting the enterprise through. The imperial authorities ought to assist, as it was even more Britain's interest than the colonies.' It would be a shabby thing to expect the colonies to carry it out alone, but they could do so. He highly eulogized Sir John A. Macdonald, whose movements on the stage of the empire had been watched with the closest attention.

Sir John Thompson warmly reciprocated Mr. McIllwraith's fraternal expressions. He said the direct steamship line and cable company scheme were two projects which Sir John A. Macdonald cherished as the principal parts of the great programme he laid down for Canada's development. Sir John A. Macdonald's main idea was to strengthen the unity of the empire in the most practical sense of the term, irrespective altogether of views of Imperial Federation, or any project of that kind. He foresaw, as the present government foresaw, that the great destiny before us, if we are to be a prosperous people, is to unite ourselves firmly, not only in sympathy and action with statesmen in the motherland, but above all with the statesmen of those colonies of the empire with like interests with ours. (Loud cheers). The government in its present course is simply carrying out Sir John Macdonald's programme. Australians coming to Canada would be received as brethren in every sense of the word, because they were men united to Canadians commercially and possessed of the same imperial sentiments as regards the future destiny of each.

—A writer in Lippincott remarks that it is entirely safe to start in everything from the standpoint that training is valuable. The untrained genius may do greater things than the trained man of mediocrity; but that will not prevent the train genius from doing greater things than the untrained genius. The untrained beautiful voice is more pleasing than the trained disagreeable voice; but none the less is the trained beautiful voice more pleasing than the untrained beautiful voice, and even the trained disagreeable voice less unpleasing than the untrained disagreeable voice.

Deafness Caused by Cattarrh.

Capt. S. F. Belyea, of Greenwich, King's Co., N. B., suffered from an aggravated form of catarrh which had in his case induced serious deafness, closed the nasal passages so that he could scarcely breath and caused him great pain and trouble. He tried many remedies, but all failed until he got Hawker's Cattarrh Cure, three 25 cent packages of which effected a cure. "I can honestly say" says capt. Belyea "that I am practically well, and I take great pleasure in recommending Hawker's Catarrh Cure to those who may be suffering from this very troublesome disease." .....
