Allied Pilots (Continued from Page 1) Correspondent Sam Summerlin reported greatly increased enemy activity. Ground attacks were limited but an Allied officer said more enemy tanks and artillery were being spotted. About 80,000 Chinese reds were believed on the line along the western Imjin River front with another 40,000 in reserve, Summerlin said.

EXTEND (Continued from page 1) A top-level committee of three or more men to lead the drive to close the gap between what the past powers now have to fend off aggression and what they need. It would have power to negotiate with member governments in an effort to boost or alter contributions.

REDS PREPARED (Continued from Page 1) The atmosphere at the meeting was so cordial one Allied source said this could be interpreted as "good news." North Korean Col. Chang Chun-San, who recently had a brief and angry at these sessions, was smiling as he handed over the note. The Reds, while yielding to pressure to get the talks going again, nevertheless did not give up on any of their manifold charges of Allied violations of the Kaesong zone. The Allies have admitted the validity of two and denied the rest. Kim and Peng proposed that the first meeting set up "appropriate machinery" to deal with the previously mentioned unsettled incidents and stipulating and guaranteeing strict agreement on the Kaesong zone neutrality. Thus the Reds cling fast to Kaesong, the only city of note they hold south of parallel 38. Ridgway had urged a change of site after charging Red-held Kaesong offered the Reds every chance of manufacturing "incidents."

ATTENDANCE (Continued from Page 1) packed to suit that form of shipment. Mr. R. R. Bell, Leader of the Provincial Conservative Party, commented on the fact that although the majority of contestants were using tractor drawn plows, the end of the horse on the farm was not yet in sight. He warmly commended the match committee on their organization in the interest of their fellow farmers. Hon. Douglas MacKinnon, Minister of Public Works and Highways, also addressed a few words to the large crowd and stated that the choice of location for this annual event was a splendid one. The President of the Provincial Plowing Match, Mr. L. S. Hunter, then gave details of the match to be held at Dundas next week and said that this year a handicraft exhibition would be included. He hoped that the winners of the various classes yesterday would compete at Dundas.

Back In Service At R.C.A.F. Station

Having served his country well in one conflict, and now serving her equally well in peace as a Member of Parliament for Queen's, Wing Commander J. Angus MacLean, D.F.C. (above), is back in the air force temporarily to keep in touch with new procedures and so be ready to serve again if needed in another war. W/C MacLean is presently taking two weeks summer training at R.C.A.F. station Summerside where he is assisting the chief administrative officer and familiarizing himself with a branch of the work in which he has had no previous experience.

W/C MacLean was elected a member of Parliament in a by-election in Queen's County last spring and his peacetime occupation is farming. He has had an outstanding war record having broken of war after having received his bachelor of science degree from Mount Allison University. He trained as a pilot and graduated in March, 1940. He then took a pilot instructor's course at Trenton and afterwards instructed at service flying training schools at Camp Borden, Saskatoon and MacLeod, Alta. He went overseas in February of 1942 and after completing several missions and winning his D.F.C. for a trip over Essen, Germany, was shot down over Holland. All his crew were captured except himself. He contacted the underground and after several months got back to England by way of Spain and Gibraltar. For this experience he was mentioned in dispatches.

After that W/C MacLean was a test pilot for the Royal Air Force and then came back to Canada in June, 1943 and took over as commanding officer of the station and development establishment at Rockcliffe, Ont. After the end of the war he again went overseas as commanding officer of missing research and enquiry unit. This unit had to do with tracing the fate of airmen who were listed as missing during the war. He again returned to Canada in August of 1947 and did a lecture tour on conditions in Europe. He was discharged in 1947 and returned to what he describes as his first love, farming.

Labor Party

5. Break-up of monopolies. 6. Price and profit controls to keep prices down. 7. State control of fruit, vegetable and fish distribution. Conservatives will stress the need for higher production, with priority given to re-armament. They will claim inflation and high living costs can only be checked by freeing industry from some present government restrictions. They are pledged to de-nationalize the iron and steel industry transferred to public ownership last year. They might also modify the present state control of road transport, but they are unlikely to repeal nationalization of the Bank of England, coal mines and electricity services, civil airways, wireless and telegraph communications, or the "cradle to the grave" health plan.

Before making his broadcast, Atlee had sent letters to all party leaders informing them of his decision. Churchill immediately summoned his "shadow cabinet" to discuss election tactics.

Full Of Confidence

Lord Woolton, who as chairman of the Conservatives will direct the party campaign, said tonight: "I am full of confidence. The nation needs an election and the Conservative Party welcomes it." The Liberal leader in the Commons, Clement Davis, said: "It is right and proper that the Government should submit to the judgment of the electorate. It came into office with too small a majority for effective work."

SPRING PARK

After Mr. Connolly had briefly outlined the Town Planning Act, Mr. MacKinnon spoke a few words on behalf of his department, and promised that the Government would assist the area to the fullest possible extent. Stressing that the supreme question in the area was that of the health and sanitation problem, Dr. MacMillan advised the audience that with the legal representation incorporation would give to the locality, much would be gained, and judging by the intense interest of the citizens and the searching questions put to the speakers, these problems would be overcome.

Mr. Mathison spoke briefly as a private citizen, and was thanked by the Chairman for his advice on legal matters arising out of the discussions.

PLAN BUTTER TALKS

LONDON, Sept. 19—(Reuters)—Anglo-Danish talks on the price to be paid by Britain for her imports of Denmark's butter are due to start here Thursday. Denmark is asking for a 7-12 per-cent increase on the present price of 27s. 6d. per long hundred-weight. Under the Anglo-Danish trade agreement either party may request a review of prices each year, with a view to a change of up to 7-12 per-cent in either direction.

Kensington Observes Opening Of Paved Streets

An interesting program was carried out in Kensington last evening in connection with the formal opening of the new paved streets. Premier J. Walter Jones cut the ribbon that formally opened the streets to traffic. The paving program that resulted in over a mile of hard surfacing being done in Kensington was completed recently and was done through the financial co-operation of the Provincial Government.

Mr. Reginald Holman presided and in addition to Premier Jones speeches were made by Mayor W. D. Darrach, Hon. C. C. Baker, Minister of Agriculture and Mr. George Mackay, M.L.A. Premier Jones dispensed the information that there are 5,000 fewer females in the rural districts of the Province than males and he said that this is a sad state of affairs caused by so many girls going away. He said he looked on the Island as one large farm and also a fishing community and advised that there is no better aim for a person to have than the aim of having a better farm and a better community.

He dwelt at length on the possibilities for agriculture here and pointed out that there are many potential markets for agricultural products within a radius of 500 miles of the Province. Following the official opening of the streets there was a tractor parade in front of the C.N.R. station and this was followed by street dancing. The program was jointly sponsored by the Kensington Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kensington Community Club and the Kensington Athletic Association. Proceeds of the dinner and the dinner are for a new community centre which it is proposed to erect.

Coleman Church Being Repaired

The Church of Scotland in Coleman has been undergoing extensive repairs. Last year, the church building was raised, and a new cement foundation was put in. This year, the entire roof has been resingled with black asphalt shingles.

The whistle on the spire was taken down, and one of the leaves which had been broken off several years ago was replaced on the spire with new ball foundation. The entire spire has been completely repaired and painted. This is to be followed by the painting of the whole exterior of the church building.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Coleman section of the congregation, formed in the autumn of 1949, has done great work for the interior of the church building. The Auxiliary had the pulpit re-stained, and all woodwork, platform and railings about the pulpit and elder's stance, grained, also all trimmings of windows, doors, wainscoting, etc., grained. They also had the church aisles re-carpeted and had placed on the pulpit platform and the elder's stance, wine-coloured church carpet.

The whole interior of the church vestibule has been gone over, old wall plaster removed, refinished, painted and grained. It is the hope of the congregation to have the rest of the interior of the church seen to, before the Communion services next July, and to have the church wired as soon as the electric power goes through the district.

The cemetery of the congregation in Milo has been completely renovated and presents a fine appearance, surpassing in appearance and quiet beauty many cemeteries in the vicinity. A new power lawn mower was purchased this summer, to keep the cemetery as it now is.

Much credit is due to the trustees of the congregation, Bradford MacKay, George MacNevin, and Wilbur MacQuarrie, and to the efficient secretary-treasurer Rankine Wallace, for the work that has been done to the church and cemetery.

The Women's Auxiliary deserves praise for the part played in assisting the trustees and secretary-treasurer in beautifying the place of worship.

The Minister of the congregation is Rev. J. H. Bishop.

Wing Cmdr. Kenyon Has Interesting Air Force Career

Wing Commander A. G. Kenyon, who has been posted to command R. C. A. F. station, Summerside, to take effect in October has had an interesting Air Force career. He was born in Toronto and at an early age moved with his family to Ottawa. He attended Royal Military College at Kingston and was graduated in 1935, joining the R. C. A. F. shortly after as a pilot. Two years after the outbreak of World War Two W/C Kenyon was transferred to R. C. A. F. station Dartmouth where he was engaged in anti-submarine patrol flying duties, with No. 10 Bomber Reconnaissance Squadron. In 1941 he took a specialist navigation course at Rivers, Manitoba and on its completion moved back to the east coast at Yarmouth where he formed 113 Squadron. In June, 1942 he was transferred to Eastern Air Command headquarters at Halifax as chief operations officer.

In September, 1943 he was posted to Air Force Headquarters at Ottawa and from there went overseas in July, 1944 to serve as a member of the planning staff at A. F. W/C Kenyon returned to Canada in July 1945 and was shortly after appointed commanding officer of the R. C. A. F. station at Sea Island, British Columbia. He held this appointment until chosen to attend the R. C. A. F. Staff College in September, 1947. On completion of this course he was posted to Air Plans Division of Air Force Headquarters in Greenwood and after completing a course at No. 2 Maritime Operational Training Unit he was appointed commanding officer of No. 405 Maritime Squadron. He held this command until word came of his transfer to Summerside succeeding Wing Commander D. A. Willis, D.F.C.

Presentations Are Made To S'side Coach

Congratulatory speeches were made by Mayor Henry Wedge, D. O. Stewart, president of the Summerside A. A., Charles Hogan, chairman of the Summerside baseball committee, and J. K. Curran, sponsor of the C. & B. Juniors.

"Chick" in replying expressed his appreciation for the fine way in which he has been treated while in Summerside, and for the gifts he had received and the fine tributes paid him by the other speakers. He spoke highly of the boys under his charge during the summer and of the ability of Island ball players in general. Consumers To Meet Today At Ottawa

OTTAWA, Sept. 19—(CP)—A segment of the people who pay the shot when prices jump—the consumers—will meet here tomorrow. The question of price controls likely will be the top item for discussion.

Billed as the annual meeting of the Canadian Association of Consumers' board of directors, the two-day conference will be attended by some 25 delegates, representing a direct association membership of 13,000. In addition, some of the members are spokesmen for other national organizations, mostly women's clubs, and association officials estimate that if these are included, the association's actual following would exceed 100,000 Canadians.

Sessions will be under the direction of Mrs. W. R. Walton, Jr., of Oakville, Ont., the association's national president. Discussions likely will range from the question of rising prices and the government's action to cope with them to food labeling and margining tariffs. Since the association met about a year ago, the cost-of-living index has jumped almost 20 points to a record 188.9 and the association's branches have besieged it with requests to bring the matter to the government's attention.

Besides Mrs. Walton, top delegates will include Mrs. Walter Dean of York Mills, Ont., the organization's English vice-president; Mme. H. E. Vauclair, Montreal, French vice-president; Mrs. C. K. Newcombe, Winnipeg, Western vice-president; Mrs. V. E. Farkar, Brockville, Ont., Eastern vice-president.

Polio Ban To Be Lifted Saturday

HALIFAX, Sept. 19—(CP)—A health committee ban prohibiting children under 15 from attending public gatherings as part of an anti-polio battle will be lifted Saturday, the committee decided tonight.

The ban was imposed Aug. 30 when polio cases took a sharp upswing throughout the province. Halifax County and the town of Dartmouth, who have banned gatherings for children under 21 and 16 respectively, are expected to follow suit.

Halifax City schools, forced to remain closed because of the ban, will open Monday.

Miminegash Royals Win Re-played Game

The Miminegash Royals on their own diamond Tuesday Sept. 18th, again defeated the Kinkora Red Sox by a score of 23-16. This game was played by order of the Dept. of Physical Fitness to replace one of the semi-finals games which took place at Kinkora two weeks ago, in which the Royals were victorious by a one-run margin. The Red Sox protested on the grounds that a new player for the Royals had not been officially approved by the executives of the six teams making up the Prince County "B" League.

The Red Sox put up a magnificent fight and up to the close of the sixth inning the Royals were but one run ahead. However in the seventh the Royals scored six more runs which gave them their seven-run margin of victory over the Red Sox. The eighth inning was scoreless and the ninth was called off on account of darkness. In the opening the Royals scored seven runs, four more in the second, three in the third, three in the sixth and six in the seventh, giving them a grand total of 23 runs. The Red Sox on the other hand made their first seven runs in the second inning, one in the fourth, seven in the fifth, and one more in the sixth which gave them 16 runs all told as tabulated by the scoreboard.

The highlight of the game was a spectacular home run made by a seventeen-year-old boy, J. D. McCaville, for the Red Sox. He has already distinguished himself as a batter of note for his team. Claude "Rusty" Callaghan was on the mound for the Royals during the entire game while Red Sox used W. E. MacGuigan as their pitcher for the first three innings and R. McCaville for the other five. Max Callaghan was catcher for the winning Royals and Joe Schreenan served the Red Sox in that capacity. Mr. Jack Schurman of Summerside was umpire.
