Cured by Ste. Anne.

A LONG SUFFERING WOMAN REGAINS THE SIGHT OF HER EYES.

Mrs. George Choquette, who has been blind for five years, returned to Holyoke, Mass., July 21st, from Quebec, completely cured by Ste. Anne de Beaupre. Since she was stricken with blindness she has made every endeavor to be cured, and her husband, who is foreman in a paper mill of Holyoke, Mass., has spent thousands of dollars. Her husband tells the following story of the miraculous cure: "Two months ago," said he, "I resolved to send my wife to Montreal, where she consulted the famous specialist, Dr. Desjardins. He did no better than our local physicians, and I sent her to another specialist who was also unsuccessful. At this time her eyes were so bad that there was only a blur before them. She could not distinguish any object. The shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre is located a few miles below Quebec, and is noted throughout Canada, if not the world. Reaching Quebec on the 9th of the present month, she went immediately to the shrine, reaching there on July 10. We arrived in the morning and attended low Mass and received Holy Communion. Then we secured the holy water from the well of Ste. Anne de Beaupre, knowing if there was to be any cure it must come through this. That night we went to Montreal. The next morning my wife bathed her eyes in the holy water and almost immediately she gave a cry of joy. "Mon Dieu! she exclaimed, I can see! I can see! and, sure enough she could not only discern objects and persons near her, but those at some distance as well. Then we both gave thanks to God for His great kindness. It was a happy day, I can tell you. We reached Holyoke, and my wife saw her loved children for the first time in a number of years." Later a correspondent called upon the Holyoke and Springfield physicians who had attended Mrs. Choquette. They are of the opinion that the woman's sight was badly impaired but not lost. Had she continued longer with them they might have helped or cured her. They do not attempt to account for the miracle.

The Hangman was Indignant.

Berry, the British professional hangman, who, on the 21st, shuffled off a murderer named Upton, and gave him so long a drop that the murderer's thin neck could not stand the strain, and a rather ghastly result followed. The coroner's jury was indignant, had Berry up for examination, when the comical spectacle was presented of a gory hangman lecturing twelve good men and true and the coroner to boot. He informed them that by Parliament he was privileged from giving testimony, but he would do so, as he had a few observations to make. He censured them for being so long over their enquiry. It should be quite enough for them to know that he had done the job. In any other part of the country a jury would have finished their deliberations in half the time. He had given the man a five-foot drop, which was customary for a man of his height and age. It was not his fault that the murderer's neck was a particularly weak one. Death was as quick as lightning. He had spent his life in hanging people, knew more about the business than the jury, and could only wish them as quick and painless a death if ever it should be their lot to perish that way. The jury, without more ado, decided that the murderer should not have had a weak neck. The hangman is a great man, and tremendously on his dignity, as was made evident by this event.

Personal.

The autumn session of parliament, which is now unavoidable, will be an inconvenience to Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, who contemplated a visit to the Endycottos in America this fall. Gossips have it that a wedding will take place in January. Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone go to Hawarden for the vacation, which will begin probably about August 15. Their golden wedding will occur shortly, and they are to be presented with magnificent portraits of themselves. Mrs. Gladstone's being by Herkomer and the ex-Premier's by Hall. The once eminent Polish patriot, Kurkowski, who died last month, is reported to have attained the age of 116 years. He is said to have followed the banner of Kosciuszko in 1794, and served under Napoleon in the Russian campaign in 1812. He distinguished himself in the Polish insurrection of 1830-31. We have heard a good deal lately about the hundreds of young men in our schools that are preparing to go as missionaries. But some of them do not materialize in any overwhelming numbers. The Bayist Masio a y U o ia is begging for five healthy, earnest, able men to go to India and Burma, and it cannot find them. The Presbyterians have the same tale to tell. New York is said to be one of the strongest Catholic cities in the world. It has 75 parish churches, 40 chapels, 300 priests, 300 Brothers, 2,000 religious women, 40,000 pupils in its colleges, academies and parochial schools, and 15,000 poor or sick or orphaned cared for in its homes, hospitals, and asylums. Fully $30,000,000 are invested in Catholic churches and institutions, and there are 800,000 Catholics within the city limits. So the Boston Pilot tells us.

SPLendid TIME.—A Buffalo, N. Y., despatch says—Belle Hamlin performed a wonderful feat at the Buffalo Driving Park yesterday morning. She trotted a half mile in 1.02 1/2—a 2.05 gal. No such time has ever been made by a trotting horse before. Maud S. recently went a trotting horse before. The test was made in the presence of a number of horsemen. Horace Brown warmed up the mare with a slow half mile, and then let her out for the rest of the mile. Belle fairly flew over the track, and never made a break. Horace Hunt, of Hornellsville, C. F. Dunbar, of Buffalo, Mr. Kerr, of Kerr, Lewis & Co., C. J. Hamlin and others held watches, and every one of the tickers registered 1.02 1/2 or better. Some made 1.02 1/2. The last quarter was made in 31 seconds. Mr. Hamlin said last evening that Belle would soon be sent to beat her record of 2:13, and he confidently expects that she will come close to Maud S.'s record of 2:04.

The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at St. Petersburg says he is reliably informed that the interview between the Czar and the Emperor William was of a most cordial character and that as a result of it Russia will, in fact, pursue a pacific policy. He says there is no longer any danger of trouble arising regarding Bulgaria. Prince Ferdinand will be allowed to reign, on the ground that it will be impossible for him long to retain his position. When the Prince is deposed Germany will favor any candidate for the Bulgarian throne, that may be nominated by Russia.
