Toronto Forgers Have Tough Time

TORONTO, (CP) - Two coincidences that police say could only happen once in 100 years have led to the arrests of two men here in 18 days on forgery charges. Thomas Dalton went in a bank Friday and a teller told him one of his cheques was being cashed at another wicket. Police were called in and Vincent Taylor, 31, was booked on two charges of forgery and uttering.

Warns Against Bad Mining

HALIFAX, (CP) - Professor G. V. Douglas, professor of geology at Dalhousie University, says the day will come when Canada will be mined out. "It's a very sobering thought," he told a service club here. "We should mine our ore deposits in such a way that we don't leave a wreck in our wake such as the many examples of bad mining we already have in this country."
