

Your Excellency our thanks for the expressions of good will towards our constituents, and zeal for their welfare, contained in your Excellency's speech; and we beg leave to assure your Excellency, that in no portion of the British Empire is the heartfelt satisfaction at the highly auspicious event of the Birth of an Heiress Presumptive to the Throne, greater or more generally felt than in this Colony, where the warmest sentiments of devotion and loyalty are entertained towards our most gracious Sovereign, and attachment to her Royal consort.

To ensure the advantages of a good Education—on which is based the happiness, industry and peace of a country—shall have that most serious attention which the importance of its merits imperatively demands.

Fully aware that the interests of Agriculture are intimately and inseparably connected with the future destinies of the Colony, and thankful that Divine Providence has blessed the labours of the Husbandman, we shall most cheerfully devote our attention to such objects as may increase and develop the resources of the soil.

In common with your Excellency, we share the satisfaction at the present prosperous state of the public Revenue, as affording us the means of diminishing taxation, and furthering the improvement of the country by public works.

We shall enter on the investigation of the Public Accounts for the past year so soon as your Excellency shall be pleased to lay them before us, and in proceeding on the Estimates for the current year, we shall make such provision for the exigencies of the Government as is warranted by the present resources of the Colony.

We regret that the Bill for erecting a Lunatic Asylum has not received the Royal Assent. When we receive the Despatch accompanying its suspension, we will give this very important matter our best consideration.

These, and whatever other matters may be laid before us by your Excellency, shall receive the most careful investigation; and we trust that the Colony will derive some benefit from this Legislative Session.

Reply.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen;

I receive this Address with much satisfaction. The sentiments of loyalty and devotion to the Throne which it contains are worthy of the Representatives of the people of an Island which takes its name from the father of our most gracious Queen.

MONAGHAN FARMING SOCIETY.

At the First Annual Meeting of the Monaghan Farming Society, held at the house of Mr. Peter Duffy, on the 8th of January, 1841—Mr. P. Hughes, one of the Vice-Presidents, being called to the Chair, the Committee presented the following REPORT, which was unanimously adopted, viz:—

Your Committee having examined the Secretary and Treasurer's Accounts, find them correct, shewing the amount in his hands, and due the Society, to be £13 5s., including £5 in the hands of the Treasurer of the Central Society. It is therefore a matter of congratulation, that although this Society was only formed in the month of June last—when no supplies could be expected till the ensuing spring—the prospects of this Society are no way discouraging—the number of our subscribers for the following year being nearly triple that of the preceding.

Your Committee recommend that such quantity of Timothy, Clover and other seeds, also such quantity of Farming and other implements as shall be found to correspond with the funds and demands of the Society, at a future meeting of the Committee, shall be procured by the Secretary early next spring.

Your Committee also recommend that a Grain and Cattle Show, together with a Ploughing Match, be held in the precincts of this Society—the time and place, together with the rate of premiums, to be decided on by the Committee at a future meeting.

Your Committee recommend that the thanks of this meeting be respectfully presented to Peter Macgowan, Esquire, Secretary of the Central Board, for his kindness in forwarding the several documents relative to Agriculture, and to the interest of the Society—and your Committee cannot refrain from expressing the gratitude which this Society justly owes to the Central Board, collectively, for their kindness in consenting, unsolicited, to transact business and correspond with this Society on the same terms as with other local Societies throughout the Island. The Central Board, in its Annual Report for 1837, expresses that an idea once prevailed that there was an individuality in the interest of each Society, but that fallacy had exploded—also, it was then the wish of that Society to draw closer the ties of interest and good fellowship between the different Societies. It is therefore hoped that that board will not adopt the ideas of a certain learned Doctor, at its recent meeting, where, in preface to some written Resolution which he then held in his hand, his thundering logic threatened to exterminate or crush out of existence the minor societies altogether.

Your Committee likewise recommend that the thanks of his Society be presented to the Hon. Donald Macdonald, its President of this Society, for his kind attention to its interests, and likewise for the anxiety which at all times he has evinced to promote the improvements and prosperity of our new settlers since their arrival in this Colony. That his Society highly appreciates the honour he has conferred on our Society by consenting to become its head, and only regrets its inability at present for conveying or bestowing a reater mark of respect in reward of his favours; that this society sincerely requests he will continue their President the following year.

Your Committee also particularly recommend that this society most respectfully present their thanks to the Rev. J. Macdonald, for the sum of 40s. per annum, which he has granted to this Society, together with the sum of £5 per annum, which he has generously granted to our district school, both which grants he has made perpetual.

The following persons were then appointed Office-Bearers of the ensuing year, viz:—
The Hon. Donald Macdonald, President (re-elected).
Messrs. Patrick Hughes, Vice-Presidents.
John McAree, }
Francis Kelly, Secretary & Treasurer.

COMMITTEE.

Patrick Mackowan, James Kelly,
Peter Duffy, James McCarron,
Owen Simpson, John Lane,
James Brogan,

After which, the following Resolutions were unanimously adopted:—
That the thanks of this Meeting be given to the Committee who prepared the above Report, for the diligence they have taken in detailing so conclusively the sentiments of the Society.

That in no case shall any sum less than five shillings, usually, constitute a Member of this Society.

On motion of Mr. John Lane, seconded by Mr. John Kelly, it was unanimously Resolved, That the thanks of Meeting be given to our Secretary and Treasurer, not only for being the founder and mainspring of this Society, principally the author of all the improvements made and in our settlement since our arrival on this Island.

Resolved, That the Secretary respectfully solicit the Editor of the Royal Gazette and Colonial Herald to publish the same in their respective papers.

After three hearty cheers to His Excellency Lieutenant Governor, the Hon. Donald Macdonald, and Agricultural Societies of Prince Edward Island, retired to their respective homes, much gratified with the proceedings of the day.

Signed on behalf of the Meeting.
PATRICK HUGHES, }
JOHN M'AREE, } Vice-Presidents.

WESTERN AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Grain Show took place, according to notice, Messrs. Daniel Campbell, Archibald Montgomery and Thomas Sullivan were appointed Judges, and the Premiums awarded as follows:—

Mr. Geo. Ramsay, £1, for the best Wheat, weight, 62½ lbs.
Mr. Samuel McAuslane, 10s., second best do., weight, 62 lbs.
Mr. William Campbell, £1, best Black Oats, weight, 40 lbs.
Mr. Thomas Gorman, 10s., second best do., weight, 39 lbs.
Mr. William Birch, £1, best Barley, weight, 50½ lbs.
Mr. William Brown, 10s., second best do., weight, 49½ lbs.
Immediately after the Grain Show, the General Annual Meeting of the Society took place, when the Secretary read and presented the following REPORT:

Your Committee, after having carefully examined the Vouchers and Accounts of the Society, have to express their heartfelt congratulations, while they state that the affairs of the Society present a most pleasing prospect, and feel quite comforted to see the conjectures of the last year's Committee in their Annual Report, as to the increase of improvement in the Society, borne out with the desired effect.

Your Committee have to remark, that you are now becoming, through practical experience, enabled to perceive the many important advantages and facilities which the like institutions afford a farming community, while you, through the medium of the Western Agricultural Society, aided by the Mother Agricultural Institution of the Colony, can make much progress in every branch of husbandry, rural affairs, and rural economy, which requires much to be exemplified, and can be prosecuted to a great extent.

Your Committee have with reluctance to acknowledge that part of this district is yet in a backward state in agricultural affairs, but the cause may be attributed to a custom which is too prevalent in all new farming colonies, viz: Mechanics turning farmers, and farmers turning mechanics, which ultimately will render imperfection in a science which requires that strict attention and study which agriculture demands; yet, notwithstanding all those impediments, you have to boast of an increase of agriculture and commerce in parts of this district, which is deserving of much credit.

Your Committee would further remark, that improvement in breeding is increasing but partially, as the most of farmers do not attend to a general crossing in their stock, which certainly produces a difference in a stock of no small loss to the farmer, when it is considered which is the most gain, breeding an inferior stock of cattle, or a superior or improved stock.

There seems to be an increased desire amongst the agriculturists in this district for improvement, which is plainly to be observed in the extensive fields, curtailed forests, comfortable dwellings, and commodious barns, which bespeak the operative exertions of many of your industrious husbandmen.

Your Committee, on behalf of the Society, feel it imperative to express their most sincere thanks to Sir George F. Seymour, who was pleased to give his approval of the Western Agricultural Society, by making a contribution of Ten dollars towards its support, as well also to Peter Macgowan, Esq., Secretary of the Central Society, for his ready co-operation and kind attention at all times in corresponding with this Society.

Your Committee have to remark, that the Secretary has furnished them with a statement of the product of the Rhoan potato which P. Macgowan, Esquire, Secretary of the Central Society, was pleased to furnish him with last Spring. From two small potatoes, weighing 4 ounces, there has been the extraordinary product of 26 lbs.—the potatoes were planted by the Secretary, who took every means in his power to give them a fair trial, which product must prove satisfactory to every member of the Society, and trust that you will endeavour to continue the growth of this fine potato, which, undoubtedly, will be a great improvement to that crop.

Your Committee conclude by expressing their most ardent wishes that all persons connected and interested in the welfare of the Western Agricultural Society, may ever be found to support the most efficient means towards the support of its growing interests.

By order of the Committee,
DAVID RAMSAY, Secretary.

We have the pleasure of congratulating our readers, that through the exertions of His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, a separate Mail Bag is from henceforth to be made up at the Post Office in England for this Island; and it is most earnestly to be wished that the House of Assembly will seriously take the matter into consideration, and further the designs of the parent Government, by devising some plan for the sure and speedy conveyance of the Mails after their arrival in Pictou. If this desirable object is accomplished, we may receive the Mail in twenty-two hours after its arrival in Halifax. It is of little use to us that the Steamers arrive in ten or twelve days, if we have to wait nearly that time for its transmission from Halifax to this Island, a distance of about 160 miles. In Toronto they had their letters more than once before we received ours in the course of the past summer.—Gaz.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.—On Wednesday the 20th inst., Dr. Maclean delivered a very scientific Lecture upon Chemistry, accompanied with some interesting experiments, in illustration of his remarks. From the learned Doctor's being a native of the Island, and from his having recently returned from Scotland, whither he had been to complete his medical studies—a larger audience than usual were assembled, and whose expectations—high as they were—were fully realized by the interesting manner of the lecturer, and by the knowledge that he displayed in handling his subject.

On Wednesday evening last, John Little, Esquire, another native of this Island, and more particularly a child of the Institute—he having received the rudiments of science from the lectures and discussions that he had heard there—read a lecture upon Physical Geography, the language of which, in many parts, was poetical and sublime. He entered at large upon the geographical appearance and divisions of the Globe, upon its geological formation, upon the effects of mountains, upon the sources of rivers, upon the causes of volcanoes and earthquakes, and concluded by explaining the component parts of the atmosphere, by which the earth is surrounded, and the causes of the variations of climate in different countries. Physical Geography, in itself, is a difficult subject, and makes man feel the limits of his power. Man has ascertained the dimensions of the Sun, and the laws which regulate the Solar system, but the interior of the very earth upon which he treads baffles his researches, and all is involved in mystery and speculation.

The audience expressed themselves much pleased with the Lecture, and it is hoped that Mr. Little's good example will be followed by many a young aspirant for literary fame. The Vice-President, Francis Longworth, Esquire, M. P. P. (who was in the chair), announced that on Wednesday evening, the 10th prox., the Rev. Robert Douglas intended to deliver a Lecture, founded upon the proposition, that

"moderate abilities, with diligence and economy, are adequate to the discharge of the ordinary duties of life."—Com.
