Diefenbaker Supported In Bill Of Rights Motion

OTTAWA, March 24 — (CP) — John Diefenbaker's annual motion for a Canadian bill of rights won support today from members of the Liberal and the C.C.F. parties in the Commons.

The Progressive Conservative member for Lake Centre, Sask., declaring that "freedom needs an anchor" in a written bill of rights, reintroduced his perennial legislation on a day devoted to private members' bills.

It won backing from M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, David Croll (L — Toronto Spadina) — who has a similar motion of his own on the agenda — and Alistair Stewart (CCF — Winnipeg North).

Opposition to the bill came from Lionel Bertrand (L—Terrebonne) at the night session.

Later, the debate was adjourned to allow Justice Minister Garson not in the House tonight, to speak on the motion.

The Commons voted 86 to 28 on the adjournment issue, moved by Citizenship Minister Harris.

The Liberals and Social Credit members sided against the Progressive Conservatives and C. C. F. members. P. E. Gagnon (Ind-Chicoutimi) voted with the majority.

Arguing that there can be no real freedom without guarantees of civil rights for the individual, Mr. Diefenbaker proposed that:

1. A standing committee of parliament be set up to "act as a watchdog" on freedom and on invasions of freedom in Canada.
2. The Federal Government send a reference to the Supreme Court.

Only Four Of 50 Aircraft Able To Operate

A freezing rainstorm felled a host of crack aircrews yesterday in their search for a Dakota aircraft that vanished on a 700-mile charter flight to Labrador Saturday.

The cream of rescue airmen; military and civilian, were ready for an all-out search but only four of 50 aircraft were able to take off because of the hazardous storm over the search area.

Three passengers and two crew members were aboard the twin-engine Maritime Central Airways transport that was last spotted on a radar screen—near Chatham, N.B., on its hop from Saint John to Goose Bay.

Names of Passengers
Fraser Brace Contractors Limited today released the names of the passengers. They are: James A. Robb, 51, Westmount, Que., camp manager; David Hebert, Rexton, N.B.; and B. A. Kaminiski, mechanic, recently arrived German immigrant.

At the controls was Capt. John McClatchie of Charlottetown, veteran of Northern Ontario bush flying, and J. E. Boudreau of Moncton was his assistant.

Continuing bad weather kept all but two search planes grounded last night and those reported no success.

Weather conditions today were not expected to be good over the search area but the Air Force said all possible planes would be in the air.

Taking part in the operation, which began Sunday when 28,000 square miles were criss-crossed, were planes of the United States Air Force, Navy and Coast Guard from Newfoundland bases.

At least 10 bases are involved in the search, described as the biggest in Maritime history. Pararescue and ground search parties were ready to go into action if needed.

Some 10 M.C.A. and Trans-Canada Air Lines planes were standing by for improved weather. The disappearance marked the first time in M.C.A.'s 11-year history that one of its craft has been missing.

Manitoba Budget Sets New Record

WINNIPEG, March 24 — (CP) — A budget for record expenditures on ordinary account of $49,099,000 in the coming fiscal year and a surplus of about $500,000 was presented tonight in the Manitoba Legislature by Provincial Treasurer Ron D. Turner.

Ordinary revenue was estimated at $49,599,000. It included no tax changes.

The previous record was this year's revised estimated expenditure of $42,777,000, revenue of $48,135,000 and surplus of $1,757,537.

After provision of $3,600,000 for flood control on the Red River and emergency flood relief, there is no appropriation this year for this item.

In his first budget address, Mr. Turner also outlined capital expenditures totalling $22,469,000. Of this total, $19,200,000 was earmarked for the Manitoba Power Commission, the Manitoba Telephone System and completion of the Pine Falls hydro-electric plant.

Top Transport Union Officer Is Expelled

OTTAWA, March 24 — (CP) — A top officer of Canada's biggest transport union was expelled from the union today and the expulsion promised to have wider repercussions in Canadian Congress of Labor quarters.

Thrown out of the 28,000-member Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.R.E.) was James E. McGuire of Ottawa, 64-year-old secretary-treasurer and second-ranking officer, at the climax to a feud with a 71-year-old president A. R. Mosher.

Mr. McGuire's expulsion by the union's executive board, on insubordination charges laid by the veteran president, was expected to stir up more scraps both at the C.R.E.'s convention here in September and at the C.C.L.'s Toronto convention immediately after.

Mr. Mosher is president of the C.C.L. Mr. McGuire is a member of its national executive. The two almost certainly will continue their battle before the 350,000-member congress convention, unless the issue has been patched up meantime.

One reason for the breach between the two has been president Mosher's retention of his C.R.E. office six years beyond the age when the union customarily pensions off its officers. The younger secretary-treasurer was in line for the presidency.

The dissension sharpened in the last few months following the September convention of the C.C.L., where C. H. Millard, Canadian chief of the big United Steel Workers of America, pulled a voting coup in which he managed to overcome the wishes of a majority of the C.C.L. executive in a general election. Subsequently, the C.C.L. and U.S.W.A. presidents were reported to have come to a working agreement.

In the face of that unity, the C.R.E.'s official journal—edited by Mr. McGuire—cut loose with an editorial blast at Millard in its February issue. Mr. Mosher promptly disavowed the editorial and laid a series of charges against his union's secretary-treasurer.

The C.R.E.'s executive board announced today it had found Mr. McGuire guilty of the charges including circulation of false and misleading information, "vilification" of Mr. Mosher, "disregarding constitutional authority without proper approval," and "general disregard for supervisory authority."

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 24 — (CP) — Cape Race radio reported tonight that the Norwegian freighter Sonnarvind lost her rudder in mid-Atlantic and the United States Coast Guard cutter Barataria is speeding to her aid. It is not known whether the freighter is in any immediate danger.

Superintendent Of Schools For City Schools Appointed

Dr. R. G. Lea chairman of the Board of School Trustees of Charlottetown, yesterday announced the appointment of Mr. K. A. Parker, Headmaster of Mt. Allison Academy of Sackville, to be Superintendent of Schools for Charlottetown.

The necessity for such an appointment Dr. Lea explained, has become increasingly apparent during recent years due to the growth of school population, and the resultant demands of administrative detail upon the School Trustees and the principals of the four city schools. The office of Superintendent has been created to take over much of this work and to act as an advisor to the Board on educational matters.

The recent survey of educational facilities and needs of Charlottetown, conducted at the request of the Board, by Professor J. C. Matthews of Penn Teachers' College, Cleveland, Ohio, pointed out this deficiency in the local set-up, and in an interim report to the Board, made such an appointment the first recommendation.

15,000 In Demonstration Against Malan Gov't In Heart Of Pretoria

PRETORIA, South Africa, Mar. 24 — (AP) — Fifteen thousand opponents of Prime Minister Daniel Malan staged a tumultuous demonstration tonight in the heart of Pretoria, South Africa's legislative capital.

Time and again government supporters using stench bombs tried to storm the central platform where anti-government spokesmen were holding forth. Police restored order after an hour.

Cause of the rioting appeared to be the racial segregation policies of the Malan Government which recently received a sharp setback in the country's highest court. Anti-government spokesmen scored Malan and his followers for their proposals to counter the court ruling.

The court of appeals last week declared unconstitutional a law passed a year ago cutting to the bone the voting rights of 1,000,000 mulattoes in Cape Province. The demonstrators shouted angrily that the government is trying to overrule the court after it had held that Malan and his supporters were trying to lamper with the constitution without having a two-thirds majority in parliament.

The anti-government speakers were interrupted repeatedly when fist fights broke out in the crowd. It was the biggest mass demonstration ever witnessed in Pretoria.

OTTAWA, March 24 — (Special) — A large delegation of Prince Edward Islanders registered this morning for the annual meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada in progress from today until Wednesday in the Chateau Laurier Hotel here.

Many of the delegates were greeted by W. Chester S. McLure, Progressive Conservative member for Queens and Mrs. McLure and also by J. Angus MacLean, junior member for Annapolis.

Largest group from P.E.I. to attend the national meeting of the party was that from Prince County, headed by Brig. J.H. (Jack) Price, candidate in Prince at the 1949 general election. Representation of women from Prince was the highest on record.

Brig. Price, B. Roy Holman, former Mayor of Charlottetown, and other delegates called on Mr. McLure at his centre block office today and discussed organization and strategy. Mr. Holman who has served on the national executive said that while he was living in Toronto at present, he never considers himself anything but a P.E. Islander.

Several members of the Island delegation took part this afternoon in deliberations of the key resolutions committee of the national organization. George Nowlan, Progressive Conservative member for Annapolis-Kings is national President.

Plan Revival Of Wartime Meat Board

OTTAWA, March 24 — (CP) — The Federal Government may soon take direct control over all surplus meat in Canada, it was learned today.

Concerned over a mounting surplus, federal officials have a plan in the making to revive the wartime government meat board with power to buy up all surplus meat and dispose of it as best it can.

The loss, if any, will be borne by the Federal Treasury and the Canadian taxpayer. But it may lead to the restoration of the free movement of livestock and meats between provinces.

Informants here believe various provincial restrictions are aimed not so much to prevent the possible spread of foot-and-mouth disease from South Saskatchewan as to block movements of surplus meat into local markets with disastrous effect on prices and local industry.

A decision to revive the board may be made within a week. With it may possibly come an extension of the government's price support from pork to beef and lamb. There still is no indication just where the floor prices will be fixed.

Pork Program Widened
Meanwhile, Federal officials disclosed that the government's initial price-support program for pork has been widened to cover canned pork and the floor on this product has been set at about 63.8 cents a pound.

This is equivalent to the government's floor of 26¢ a hundred-pound live hog. The move to support canned pork was taken because United States embargoes on Canadian livestock and meats imposed after the foot-and-mouth outbreak was announced, do not include canned meat.

The move also was taken because the growing stockpile of pork was taking up about all the storage space available in Canada and the country was facing a critical storage shortage. Most canned products do not require cold-storage.

But whether Canada will be able to dispose of the canned product in the U. S. and other countries is another question. At the moment, the price for canned pork in the U. S. is lower than the Canadian price.

OTTAWA, March 24 — (CP) — Trans-Canada Air Lines today reported it made $3,890,937 in 1951, the best year in its 10-year history, and announced plans to increase the air fleet flying its 17,000-mile system.

The annual report of the government-owned airline, tabled in the Commons by Trade Minister Howe, showed passenger traffic up 20 per cent over 1950, air cargo and air express up 13 per cent and mail by 11 per cent.

For the first time it made a profit—$47,231—on overseas service. This compared with a deficit of $1,325,412 on Atlantic services in 1950.

T. C. A. president G. R. McGreggor said more business is expected this year, And because 1951

Joint Program Announced By Resources Minister Winters

OTTAWA, March 24 — (Special) — An agreement has been signed by the Government of Canada and the Government of Prince Edward Island from 1951-52 to 1955-56 for a joint program of reforestation of waste land in the Province.

This was revealed in the House of Commons this afternoon by Resources and Development Minister Winters in reply to a question asked by T. J. Kickham, Liberal Member for Kings.

Under the terms of the agreement, Mr. Winters said, the Federal Government will pay not more than $7,500 per year in the reforestation program for 1951-52 and 1952-53. Annual amount to be paid in subsequent years, he said, is subject to negotiation.

Mr. Winters did not specify the areas where the reforestation program will be carried out nor what species will be planted on the non-agricultural lands.

It is understood that these and other details will be decided upon by Provincial authorities in consultation with technical experts of the forestry branch of Mr. Winters' Department of Resources and Development.

Mr. Kickham's question and the Minister's reply proved of unusual interest to the House in view of the increasing interest in all Provinces in forest conservation and reforestation. While Dominion-Provincial co-operation in tree-planting has won widespread approval even in the timber-rich Province of British Columbia, many lumbermen and pulp and paper executives claim the Federal Department is not doing enough to meet depletion of the country's wealth in timber and pulpwood.

Progress of the Prince Edward Island reforestation plan will be watched closely by other Provinces.
