Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

Did You Get Married to Insure Yourself a Meal Ticket or to be a Real Help to Your Husband and Are You Doing Your Share to Make Your Marriage a Success?

Dear Dorothy Dix—Why is it that so many married women are such poor sports—such out-and-out gold-diggers—such lazy lumps? Fully half of those in my neighborhood are just spoiled brats.

Answer: No doubt a lot of them do. No one can deny that there are plenty of lazy, trifling wives who take all and give nothing.

Among the unsmiling heroes of the depression have been those women who have gone out and got jobs when their husbands couldn't.

I am sorry for any man who is unlucky enough to draw a wife who is a slacker in the matrimonial lottery.

In the first place, the husband has the whip hand because he handles the money. If a husband had the backbone to stand up and tell his wife from their marriage day that she would have to earn her board and keep she would do it.

Any man who lets an able-bodied wife sleep in the morning while he gets up and gets his own breakfast, or who stands for being fed out of paper bags and tin cans, has only himself to blame.

Nor need any man let his wife ruin him with her extravagance or nag the life out of him or henpeck him until he is afraid to call his own his unless he is too weak and cowardly just to stand up and fight her and assert his independence.

But it is also human to know when we are licked and to recognize authority and to respect those who make us behave ourselves.

Virtually every girl who marries loves her husband and wants to make him a good wife. When she fails to do so he is just as much to blame as she is.

Dear Miss Dix—I am an attractive girl and very domestic. I can sew, cook, wash and iron and do everything about a house.

Of course they do, but the trouble is that men think that a knowledge of how to cook and run a budget comes by nature and that every girl is born knowing how to make pies like Mother makes.

Join the navy and by the time you come back you won't care whether your girl is gone or not.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a boy of 17, crazy for voyages and adventure, and I am going to join the navy.

Modern Etiquette (By ROBERTA LEE). Q. Has a host the privilege of telling his guests when to stop drinking?

A. No; but he should know the habits of his guests before inviting one who is so weak in his habits that he is liable to lose all self-control, as well as self-respect.

Q. What does it indicate when a hostess invites some guests to dine informally and then has a large and elaborate dinner?

A. It indicates that the hostess needs training in the rules of etiquette.

Q. When a girl stenographer is being introduced to a man in the office, should she rise?

A. No; it is not required.

Reptilian Idyll

"But, your worship," said the man in the dock, "I was not drunk."

"Because, your worship, a couple of crocodiles had been following me down the street, and I thought the lamp-post would be the safest place for me."

Macpherson's Money's Worth

Macpherson and his wife were out motoring when their car broke down and it had to be towed to a garage.

"It's scandalous!" she said. "Three pounds for towing the car a matter of three or four miles."

"Never mind," said Macpherson. "I'm making sure that he earns it—I've put the brakes on."

The Housewife And Her Activities

A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY

I cannot sweep the corners of the earth, And keep them clean. I only have a little house to scrub, Where willows lean.

The tumult and disorder of the world Strike at my stirring, A brew that heats I have no art.

But if I keep my own hearth free from blight, My small world sure, There is one altar in the universe That will endure.

The steel industry consumes 8000 grams of platinum in an average year; the platinum is put to 10 different uses in the industry's chemical laboratories.
