Market Square

(Continued From Page 1) A resolution was passed asking that Lieutenant Governor-in-Council be requested to appoint or advise the City Council of the appointment of a chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Public Library so that recently urgent business may be forwarded. Councillors Baker and Boyles were absent from the meeting which was presided over by Mayor Johnstone. SUGGESTS REPLACEMENT — Coun. Hyndman in reporting for the Market Committee noted the loss of the building by fire and suggested that the City investigate the possibility of having the building replaced in the form of a civic auditorium, art centre and museum. Coun. Gaudet said that with the state of the City's finance, it was unthinkable to speak of replacing the building. Coun. Foster said he understood that a citizens committee composed of representatives from the Drama Festival, the Art Society and the Historical Society were making investigations as to the possibility of having a building erected in commemoration of the occasion of Confederation. A letter from the Art Society indicated that they would like to see such a building erected and suggested that considerable Federal aid might be forthcoming under such circumstances. USED FOR CAIRN — A small portion of the stone in the Market Building has been given to the Experimental Farm for the purpose of erecting a cairn commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Farm. Coun. Foster said that, clear of these stones, all the other masonry had been buried in the ruins. Coun. Haslam said he had received many inquiries regarding a public rest room in the centre of the City since the Market Building had been destroyed. Coun. Gaudet speaking for the publicity committee wanted to know what publicity the Council intended to give regarding the coming plebiscite on retaining or ousting the Water Commission. He said the matter had been raised by the Council and the plebiscite was being held at public expense and the citizens had a right to know what objections the Council had in this matter. MUST GIVE REASONS — Coun. Foster agreed, stating "We have done a poor job of selling the idea to the public". Mayor Johnstone said it was incumbent upon the Council to set forth the reasons why Council requested the change. Coun. Gormley felt there was not enough co-operation between the City and the Water Commissioners. If there was dissatisfaction on the part of the Council in regard to work not being carried out by the Commission, why not have the commissioners attend a Council meeting where he felt many of the differences could be ironed out. It was decided by resolution to have a committee draft an advertisement setting forth the reasons. AD TOO LATE — In reply to a question from Mayor Johnstone as to why the notice of the Council meeting had not appeared in the Press, Coun Gaudet said he took the ad to the paper on Saturday morning at 9:00 o'clock but he was told he could not have it appear in Monday's paper. "I understand it is a rule they

Island Men Receive Commendation From C.N.R.

The commendation of the management of the Canadian National Railways has been extended to two Newton Cross men whose prompt action prevented fire loss to the C.N.R. facilities at Grandview. Michael Naddy and Walter Morrissey have both received letters of appreciation and clean". It was agreed that Councillors would accept the responsibility of speaking to the school children regarding the matter of keeping the city clean and the urgency of a regard for public property in general. Angle parking along the north side of the Federal Building does not meet with the approval of some of the Councillors. Gaudet and Foster said it was difficult to move along this street where they noted that cars and trucks were seen frequently unloading in front of the Co-op. Mayor Johnstone asked Police Chief MacArthur whether he was aware of the fact that this congestion was taking place on Richmond Street. 540 TICKETS — The Chief said he had put out 540 tickets clear of meter violations. He also reported that he had been the subject of severe castigation over the air by a store manager in that area. Coun. Gaudet suggested that the firm in question be written a letter explaining that this was no whim of the Chief of Police but that it was a by-law of the City in which no parking was allowed on the north side of the street in that area. Coun. O'Neill said he had received many complaints from people on Fitzroy Street regarding the angle parking between Queen and Great George. Coun. Gormley said this matter was under consideration by the Police Committee.

Climax Service Held Last Night

A capacity audience attended the Charlottetown Bible Chapel last night in the climax meeting of the current evangelistic campaign. Mr. Perry F. Rockwood, evangelist from Hubbards, Nova Scotia brought a stirring message using as his text Romans 3:23 "For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." Miss Beryl Grant played the Harmonium Organ accompanying Miss Stella Jarema and Joseph Wooton as they sang "Down from His Glory!" Miss Jarema also sang a solo entitled "Crucified". The team along with Mr. Joseph Wooton then moved to the Queen Charlotte High School Auditorium where Mr. Rockwood again spoke to an audience of 500 people.

WINS SEPARATION

LONDON (AP)—Mrs. Anna Lee Iva Schlesinger, wife of one of the world's richest men, won a decree of judicial separation Monday after accusing her husband of adultery with four women. Her husband, John Samuel Schlesinger, 35, is chairman of a South African corporation and is reported to have inherited an empire worth 50,000,000 from his father.

WHY NOT OLD SAFE

Mayor Johnstone said it was his understanding that the vault had been built for the purpose of protecting the city records from fire. He had never heard that the old safe was in poor working order. He wondered why the old safe should not be used outside the vault as it had been previously. City Clerk Fullerton said that some repairs to the hinges and the combination would have to be made. Coun. Gaudet said that no integral plan of waterworks and sewerage had been received from Mr. Crandall who had agreed to supply such a plan in his survey contract. He said nothing could be proceeded with in connection with Ward six until this plan had been received. The City Clerk was instructed to notify Mr. Crandall that this plan was required by the City immediately. PRAISES JR. BOARD Mayor Johnstone praised the efforts of the Junior Board of Trade during job up week. "They did a good job but there is room for plenty of improvement yet", said His Worship, "we must find some way to impress citizens with the importance of keeping our City

(Continued on page 5 Col. 1) between Ottawa - Hull Canadiens and Regina Pats. "We'll certainly have to tap the trust fund this year," a highly-placed CAHA official said in an interview. "The Allan and Memorial Cup playoffs might net us only $10,000 or so." The CAHA has other sources of revenue, maybe another $8,000 or $9,000, from sale of yearbooks, radio and television fees, payment from its various branches, $50-a-player fees for reinstating pros and inter-branch transfers at $25 a player. Its largest income, $31,000 from the professional leagues, isn't applied to current expenses—if it funnelled directly into minor hockey.

TO TACKLE PROBLEM

This financial problem must be faced by delegates when the 44-year-old association's five-day annual meeting opens in Toronto on Saturday. "We've been cutting our budget for years, but people just aren't going to watch the cup playoffs and after we pay team and other expenses, our 10-per-cent cut is pretty thin," the official said. Various theories have been advanced to account for the dwindling attendance figures. Here are some: Hockey fans are too interested in the Stanley Cup in April to bother about junior and senior teams engaged in provincial championship games. The Canadian finals, at one time completed in April, now extend into May when baseball is hogging sports interest. "Probably the main reason is that the one-time fierce East-West competition is gone. Consider this: The West won the Memorial Cup 14 times against the east's 13 from 1919 to 1945. In the last 13 years, Eastern teams hold a wide 10-3 edge. CUP RELEGATED — The CAHA itself killed off Allan Cup interest in 1951 by adopting the late-lamented Alexander Trophy for hand-picked senior A teams, relegating the 50-year-old Allan Cup to senior B or intermediate status. The Alexander Trophy competition started off with clubs from Western Canada, Ontario, Quebec and Maritimes, was reduced to Quebec and Maritimes teams in 1952 and the Maritimes alone in 1953 and 1954 when it faded from the hockey picture. Before tears are shed for the CAHA, it should be pointed out that it still is the richest "amateur" sports organization in the country, but only through the foresight of secretary-manager George Dudley, a Midland, Ont. lawyer. In 1937 he thought of the idea of the trust fund. Through regular deposits, it got up to $100,000 a few years ago and it was used first in 1956 when $17,000 was taken out to send Kitcheener-Waterloo Dutchmen to the Winter Olympics in Italy. "People pan us for not putting up money to send teams to the world tournaments," Dudley says. "I wish they'd tell us where to get it." That's a good question.

Music Festival

benefit is lost by some festivals which concentrate on quality rather than quantity," he said. "Striving for high standards sometimes destroys the spirit of a festival," he added. "Music Festivals are the last bulwark of individuals interested in musical performance," Dr. Bell remarked. "The rapid expansion of mechanical media seems to be developing a new race of humans—half man and half chesterfield," he added. REAL VALUE — "The real value of a festival is not the winning, but the participation," he said. "Adjudicators were engaged not to 'find fault' but to appraise 'relative excellence'." Dr. Peaker told the opening night audience. "If the Summerside performance which he had attended yesterday was any guide this year's festival would 'rock the Cradle of Confederation' before the week was out, he observed. Three junior church choirs competed in Class 6, Junior Girl's Church Choir. The test piece was "Non Nobis Domine" by Quilter. The intonation of all choirs was excellent, Dr. Peaker said.

London Starts Second Week Without Buses

LONDON (Reuters) — Strike-hit London Monday started its second week without buses, faced a mid-week meat shortage and watched as urgent government meetings were held to try to head off a national rail stoppage. A Sunday midnight strike by some 6,000 meat workers left London's main wholesale market, Smithfield, as "bare as Mother Hubbard's cupboard" and was expected to hit butcher shops by Wednesday or Thursday. The strikers went out to back a demand for a 15-per-cent wage increase, a call made when the speed limits for heavy trucks was raised to 30 miles an hour from 20. Present basic wage is £10 5s a week. Employers at Smithfield and other markets answered the walk-out by telling the market men they were dismissed. London's busmen sought backing from gasoline truck drivers and subway workers for their strike for higher wages. Bus drivers earn £9 13s 6d a week. Government and rail union met separately in preparation for a meeting today between leaders of three rail unions totalling more than 450,000 men and Labor Minister Iain Macleod. Prime Minister Macmillan Monday night called a special cabinet meeting to discuss the threatened rail strike, which also would close the London subways, now carrying more passengers than ever because of the bus strike. The rail unions want an immediate increase of three per cent. Meanwhile, British Overseas Airways Corporation planes were delayed at London Airport Monday by a continuing overtime ban by maintenance crews. The men are protesting against the threatened dismissal of 3,000 BOAC staff over the next two years. In Birmingham, some 2,000 Austin auto workers still were idle Monday through a continuing strike at a plant supplying car bodies.

DIFFICULT DECISION

Dr. Bell said it was "very difficult" to place the two choirs that competed in Class 3. City Church Choirs, (mixed-voices, four part). Both gave "very refined, sensitive, performances," he said. "The mood was just as required, and the sound was delicious — lovely," he added. "Though 'chorally' the Trinity United Choir was superior, the adjudicators had deemed that St. James Presbyterian should be placed first because they had given a better 'interpretation' of the Mozart hymn, 'Jesus Word of God Incarnate.'" The first choir was awarded 85 marks and the second 84. OTHER CLASSES — Other classes adjudicated last night resulted as follows: Class 211, Brass and Reed Band-Open, own selection—1. St. Dunstan's University Band, 80. Class 149, School Chorus in French (unison): 1. Prince of Wales College Normal School, 84; 2. Parkdale School, 83; 3. Brackley School, 82. Class 23, Women's Chorus, Open, Four-Part "Bonnie Doon"—1. Charlottetown Choral, 85. Mr. Bennett presided during the entire evening, while Mr. Leonard Macdonald acted as platform secretary during the class adjudications. Mrs. (Dr.) G.G. Houston presented the awards.
