1 ♠ Pass Pass Pass
2 ♠ Pass Pass Pass
3 ♠ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead—king of hearts.

Few people at first realized just how little Sylvia knew when she started to play with the experts at the club. Of course, it didn't take the boys too long to discover there were vast areas of ignorance in Sylvia's comprehension of the game, nor did it take them over long to take advantage of her shortcomings.

They say all is fair in love and war, but I always nurtured some reservations about the property of some of the players at the club who steadily bid psychics against Sylvia.

She had such a great natural talent for doing the wrong thing at the right time, it seemed to me the boys would have been just as well off to let nature take its course rather than make things even tougher for her.

Yet there were times when their tactics boomeranged against the perpetrators of these foul deeds. Perhaps her first great triumph occurred one day, shortly after she joined the club, when Sylvia (East) cut against a couple of the more larcenous members of the gang.

South opened with a perfectly normal spade bid and West, of course, doubled. North, who could smell a psychic a mile away, naturally assumed South was throwing a curve, so he passed to await developments.

Sylvia, who didn't know an infomatory double from a wiener schmitzel, thought her hand was too weak to bid, and therefore passed.

South now decided the spades were banked against him, and fearing one spade doubled, ran to two diamonds.

West passed, and North, after first congratulating himself on his acumen in having previously diagnosed the spade bid as a psychic—apparently confirmed now by the runoff to two diamonds—also passed. Sylvia closed the bidding with a pass.

You never heard such goings-on as took place when North put down the dummy and South saw he was spread for six spades—and he was playing two diamonds.

Sylvia never did quite understand why South squawked so loudly, since the contract was made with two overtricks.

Some Travels Of Stolen Bonds Are Recounted

MONTREAL (CP) — The travels of some bonds stolen in Montreal three months ago were recounted Monday by Police Sergeant Leo Plouffe on his return from Europe.

Sgt. Plouffe, police lab specialist, said in a preliminary report a man who attempted to cash some of the bonds in Zurich, Switzerland, had told police he got them as payment for gambling debts in a Havana, Cuba, casino.

The securities were taken in the $1,800,000 burglary of the banking subsidiary of the Societe Nationale de Fiducie, a trust company.

The man who tried to cash them in Zurich identified himself only as "Mr. Graziani" of New York and Marselles, Sgt. Plouffe said. The Swiss bank telephoned a Canadian-owned finance house for quotations on the bonds and was told they were stolen.

The man was arrested and is being held in Zurich.

ACTION IN MONTREAL

Investigation continued to centre in Montreal, however, where Jean Paul Emile Pelletier, 50, was arraigned Saturday on two counts of possessing some of the stolen bonds and of theft involving others.

Pelletier was arrested in Quebec City after he allegedly tried to cash some of the bonds.

Earlier, police raided an apartment in an exclusive north-end district and recovered $72,000 worth of the bonds and $1,500,000 worth of pure heroin.

The bonds stolen were bearer bonds, which do not require the signature of the owner to be cashed. However serial numbers of the bonds are known.

Blames Tariffs For Textile Ills

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — Gerald Bruck, textile manufacturer, Monday blamed Canada's tariff structure for what he called the "desperate condition" of the Canadian textile industry.

Mr. Bruck, president of the Silk and Rayon Institute, told a meeting of the Kingston and District Textile Technical Association that dumping of surplus United States and Japanese textiles on the Canadian market undercut Canadian-made products.

Such dumping caused shut-downs and layoffs in many Quebec and Ontario mills.

Canada's customs regulations and tariff structures were "outmoded and unrealistic."

Canadian mills which used to supply 72 per cent of the Canadian demand now supply barely 51 per cent, he said.

BARD OF SCOTLAND

Robert Burns, the Scottish poet, was only 37 years old at his death in 1796.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
I S L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
