Now persons employed in every walk of life are making application for a Social Insurance Number!

Your government is issuing Social Insurance Number Cards in place of the unemployment insurance numbers that most employed people have had until now. The new numbers will help government to use modern office methods for greater efficiency in handling unemployment insurance, and also other social benefits such as proposed pension plans. For these reasons, you are invited to apply for a Social Insurance Number, even if you are not a contributor to the unemployment insurance plan. Here's what you do: IF YOU ARE AN EMPLOYEE: Your employer will give you an application form for a Social Insurance Number. You can help most by completing it promptly and accurately and returning the form to your employer. He will send it to the nearest office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission. IF YOU ARE UNEMPLOYED: If you are receiving unemployment insurance benefit you will complete an application form for a Social Insurance Number when you report to the U.I.C. in person or by mail. IF YOU ARE AN EMPLOYER: If you are an employer registered with the Unemployment Insurance Commission—you will automatically receive application forms. You are asked to distribute them to your employees, have them completed and signed by each employee and returned promptly together, not individually, to the local office of the Commission. If you are an employer who is not registered with the Unemployment Insurance Commission—please get in touch with your local Unemployment Insurance Commission office and inform them how many employees you have. The Unemployment Insurance Commission office will then send you application forms for each of your employees to complete. When all forms have been completed, you will return them to the Unemployment Insurance Commission. Your employees' Social Insurance Number Cards will be sent to you for distribution to them. Your government asks for your co-operation in introducing the new numbers as quickly as possible. Apply for your SOCIAL INSURANCE NUMBER NOW.

Two Million Tax Returns Still To File

By DON HANRIGHT OTTAWA (CP)—With seven days to deadline, some 2,000,000 of the estimated 6,000,000 Canadians who must file income tax returns still had not done so up to Thursday. This, despite the revenue department's new "file now, pay later" plan under which those owing the government money could postpone cheques up to April 30, the last day before late-filing penalties are imposed. Department officials said it thus appeared that in its first year, at least, the new initiative campaign had not succeeded as much as they had hoped in overcoming the individual's natural tendency to wait until the last minute to pay debts. They look for better results next year. Now they are preparing for a flood of mail on deadline day last year, the post office dumped 500 bags of mail containing roughly 500,000 income tax returns into the revenue department's data-processing centres here. Legally, all returns must be in the mail and postmarked before midnight next Thursday, April 30. If not, the taxpayer is automatically charged a penalty of five per cent of the unpaid tax plus interest at the rate of six per cent a year. The department expects that only about 60,000 Canadians will fail to beat April 30 deadline. ARMS TALKS RECESS GENEVA (AP) — The 17-nation Disarmament Conference decided Thursday to recess until June 9. The six-week recess will begin following a final meeting of the current session next Tuesday, April 28.
