Farm Slant Organization Finds Ottawa Going Rough

OTTAWA (CP) — A group calling itself the Association for the Development and Protection of Eastern Canadian Agriculture found rough going here in an appearance before the Commons agriculture committee.

"You don't represents the farmers — you represent the feed mills," said Edward Nasserden (PC—Rosthern).

Under close questioning, association Secretary Rene Blanchard said that about 10 per cent of the 165 members are farmers. Most are feed grain merchants, millers and dealers in Quebec.

Association President J. O. Levesque said the group wants farmers to prosper "so they can pay their bills." He estimated that feed mills would be unable to collect about 25 per cent of their accounts receivable.

SCOFFS AT MOTIVES

Charles - Arthur Gauthier (Creditiste—Roberval) remarked: "You represent the farmers in the same way a finance company protects its clients."

In a brief to the committee, the association opposed the proposal of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture for a "feed-grain bank" to purchase western grain and distribute it to eastern Canadian livestock producers. The brief said this was a demand "for a totalitarian system."

"One of the main characteristics of communism is the replacement of citizens by the distribution of goods." It said.

"Eastern grain merchants and feedmills are sick and tired of being slandered as speculators and profiteers by influence peddlers who aim at getting fat government jobs because they could not make a decent living in a competitive world."

The brief said the Canadian Federation of Agriculture represents only farm organizations promoting co-operative societies, and these represented only a small fraction of the Canadian livestock industry.

BATS FOR CFA

Eugene Whalen (L—Essex South) protested. He said the federation represents virtually every facet of agriculture.

Montreal grain merchant R. C. Bosco said he can't see how livestock feed would be cheaper through a feed grain bank. Most livestock producers used balance rations in which the price of western grain was of little importance. One of the main cost factors was the expensive feed supplements added to the grain, he said.

Harold Danforth (L—Kent, Ont.) suggested the feed mills apply "a very substantial mark-up" on the price of feed concentrates.

John R. Matheson (L—Leeds) said he joined the association two years ago believing it was an association for farmers. He suggested it was "a fair assumption" that the association and the firm of Bosco and Bower Limited of Montreal "are precisely and exactly the same."

Mr. Bosco said many other companies are members of the association.

TCA Blasted Sharply By Manitoba Group

OTTAWA (CP)—Trans-Canada Air Lines came under stinging attack here when a powerful Manitoba delegation caucused the Crown-owned airline of hindering regional industrial growth, frustrating federal economic policies and destroying a major Prairie industry.

In a new move aimed at not only keeping Winnipeg's present TCA overhaul base but also at expanding it to handle TCA's DC-9 jetliners after 1966, the Manitoba delegation demanded a full public inquiry into the history of TCA's withdrawal from Winnipeg.

Appealing for a federal order to TCA to expand its Winnipeg overhaul facilities, Manitoba Premier Duff Roblin said removal of the TCA base would "rip the heart out of the pool of skills" on which Manitoba relied for its future industrial growth.

Prime Minister Pearson said the federal government has already promised to keep the TCA base in Winnipeg at least until 1973. He also agreed to consider the possibility of opening a public inquiry into the matter—if there was a chance it would produce a solution to the problem.

Members of the delegation told the prime minister that his assurance did not allay their fears and anxieties for future jobs at the base or the future of Manitoba's aircraft overhaul industry.

At the end of the three-hour conference, Premier Roblin said a "meeting of minds" had not been achieved.

Later, in the Commons, when Stanley Knowles, New Democratic MP for Winnipeg North Centre, repeated the premier's words and spoke of "The dismay we all feel," Mr. Pearson said he didn't think there was a failure to reach a meeting of minds or any cause for dismay.

Replying to Opposition Leader Diefenbaker, who endorsed Mr. Roblin's request for a public inquiry, the prime minister said he will discuss with the premier the possibility of such action and whether it should be federal, provincial or a joint one.

MEN BEWARE OF PERFUME

MONTREAL (CP) — Husbands beware!

The Montreal Better Business Bureau says phoney perfumes have created a stench in the Christmas-rush atmosphere in Montreal.

"It's easy for a man to get clipped buying bargain perfumes for wife, mother or sweetheart," says the bureau's bulletin.

"Some are really toilet water or cologne rebottled in fancy purse-sized containers that give them an air of high-price elegance. Some are marked only with initials—A, C, WS or T—and the sales girl may claim this means arpege, chanel, white shoulders or tabu. It doesn't."

Unordered Christmas cards shipped to people through the mail is another racket cropping up again this year, says the bureau.

The bulletin suggests the following note sent to the shipper of the unordered goods will remove your name from their mailing lists:

"Your unordered merchandise has been received. Please remit $50 for storage of same."

Tea Tariff Eliminated

OTTAWA (CP)—A bill to eliminate tariffs on tea has passed through all stages in the Commons.

Effective Jan. 1, all tea entering Canada will be duty-free. Previously, Commonwealth tea came in duty-free but tariffs of two cents and eight cents a pound respectively applied in the most-favored nation and general categories.

The change will mean the loss of $30,000 in tariff revenue annually, said E. J. Benson, parliamentary secretary to Finance Minister Gordon.

The price of tea is not expected to be affected materially, since most tea imports come from Ceylon and India, which have been duty-free for some time. The change conforms to a recommendation by the member countries of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Main beneficiaries of the tariff cut will be Japan and Indonesia.

ASK TO OPEN CNE

TORONTO (CP)—The Queen Mother has been invited to open next summer's Canadian National Exhibition. The CNE said Wednesday it has sent an official invitation to her and no complications are expected. This would be the third visit to Toronto by the 63-year-old Queen Mother, who has referred to Toronto as "one of my favorite cities."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Opening lead—queen of clubs.

Let's say you're declarer at four spades and West opens the queen of clubs and continues with the jack, which you ruff.

It is not entirely clear how you should play the hand, but it can hardly be right to draw trumps before attempting to ruff a heart or two in dummy. So you cash the A-K of hearts and play another heart, West following with the nine.

You don't know at this point whether the hearts are divided 3-3 or 4-2, and you have to make a decision that will cover both possibilities.

There is not much point to assuming that the hearts are divided 3-3, because you will almost surely make the contract if that is the case. So what you do, in effect, is to tentatively assume a 4-2 division.

It is dangerous to ruff with the nine of spades because, if East is out of hearts and can overruff with the ten, you are practically sure to go down. So rather than put all your eggs in this one basket, you discard a diamond from dummy.

West continues with the ten of clubs, which you ruff, and now you lead the fourth round of hearts. West plays the queen and again you refuse to ruff, discarding another diamond from dummy.

By now you have lost three tricks— a club and two hearts—but that is the end of the line for the defense. Regardless of what West returns, you can safely ruff a diamond in dummy and then make the rest of the tricks after drawing trumps.

What you do, in effect, is exchange the two unsafe heart ruffs in dummy for a safe diamond ruff in dummy. While doing this you cater not only to the possible 3-3 heart break, but also to the 4-2 division as well. At the same time you are also adopting the method of play that offers the best chance to succeed.
