A MARRIED MAN'S SOLILOQUY.—I am sitting by the fireside to-night, not sitting; there is one young one on my knee, three on the floor, and two on the settle.

A SHREW D INISHMAN.—An Irish priest was standing at the corner of a square about the hour of dinner, when one of his countrymen, observing the worthy father in perplexity, thus addressed him.

Oh, father O'Leary how is your riverence. Mightily put out, Pat, was the reply. Put out! who would put out your riverence?

Ab, you don't understand; that is just it; I am invited to dine at one of the houses in this square, and I've forgotten the name, and I never looked at the number, and now its nearly one o'clock.

O, is that all was the cry, just now be aisy your riverence I'll settle that for you.

So saying, away flew the good-natured Irishman round the square, glancing at the kitchens, and when he discovered a fire that denoted hospitality he thundered at the door and enquired:— Is Father O'Leary here?

As might be expected, again and again he was repulsed. At length an angry footman exclaimed,

No, both on Father O'Leary, he is not here; but he was to dine here to-day and the cook is in a rage, and says the dinner will be spoilt. All is waiting for Father O'Leary.

Paddy leaping from the door as if the steps were on fire, rushed up to the astonished priest, saying:—

All is right your riverence; you dine at 43, and a mighty good dinner you'll get.

O, Pat said the grateful pastor, the blessings of a hungry man be upon you Long life and happiness to your riverence! I have got your malady, I only wish I had your cure.

GENIUS.—"Mary where's the frying-pan?" "Jemmy's got it, carting mud up the court with the cat for a horse."

"The dear little fellow what a genius he will make; but go and get it, we're going to have company, and must fry some fish for dinner.

A young lady possessing more vanity than personal charms, remarked in a jesting tone, but with an earnest glance that 'she travelled on her good looks.' A rejected lover being present remarked he "could never account for the young lady's never having been found far from home."

"* of my existence, give me an—" said a young printer to his sweetheart.

She made a — at him, and planted her — between his two —

"Such an outrage said a host, looking †† at her "is without a—"

Why is Athens like a worn out shoe?—Because it once had a Sol—on.

"The greatest organ in the world" some wicked old bachelor says, "is the organ of speech in a woman, for it is an organ without stops."

SAD INDEED.—When a joker dies what kind of a vehicle does he make.—A wag-gone.

Which can smell a rat the quickest the man who knows the most, or the one who has the most nose.

A TASTELESS FRUIT.—The apple of the eye.

WANTED TO KNOW.—If a flat refusal was ever given in a natural tone.

Men sometimes think they hate fatery, but they only hate the manner of it.

It is never more difficult to speak well than when we are ashamed of our silence.

Oaths are the weapons a coward wields the froth which tells the water's shallowness.

In choice of a wife take the obedient daughter of a good mother.

Ho will make the best use of his wealth who esteems his intellect as the best part of it.

Fast young men's motto.—Meet and drink.

A French Marquis was riding out one day, when he passed an old priest trotting along contentedly on a dog.

"Ha, ha! exclaimed the marquis "how goes the ass good father?" "On horseback, my son," replied the priest.

If you wish to fatten a thin baby, what should you do with it?—Throw it out of the window and it will come down plump.

Why is a minister like a locomotive? We have to look out for him when the bell rings.

A sharp lady was reproved by her husband, who requested her to keep her tongue in her mouth. My dear responded the wife, it is against the law to carry concealed weapons.

Agricultural.

GRIND THE TOOLS.—Keep the tools sharp or they will not cut. A dull tool wastes time, and he who permits it to work when in that condition, is a dull fellow. The best turners are those who have the sharpest tools; the most successful surgeons are those who use the keenest knives, and the most enterprising and energetic men in civil life are those whose wits have been early ground sharp, and whose perceptive faculties have been wetted by sore experience in early life.

BEST BREED FOR DAIRY COWS.—A writer in the American Agriculturist expresses his opinion, founded on considerable and careful experience, that the very best breed of cattle for dairy purposes, and one adapted for this climate, is a cross between the Ayrshire and the Alderney.

HORSES OVERREACHING.—REMEDY. A correspondent says: "Make the shoe its natural length or a trifle longer, with the toe calk of the forward shoe high and the heel calk low. The hoof will then stand further forward, and more removed from the stride of the hind foot, which, being shod with a low toe calk and high heel, will strike the ground before it reaches the fore foot.

SAVING SEED PEAS.—Peas for seed should always be picked as soon as they attain full size, before the pod begins to turn. Put them away in the pod to dry. Peas dried in this manner will bring peas the next season from ten days to two weeks earlier than if allowed to ripen on the stalk, and the same rule applies to beans, corn, and almost all garden vegetables, as I have proved by actual experience.—Rural American.

It is said that pulverized charcoal sprinkled on or about potato vines will prevent the bugs eating them. It certainly is an inexpensive remedy for a great evil. Another remedy, said to be exceedingly good, is as follows: Take equal parts of common salt and sulphur, mix them well together and sprinkle about a teaspoonful of the mixture on each vine.

In Brittany the milk of the previous evening is mixed with the morning's milk, and after standing a few hours the whole is churned, and is said to produce a large amount of butter, of a better quality, and that will keep longer, than that treated in the usual manner.

Two hours reading of a good newspaper is as profitable as six hours work out of twelve. The farmer and the produce dealer equally should understand the markets. Sometimes to know a thing is the same as to earn $100.

New Triumphs of Roger's Medicines.

Run your eye over them and tell your afflicted neighbor about it.

PARSONBOURGH, CUMBERLAND CO., June 22, 1863. MESSRS. ROGERS & Co.:

Gentlemen—I hereby certify that about twelve years ago, a small lump began to grow on my breast, and continued growing until 1859. It attained the size of a small hen's egg, and began to ulcerate, causing great pain, and reducing my body to a mere skeleton, rendering me altogether unable to do my work. I applied to the two resident doctors at Pugwash (where I then resided), both of whom recommended a surgical operation. Feeling reluctant to undergo the surgery of such an operation, I applied to a man who called himself an Herb Doctor. I used his plants until I became satisfied that they were of no use to me. I then applied to and procured some of your medicine to take inwardly. After a few months trial, I began to get better, and the ulcer on my breast commenced healing so fast that in seven months from the time I commenced using your Ointment and medicine, I was enabled to attend to my ordinary occupation; and now I am happy to say I am hearty and well. I have not hesitation in saying that, under God, I owe my present state of health to your treatment. If this simple statement will be of any service to you, you are at liberty to make it public, as every word of it can be vouched for by those who know how I suffered. I remain your much obliged servant, ANGUS MCGILVERY, Master Shipwright. WALLACE RIVER, Cumberland Co., May 20, 1863.

MESSRS ROGERS & Co I feel it a duty I owe to you, and to suffering humanity, to state that your medicine has affected a cure of a very severe case of Cancer in the breast of my wife. The cancer began to appear about five years ago, and continued to grow slowly, and during last January it began to grow very rapidly, with darting pains through it. We had recourse to your medicine, and in a few days pain subsided and it began to improve. This was about the first of last February and now I am happy to say that she is entirely cured. After using your medicine a few days the cancer ulcerated, and it continued to improve until it was cured. You ought certainly to make your medicine known to the public. W. I. ANGEVINE. Pugwash, June 8, 1863.

Messrs. Rogers & Co, Dear Sirs—I beg to inform you that your medicine has effected a complete cure of my Tumour or Cancer on my lip. It had existed about one year, and continued to grow worse continually, until I got your salve; which cured it in about six weeks.

I was also troubled with an ulcer on my ear which was occasioned by having my ear frozen about twenty years ago, and could never get any medicine to heal it. The doctors told me it never could be healed but your medicine cured the cancer so effectually that I was induced to try it on my ear, and it cured it in a very short time, and has since continued well. WILLIAM FRASER.
