Shareholders In Quebec Power Given Deadline For Takeover

GEN SHAREHOLDERS

QUEBEC (CP) — Shareholders in seven private power companies, facing take-over by the government-owned Quebec-Hydro, have been given a deadline for accepting hydro's purchase offer.

Premier Lesage told the legislature that formal purchase offers have gone out to thousands of shareholders, telling them they have until April 19 to accept.

Payments are to be made by April 30, the premier said. He tabled copies of the offers in the legislature.

The offers are the same as Premier Lesage announced Dec. 28 — offers already denounced by some of the companies as being too low and unfair.

The seven companies involved in Friday's step in the giant takeover move, with the per-share offer, were:

Shawinigan Water and Power Company, at $30 a common share and $30.25 a class A share; Lower St. Lawrence Power Company, $37; Quebec Power Company, $37; Southern Canada Power Company, $56.75; Gatineau Power Company, $35; Saguenay Electric Company $43; and Northern Quebec Power Company, $33.

Four other small companies also are facing government take - over. They were not involved in Friday's action because, Premier Lesage said, accounting studies of them have not been completed and so offers could not be sent out.

But Mr. Lesage has said the amount involved in acquiring the four will be about $1,000,000.

ESTIMATE COST

Entire cost of the operation is estimated at $604,000,000, including some $300,000,000 to buy the shares.

The formal offers leave the way open for Hydro-Quebec to extend the reply deadline past April 19, if it wishes.

Issuing the formal offers is one of the major steps in the takeover, for which the government demanded a decisive mandate in a general election campaign last fall.

In his statement in the assembly Friday, on which the opposition made no comment, Mr. Lesage disclosed that another complicating factor has cropped up in the case of Shawinigan, largest of the companies involved.

After Mr. Lesage announced Dec. 28 that offers would be made to the shareholders, Shawinigan and British-American Oil Company announced an agreement by which B.A. increased its interest in Shawinigan Chemicals to 66 2-3 per cent from 25 per cent.

Shawinigan Chemicals is a wholly owned subsidiary which is to come under a new company that will operate Shawinigan's non - electrical assets. Rights to buy shares in the new company accompany the offer to Shawinigan shareholders.

SIGN CONTRACTS

Mr. Lesage said that in 1954 and 1955 Shawinigan Power signed contracts with Monsanto Chemicals Company. The agreement said that if Shawinigan set up its control of Shawinigan chemicals, Monsanto would have first refusal for Shawinigan Chemical's 50 per cent in Shawinigan Resin Corporation.

Mr. Lesage said it "appears certain" that if the agreement with British American goes through Monsanto will be entitled to invoke the contracts.

"Under those conditions," he said, "it may be that British American Oil will seek to be relieved of its undertaking unless a satisfactory arrangement is negotiated with Monsanto.

"The attorneys for Shawinigan Water and Power Company have stated in writing that they were completely unaware of the existence of the contracts with Monsanto until the end of January."

Ottawa Boy Faces Trial For Murder

OTTAWA (CP)—Gerald Thibeault, 17, of Ottawa has been cimmitted to stand trial at the spring assizes on a charge of capital murder in the Sept. 9 fatal beating of the head cashier at the Chateau Laurier Hotel.

Bliss Carman Surrett, 35, died in hospital following an emergency operation for a fractured skull after having been beaten and robbed near the Rideau Canal.

Only witness called before Magistrate Livius P. Sherwood at the conclusion of the preliminary hearing Friday was Rudy Henschel, 19.

He testified that he and a friend found Surrett lying at the foot of a flight of steps near the canal. They then carried the cashier to a park bench.

Henschel said the man did not appear to be badly injured but had seemed asleep and "intoxicated" to the extent that he did not know who he was or where he lived.

Huge Outlay Is Said Needed For New Students In Ontario

LONDON, Ont. (CP) —More than $400,000,000 must be spent in Ontario in the next seven years to provide space for 60,000 new university students, the Canadian Managing Editors Conference was told here.

Dr. G. E. Hall, president and vice - chancellor of the University of Western Ontario, said the cost is for capital construction alone.

He expressed concern that the public does not seem to be fully aware of the outlay, needed, although the cost "will all come out of people living in the province," whether from private sources or taxes.

Earlier Friday, at the opening of the conference, press coverage of the Saskatchewan medicare issue last summer was criticized and upheld.

RAPS COVERAGE

A. E. Blakeney, Saskatchewan health minister, said Saskatchewan newspapers did not measure up to the accepted standard of the profession in reporting and interpreting the medicare issue and that they were guilty of "depreciating the coverage and comment of other journals."

R. E. Brownridge, public relations officer for the Ontario Medical Association, said that "a few daily newspapers—perhaps five per cent of the 100-odd dailies—did publish inaccurate and biased reports."

William Thomson, assistant general manager of the Regina Leader-Post said:

"We were at all times conscious of the pressing need . . . for extra care to be factual, accurate, objective and fair in the presentation of the story. To the best of human ability I think we did that kind of job in the best tradition of newspaper reporting.

"If we slipped up it was not for lack of desire to do differently. In three years of covering medicare I think our batting average is high.

"I have no apologies to make for our paper or the staff that worked so conscientiously to do a good and thorough job."

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	2 ♠	3 ♥	3 ♠
4 ♥	5 ♦	6 ♣	Pass
6 ♥	Pass	Pass	Dble

Opening lead — eight of spades.

In the first session of the 144-board match between Argentina and the United States played in New York last year, Egisto Rocchi, holding the East hand, opened the bidding with two spades after the American North (Charles Coon) had passed.

Rocchi didn't know it then, but he was destined to lose 1,210 points with his fine hand. South (Eric Murray) overcalled with three hearts, and West (Ricardo Calvente) bid three spades.

After North had raised to four hearts, Rocchi made a slam try by bidding five diamonds. South thereupon bid six clubs, which North converted to six hearts.

Rocchi made a forcing pass and Calvente quite naturally doubled six hearts. He led the eight of spades.

Murray had no difficulty making twelve tricks. He won the spade with the ace and then crossruffed the hand, trumping all five of his clubs in dummy. Calvente scored the only trick for the defense — the ace of trump. Rocchi, who had opened with a strong two-bid, did not take a trick!

The contract would have been defeated if Calvente had led the ace and another heart originally, but this was somewhat difficult to foresee. North-South scored 1,210 points for making the doubled slam contract.

The American pair (Mervin Key and Robert Nail) at the second table did not fare well either with the East-West cards. The bidding was over rather quickly. It went:

The Argentine North scratched up an opening bid of one heart and found himself in five hearts doubled the next time it was his turn to bid. East stood for the double (which was doubtful policy) and led the king of clubs.

North made the contract with an overtrick, which gave him a score of 750 points, but, since he had not bid the slam, his team lost 460 points net on the deal.

Moncton Man Wins Award For Journalism

MONTREAL (CP)—The 1963 Olivar Asselin Award for Journalism has been won by Emery LeBlanc, managing editor of L'Evangeline of Moncton.

The announcement was made here by the St. Jean Baptiste Society of Montreal, which makes the award annually for outstanding contributions to French-language journalism.

The award is named for the late Olivar Asselin, one of French Canada's most prominet newspaper men during the first half of this century.

Mr. LeBlanc becomes the first winner outside of Quebec province. He has been managing editor of L'Evangeline since 1946 and is credited with the drive which led to the decision to make the newspaper a daily in 1949.

"L'Evangeline, under the energetic efforts of Mr. LeBlanc and his staff, has become the authentic spokesman of all the Acadian people," the St. Jean Baptiste Society said in its announcement.

The newspaper now is in the midst of a campaign for funds to assure its survival as the voice of the Acadian people.

Mr. LeBlanc will receive the award at a Feb. 26 banquet in Montreal. He will be guest speaker.

FERRY TO SAIL MINUS WHISTLE

VANCOUVER (CP) —A steamy and raucous ship's whistle, apparently dear to the hearts of coastal British Columbians, won't be going east when the CPR ferry Princess of Nanaimo heads this month for the Maritimes.

The whistle, once noise-maker of the old Princess Victoria, later was fixed to the Nanaimo. It will be moved now to the Princess Patricia, soon to go into service to Alaska.

The Princess of Nanaimo, without her old whistle, will leave Vcitoria Feb. 28, via Panama for service between Saint John, N.B. and Digby, N.S.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
