

Across

1. tasty in pickles
2. resembles a bird's nest
3. armed with stinging hairs
4. turns fiery red in autumn
5. named for a woolly animal and a reddish-brown colour
6. grows on rocky ground
7. an animal and a common coin
8. a dark-eyed girl
9. a tall, yellow-flowered biennial
10. called after a precious metal
11. named after a season

Down

1. tasty for breakfast
2. long-lasting gem found in oysters
3. a lawn weed with broad basal leaves
4. where a shepherd keeps his money
5. sometimes called devil's toothbrush
6. a prickly mother pig
7. a tasty Hawaiian fruit
8. a purple compositae
9. a good luck symbol
10. used in dried bouquets

ISLAND NATURE TRUST UPDATE

by Daryl Guignon, Dept. of Biology, U.P.E.I.

The founding meeting of the Island Nature Trust was held on Sept. 12 in the Farm Center. Unfortunately, the turn-out was poor. However, the by-laws were accepted and a nomination committee of five members was established to draft suitable candidates for election to the general council. A membership fee of $5.00 per person or $25.00 per organization was established. Those at the meeting also recommended that major Island organizations be contacted to inform them of the Trust and to invite them to participate.

The next meeting (or more accurately the completion of the Sept. 12 meeting) will be held at the Farm Center at 8:00 p.m. on Sept. 26. I sincerely hope that all those people who expressed such interest in the information meeting held last spring will show up with friends. We need a large membership and a strong general council from which to choose the executive. The executive will also require advice on projects and programs for the coming year.