

Self-Service To Be Featured As 'Peter Pan' Opens Doors

The Peter Pan Drive-In Restaurant will be declared open, to serve the motoring public, this evening at 5 o'clock.

This modern, quick-service eating place, located at the junction of the Malpeque Road and the Trans-Canada Highway, is the only one of its kind on Prince Edward Island and will operate on a self service basis.

As is usual among drive-ins, the Peter Pan will feature fast-action specials to attract roadside trade. Among them will be "chicken in the basket" and "smoked corn beef sandwiches on a rye roll".

The drive-in was built to attract attention, as is made evident by its striking appearance. Designed by Frank Sherwood Limited of Toronto, the building incorporates the latest architectural features with a full glass frontage, and contains the latest and most modern equipment available.

66 CARS

The lot is well illuminated and will accommodate 66 cars at the one time. Parking bumper guides assure greater safety and a minimum of congestion.

The restaurant is owned and operated by Doug Hill and Bill Beer, who also operate the Rendezvous Restaurant in Charlottetown. It is to be managed by Helen McInnis, who has been an employee of the Rendezvous for the past ten years.

Patrons of the drive-in are assured the same courtesy and quality of food which has built the reputation of the Rendezvous.

The restaurant will operate throughout the season but close during the winter months, when road conditions become difficult. During July and August it will be open from early forenoon until late in the evening.
