REBELLION (Continued from page 1) One undecided contest in Ohio where incumbent Stephen Young overtook a large lead by Robert Taft Jr., son of a prominent mid-west political family Nevada was the other. In the 435-seat U.S. House of Representatives, with only a handful of contestes outstanding, Democrats had rallied down 289 members against 237 before the election. Republicans, with 128 seats before had won 138 so far.

While official vote statistics were not available for weeks, Johnson appeared to have raked in 81.3 per cent of the vote compared with the previous record of 60.8 per cent scored in Franklin Roosevelt's 1936 sweep of all but two states. In Montgomery, it is a moderate Republican voice are raised.

John Martin, a party spokesman in Michigan, called the "near disaster" and said the first step should be to ask Goldwater to fire Dean Burch, chairman of the national Republican committee and a key Goldwaterite.

Republican Governor Mark Hatfield of Oregon called for a return to policies more in tune with public thinking. Goldwater's post-election comment contained no apologies to anybody. Said his telegram to Johnson: "Congratulations on your victory. I will help you in any way I can toward achieving a growth and better America and a secure and dignified peace."

Peace, the role of the Republican party, will remain in that temper but it also remains the party of opposition when opposition is called for. There is much to be done with Viet Nam, Cuba, the problem of law and order in this country, and a productive economy. Communism remains our number one obstacle to peace and I know that all Americans will join with you in honest solutions to these problems."

In response to questions he discussed a e k in g the presidency again in 1968:

Aberton, W. Prince Trade Board Names Officers, Plans At Annual

ALBERTON BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN One of the largest and most successful banquets held in Alberton took place in the Worness Institute Hall last evening on the occasion of the ninth annual meeting of Alberton and West Prince Board of Trade.

Over 100 members and guests sat down to a turkey dinner catered to by the Ladies Aid of the Western Hospital.

Head table guests, all of whom spoke briefly, were B. Graham Rogers, provincial director of transportation; Edson Bayne, president Kensington Board of Trade; Amos Hubley, president Summerside Board of Trade; C. R. Leard, secretary west Prince Board; Ed Edmonds, guest speaker; Councilor Arthur McAtee, representing Mayor of Alberton; Rev. Gerald Steele and Rev. David MacDonald, Alberton, and Claude Smith, director of town planning, Charlottetown.

SOME FAILURES The president, Edwin Turner, in his annual report, described some accomplishments of the board during the past year and also some of the disappointments by which several major undertakings went elsewhere.

Mr. Turner said he was pleased to note that the highway through Cascumpee has been paved providing a good paved road part of the way to Summerside. Projects listed as unsuccessful were a processing plant, development of the fish industry, and retention of a daily passenger train service.

An experiment this summer in new crops shows great promise. Mr. Turner stated and hoped this would be continued for several more years.

An all-weather, highway to Turkish and a national park at West Prince are projects for the incoming president and directors to strive for, Mr. Turner said.

In concluding his congratulatory message to the community of Cape Wolfe for winning the rural beautification prize. Rev. David MacDonald gave a short report on the work of the transportation committee and Andrew Wells reported for the West Prince Development Foundation.

The auditors report was given by Hayes Hays. NEW OFFICERS Fred Peters, St. Louis, was elected president. Harold Phillips, Freehold, vice-president and C. R. Leard continues in his 15th year as secretary-treasurer. Mr. Leard is also a vice-president of the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade.

The drawing up of a will, which is an expression of one's own beliefs, is not a do-it-yourself proposition but a job for a professional. Mr. Edmonds said. Mr. Edmonds, a son-in-law of C. R. Leard, is business-development officer with the Eastern and Chartered Trust Company, Moncton, N.B.
