BOARD OF TRADE.

THERE ought, this evening, to be a large meeting of the Board of Trade. While Prince Edward Island is so small that Dominion Ministers can afford to pass her by in order that they may go away to Winnipeg, and while it is hardly probable that her interests will be at all considered by the tariff commissioners, we shall, nevertheless, be untrue to ourselves if we fail to state in a formal way the requirements of this Province in respect to the tariff. We note that boards of trade in other places are giving free expression to their views. For instance, at a meeting of the Montreal Board of Trade, held a few days ago, it was unanimously resolved—

"That in the opinion of the Montreal Board of Trade the bonds which unite the Empire would be greatly strengthened by the adoption of a system of preferential trade in the Empire; that it is ready to give its active support to any well-considered scheme that would be fair both to the Mother Country and to Canada; further, that it would request the Dominion Government to consider whether the time has not arrived to suggest to the Imperial Government the calling of an Imperial conference to mature some practical plan for securing this important boon to the Empire."

Here we have asserted a principle of action which may be, to some extent, brought into action in the readjustment of the tariff by the reduction of duties on such imported goods as are of British production. It is an undoubted fact that the weight of commercial opinion in Canada is more favorable to the promotion of trade with the Mother Country than with Canada. This truth was set forth by the retiring President of the Toronto Board of Trade in the course of an address, in the course of which he said:—

"I believe that our true interest is to cultivate the closest business relations with Great Britain and our sister colonies, and I, for one, would not hesitate to take the first step in this direction by admitting all goods coming from England or English colonies on more favorable terms than goods coming from any other countries."

The adoption of this principle by the Dominion Government would certainly be hailed with satisfaction by the merchants and people of this Province, as well as by those of the larger business centres. Mr. McKergow, the new President of the Montreal Board of Trade, in his inaugural address at the annual meeting of the Board said that he had "little faith in the theory of favorable trade relations with countries outside the Empire, for, if such were granted us, we would have to pay very dearly for them; Great Britain he considered the natural market for Canada, and it should be cultivated to the fullest extent; the products exported by the Americans are similar to our own, and he did not see why Canada should attempt to compete in a market where there is already a surplus of our own products." In these remarks there is sound business sense, and we have little doubt that they will be echoed at the meeting of the Charlottetown Board of Trade to be held this evening. The idea of reciprocity with the United States is all very well—upon two conditions: (1) that it will not cost Canada too much, and (2) that it will not involve discrimination against our trade with the Mother Country. But in the present temper of public opinion in the States, as exhibited by the statements of their politicians and their press, as well as by the passage of alien laws, it is not probable that these conditions will be met. So, if our tariff is to be modified, let it be towards an improvement of our commerce with Great Britain and the British Empire at large. At any rate, the merchants of Charlottetown—those who import British goods as well as those who export our food products to the Mother Country—will be acting in their own interests and in the interests of the country at large by throwing the weight of their influence into the British scale.

There is another principle which ought, in our opinion, to be considered by our Board of Trade this evening, viz., the arrangement of the tariff in such a way that incidental encouragement will be given the development of our mines and other natural sources of wealth. This principle has been admitted by the most philosophic of all Free Traders—John Stuart Mill—to be the right one for adoption in a new country; and we have had in the neighboring Province of Nova Scotia an exemplification of its truth. The production of Cape Breton coal has, according to the official statistics, been increased 40 per cent. in the last eight years. The Hon. Robert Drummond testified before the Tariff Commission a few days ago that the Nova Scotia sales of coal had increased from 707,000 tons in 1875 to 1,830,000 tons in 1895, as a result of the incidental protection afforded by a 26 per cent. duty on bituminous coal, and that 7,000 men are now employed in the Nova Scotia coal mines. These 7,000 men are our best customers, taking our potatoes, oats, hay, butter, cheese and all such things as we produce in the greatest abundance. All must hope that these good customers will increase in number, and we have in the experience of the past a justification for the belief that a continuance of the incidental encouragement afforded by the duty will bring about that result. Consequently we hope that the Charlottetown Board of Trade will, at its meeting of this evening, approve the principle of incidental encouragement to the development of our natural wealth.

TELEPHONIC.

Is it not high time that the telephone was extended from Souris to East Point? No part of the Island is more in need of telephonic accommodation than the settlements lying east of Souris. The people residing in those thriving localities were promised that the telephone would be extended along the route indicated. An office at Red Point, another further east and more east and north of that are also needed. When the Act authorizing the extension of the telephone to various new localities throughout the Province was under consideration was the right time to secure fairplay for East Poisters. But the opportunity was allowed to pass. Better late than never, however, and therefore another session of our Provincial Legislature should not be allowed to pass without making sure that the line be extended as far east as the light house at East Point, and as far north as possible along the northern shore of King's County.

D. C. S.

Large and representative meetings of the executive of the Diocesan Church Society were held yesterday afternoon and evening, and a service held in St. Paul's Church at which the Rev. S. F. Andrews, of Crapaud, preached an excellent sermon, the lesson of which was that Christians, to be successful, must push on with the work of the church regardless of circumstances that are apt to cause despondency.

The clergy in attendance were Revs. J. M. Forbes, Henry Harper, J. C. Wallis, S. F. Andrews, T. B. Raigh, H. Beers. James Simpson, J. T. Bryan, T. H. Hunt; and the laity, Charles Palmer, Esq., Vice President in the Chair, Messrs. John Maynard, Port Hill; T. Traverse, Kildare; W. B. Dyer, Alberton; William Thomson, Kensington; J. B. Millman, Irishtown; E. B. Alleyne, Mount Stewart; H. J. Cundall, F. L. Hazard, W. L. Cotton, Harrison Carvell, W. C. Harris jr., James Lewis, and the Secy-Treas Mr. Percy Pope, Charlottetown.

The Clerical Association of Prince Edward Island held a meeting this forenoon, and a meeting for the organization of a Church Convention is now being held.

This evening, at half-past seven o'clock, the annual general meeting of the Diocesan Church Society will be held. At this meeting, Mr. Percy Pope will read a paper entitled, "Why is not the D. C. S more effective?" and the Rev. J. C. Wallis, of Kensington, will deliver an address on "Missions." Interesting discussions are anticipated.

SUPREME COURT.

Young vs. McIsaac.—The court granted a rule nisi to enter judgment for the defendant in the questions found by the jury.

Watts vs Kennedy.—Action for the value of a horse. This case was tried before Mr. Justice Fitzgerald and a jury this term when a verdict was found for the plaintiff for $55. Yesterday Mr. A. Peters was granted a rule nisi for non suit returnable Easter term next.

Duncan C. McLeod, barrister-at-law, was appointed a commissioner for taking affidavits in all counties, George B. McEachern a commissioner for King's County, and Oliver B. Wadman, a commissioner for Prince.

This forenoon the Court ordered that under Section 892 of the Criminal Code, 1892, in proceedings under certiorari on motion to quash convictions of Justices of the Peace or Stipendiary Magistrates the party applying shall give security for costs with two sufficient sureties in the sum of $50 to the Justice of the Peace or Stipendiary Magistrate, as the case may be, or deposit with the Prothonotary at Charlottetown or Deputy Prothonotaries of King's or Prince Counties, as the case may be, the sum of $50; also in all cases in which hereafter applications made for security for costs by reason of the non-residence of the plaintiff, the Court or Judge may require an affidavit of the merits.

George A. Baynes, respondent, vs. John Boyce, appellant.—Action of debt. An appeal from the judgment of Judge Reddin, acting for Judge Alley. The appellant made default and the Court dismissed the appeal.

TWO SAD DEATHS.—A Guardian correspondent writes: Death under more than ordinary painful circumstances, has visited the house of Mr James Taylor, of Granville. On Saturday last, his son Mr. Thomas Taylor, aged 32 years, died after an illness of a few weeks. Shortly before the hour appointed for his funeral, last Monday, the father, Mr. Jas. Taylor died suddenly. He had been in his usual health until within a few minutes of his death, when he complained of illness and before anything could be done for him as life had departed. He was 72 years of age. The funeral, which was to have taken place today, has been postponed until Friday at 11 o'clock, awaiting the arrival of his son, who is at present in Boston.

POLICE INSPECTION.—The police force were inspected today by His Honor the Stipendiary Magistrate in the presence of His Worship Mayor Dawson and the Police Committee of the City Council, and instructions were given regarding the absolute necessity for greater vigilance on their part, and greater activity in enforcing the by-laws regarding fast driving, driving without bells, corner loafing, etc.

PARCHIAL FAIR.—The Jersey cow donated to the Parochial Fair Committee by Dr. Doyle, was disposed of last evening Mrs. Frank Bradley, Euston Street, was the lucky one.

Y. M. C. A.—Attend the entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. to-morrow evening. See programme in to-day's issue.

COME EARLY to the Rink tonight and secure a good seat, and give yourself the benefit of a pleasant evening.

MR. L. P. TANTON IN REPLY.

The man who dares traduce because he can
With safety to himself is not a man;
An individual is a sacred mark,
Not to be pierced in play or in the dark.
—Cowper.

SIR,—I did not readily respond to the request of "Onward" in your issue of the 25th because I feel that certain character sketches are almost too revolting in their features to justify a public unveiling, the very viciousness of which could scarcely tend to the elevation of public morals. I was further impressed with the hope that kindly stricture and moderate reprimand might encourage an abandonment of deceit and hypocrisy and win them over to truth and honesty. I find myself deceived in expecting the evolution of those manly virtues from that source into which the lower vices are inbred and inborn. As the shoemaker sticks to his last, so the traducing falsifier will stick to his text, even long after his productions have been admitted as acceptably choice selections and carefully shelved in the archives of the infernal regions. I am not sufficiently well versed in the Guardian's unabridged ethical code to be able to discover a correct relationship between "True principle" as in existing quality and the effeminate utterances of their chameleon-like correspondent. True principle was never conceived in the breast of a moral coward, never couched in the bed of slander and never educated in the classics of deceit. Yet that correspondent's productions give evidence of a mastery of these qualities sufficient to entitle him to his degree. The rehash of his diatribes of a year ago can scarcely be less fatal to his vanity than was his recent indulgence in other passages of ancient history which he published under the coward's refuge—"a lady's" name. He claims that "Tanton supplied the water." Of this commodity there was evidently an over-supply, for not a small portion seems to have penetrated the vacancy intended as a repository for that writer's brains. The "other inducements" were also there, in respect to which "True Principle" enjoys a companionship with those who could a tale unfold. In the course of my canvass I had occasion to call upon the President of the Citizens' League. I wished to know the meaning of certain statements urged against me in the canvass, and his reply to my first question was in substance: "We have no fault with you on temperance grounds. Your record in that respect is perfectly satisfactory, but we can't support you because you upheld Mayor Dawson and opposed Haszard." I then stated that as a temperance man I could neither use nor countenance the use of liquor in order to carry an election, and asked would he use his influence with his friends in this direction and let us have a fair fight. His reply was: "We will make no promises; there must be something to drink, and if the weather is cold temperate stuff would freeze." When I observed voters who had promised me their support brought up to the polls to vote against me, so drunk that they could scarcely articulate the candidates' names, I understood fully the import of this conversation. I was defeated in Ward Five, not by temperance men, but by the assistance of those popular "devices" and the misrepresentations of those parasites whose shameless falsehoods infest the columns of the Guardian. I might write considerably more in this connection, but I refrain from the circulation of facts which may be used to the prejudice of genuine temperance work. I have the satisfaction of knowing that what I have hitherto written has had the endorsement of those true friends of temperance who live and work and vote temperance and who practice as they preach, the friendship of whom is infinitely more desirable than that of a combination of political twisters whose reputation is so unsavory that they dare not subscribe their names to the statements they make.

L. P. TANTON.

DRIVING PARK CRITICISED.

SIR,—The annual statement of the Charlottetown Driving Park and Provincial Exhibition Association has just been made public and a meeting of the stockholders called for an early date. All the outside stockholders should attend this meeting. Mr. Warburton, the secretary, seems to have a rather fat job, having pocketed during 1896 the sum of $500 for managing a one-horse trot and a combined exhibition and trot. The statement shows that he was well assisted, although he only allows the keeper $205 for his year's work. The stockholders, however, have not fared as well as the secretary. In all only two small dividends on our splendid investment of $24,800 have been paid. This would be quite satisfactory if we made the investment solely for Mr. Warburton's benefit. But it was not so made. It was made with the hope of receiving a modest return from a somewhat public-spirited enterprise. We, therefore, have cause for complaint. If, through Mr. Warburton's great executive ability the property was remunerative, a liberal directorate might be excused for allowing him extraordinary remuneration. Such, however, has not been the case. As a dividend-producer the property has been a failure. In the face of these facts the proprietors are called on to pay the manager who brought about these results $500, for services which, at a liberate rate, should not exceed $100.

The public, too, have an interest in this institution. Last year they paid in grant, gate money, etc., nearly $7,000, and received in prizes only $3,754.65. The Government grant alone was $3,000, while the exhibition prizes were only $2,605. Did the taxpayers of the Island vote $3,000 in order that any secretary should be overpaid, or was the grant intended to promote Island industry, and incidentally pay a fair interest on the capital invested? Mr. Warburton, as a representative of the people, ought to know.

I take the liberty, in all modesty, of course, of drawing the attention of the acting premier to this phase of the question. He should see that public money finds its way to public uses and not allow it to slip into the pockets of private members of the Assembly. May I suggest here that his government would gladly pay $48.11 per annum as interest for $2,111.73. Why then allow the Warburton financiering to continue? It is believed that the A. P. and Mr. Warburton are not at present on speaking terms. The public interest may possibly not suffer very much if this estrangement should be perpetual. The truce in their friendship certainly affords the A. P. a fitting opportunity of investigating Mr. Warburton. When their official relations are reversed, Mr. Warburton may do his country a similar service by investigating the present A. P. We demand an equitable distribution of the surplus income.

NEWS NOTES

The London Times publishes a despatch from Rome saying that the French-Canadian Roman Catholic bishops had prepared a joint pastoral on the school question, which announced that the sacraments would be refused to all Catholics who accepted the terms of the Government. The pastoral was not issued, however, owing to the fact that the English speaking bishops were not prepared to adhere to it. The Pope has now taken the matter in hand.

A word about linen from Stanley Bros. The pretentions of some firms would be laughable were it not for the malice behind them. For instance a firm makes the statement that they are the only ones on P. E. Island that buy their lines direct from the manufacturers. This, to say the least of it, is and unbusiness-like and mischievous statement, as they have no means of knowing whether or not it is true. It is petty and mean, inasmuch as they try to injure their neighbors by the positive declaration that no other house is in as good a position to supply linens as they are. We buy our linens directly from the manufacturers in Belfast, Ireland, and show as good value as is obtained in this city. Table linens in cream, 56 inches wide, 25c per yard, 64 inches wide, 35c per yard; and up to 85c. Full bleached, 60 inches wide, 49c per yard. Table napkins, $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75, special value. Union towels 48 inches long and 24 wide, 20c each, 3 different kinds. Best values in all kinds of linens.—Stanley Bros.
