Drowned While Attempting To Recover Game At Black Pond

Ernest Joseph Ford, 23, of South Lake, was drowned at Black Pond on Saturday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock apparently while attempting to recover a goose which had been shot. The body was recovered yesterday morning and a coroner's jury heard evidence and decided death to have been due to accidental drowning.

Coroner Dr. Arnold Burden of St. Peter's Bay presided at the inquest.

Evidence indicated that the young man left his home Saturday about 1 p.m. to visit his sister, Mrs. Wilfred Lapierre at Black Pond, planning to do some shooting. In the evening, accompanied by his 12-year-old nephew, Kenneth O'Connor, he went down to the pond. Leaving the boy playing in a field, Ford went into some bushes bordering the pond. A short time later the boy heard a shot. Shortly after Ford came out of the bushes and gave the gun to the boy, and told him to go with his aunt, who had come by in a car, to the home of his uncle, James Lapierre.

Later in the evening, when Ford did not show up, Francis Lapierre went down to the pond and after searching found Ford's clothing lying on the bank.

The Souris detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police was notified and, after investigating, discontinued the search until Sunday morning. The body was found about 9 a.m.

George Cheveris of South Lake was the first witness called and identified the body.

W. F. Power of Little Harbor told of going out in a boat and finding the body. It was in about seven feet of water about 15 feet from the shore.

Frank Hennessey, game warden at the Black Pond sanctuary, said that a freshly-shot goose was found floating a short distance beyond where the body of Ford was found.

Members of the jury, all from Little Harbor, comprised Messrs Septimus MacPhee (foreman), Harold Foley, Harold Lapierre, Joseph Chapman and Lawrence MacPhee. The deceased is survived by his father, Mr. Joseph Ford, of South Lake and by five sisters, Mary Ellen, Mrs. Clarkin, at home; Dorothy, Mrs. Wilfred Lapierre, Black Pond; Elva, Mrs. Donald O'Connor, Norris Pond; Frances, Mrs. MacNeill, at home; and Lillian, Mrs. P. O'Connor, Montreal.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed last evening.

3rd Battalion Of PPCLI Joins 25th Brigade

By Bill Boss
Canadian Press Staff Writer
WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, Nov. 2—(CP)—Brig. M. P. (Pat) Bogert, commanding officer of Canada's 25th Infantry Brigade, Saturday welcomed the 3rd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, to his command.

The battalion arrived Thursday on rotation leave.

After inspecting the troops, Brig. Bogert had them break ranks and gather around the saluting base for an informal talk.

"Although you undoubtedly are well trained, you all will have a good many lessons to learn," he said.

"Even those of you who served in the last war and may already have served here will learn new lessons."

Until the Korean war the Canadian army had not fought a defensive battle since the First World War, the Brigadier told his new troops.

"Now we are in one and we must learn again many of the lessons which have not been practised since 1918. You must approach the whole business in a modest way, otherwise you will become overconfident, which is always a mistake."

"We have a high standard of discipline in this brigade—people always do what they are told. That makes us more efficient, wins battles and saves lives."

Bear River Club Members Win First In Livestock Judging

Miss Patricia McIsaac and Miss Martina Hughes, of the Bear River Club, won first place in the livestock judging class during the Rural Youth Program conducted in conjunction with the Maritime Winter Fair at Amherst, N. S. Saturday.

The competition was very close with 22 judging teams entered, and it was an outstanding achievement when there were two teams from this Province tied for the first place. The other top team was from Gowan Brae, and it too was comprised of two young girls, Miss Annveta Smith and Miss Zilla McInnis.

The shield, given by the Federation of Agriculture, was awarded the team from Bear River after the judges had met with the top teams and interviewed the members in a verbal examination. The judges for the event were Dr. Adrian Morin, Montreal, and Mr. E. F. Pineau, of the Dominion Production Services, Ottawa.

Other Competitions

Young men and women from this Province also placed high in many other of the competitions held at the fair. In the livestock judging Miss Patricia McIsaac placed first in the individual class. There were 44 competitors altogether. Six of the teams were from this Province, six from New Brunswick and ten from Nova Scotia.

In the beef cattle judging class Addison McCabe, Alexandria, placed second with Miss Zilla McInnis third. Miss McInnis won second place in the sheep judging class while the first and second places were taken by teams from New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

Allies Driven From Peak Of Triangle Hill

SEOUL, Nov. 3—(Monday)—(AP)—Fresh South Korean troops, supported by possibly the greatest artillery barrage since the Second World War, stormed the frowning heights of Triangle Hill in waves Saturday only to be blasted off the slopes by a torrent of Chinese artillery fire.

For eight straight hours, Allied guns raged around Kumhuwa on the central front roared and thundered with every type of shell in their arsenal. More than 42,000 rounds of fire were shot at Triangle Hill and Red gun positions.

Then South Koreans launched the heaviest attack yet made in the 21-day battle, front dispatches said.

Chinese Reds came up out of their tunnels, trenches and caves to meet successive waves of South Koreans charging the blood-drenched crest of Triangle.

Red artillery sent withering blasts directly into the South Korean ranks—regardless of Communist troops on the same crest. The attackers faltered and were beaten off.

The Reds not only stopped the South Koreans cold, but gained still another height—Jane Russell Hill, which is a northeast spur of the same Triangle Hill mass.

Yugoslav Reds Open Congress

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia, Nov. 2—(AP)—Premier Tito's Communist Party opened its sixth congress today with an important member of its powerful Politburo missing.

Widespread reports said the missing member, Blagoje Neskovic, faces charges of pro-Russian sympathies.

Tito himself opened the congress as party secretary-general after 2,300 delegates had given him a five-minute ovation with the steady chant: "Hero-Tito!"

Official sources declined to comment on Neskovic's whereabouts. If the reports of his pending trial prove true, his case would be the most serious rift within the party's ranks since Lt.-Gen. Arso Jovanovic, former army chief of staff, was reported killed a little more than four years ago while trying to flee to Romania.

Suffragette Wins Major Fight For Egyptian Women

By Gilbert Sedbon
CAIRO, Nov. 2—(Reuters)—Doria Shafik, Egypt's tireless fighter against the "harem mentality," reached a major landmark today in her campaign to win the right to vote for her countrywomen.

The Interior Ministry accepted her Egyptian women's movement—Daughters of the Nile—as a political party. It is the first time that a recognized party has been headed by a woman.

Mrs. Shafik had put Prime Minister Mohammed Naguib's "new order" government on the spot by asking for recognition of her feminist. They have strong backing among male politicians.

Under new laws governing activities of political parties, the ministry has the right to accept or refuse to recognize any party.

Commenting on her victory, Mrs. Shafik said: "Although we are recognized as a political party, this does not mean that the Egyptian Government recognizes our claim for equal rights politically and otherwise between men and women."

This was taken to mean that the 33-year-old Sorbonne-educated does not mean that the Egyptian does not mean that Egypt ceases to be a man's country with women having few, if any, civil rights.

Mrs. Shafik has high hopes Egypt's women will be granted the right to vote in time to take part in the general elections tentatively set for next February.

Tugs Bring Damaged Freighter To Port

HALIFAX, Nov. 2—(CP)—Two salvage tugs brought the rudderless Canadian Pacific freighter, Beaverbrae into port today, safely through the first gale of the Atlantic's storm season.

The 9,000-ton vessel lost her rudder in the Gulf of St. Lawrence early last week and the Halifax tugs Foundation Vera and Foundation Josephine II took her in tow.

For two days late in the week the tugs made little or no progress but both tugs and the crippled freighter were not damaged by the storm.

Officers and crew members of the Beaverbrae declined to talk to reporters today but said that neither ship nor cargo had been damaged.

Voting In U.K. By-Election May Show Political Trend

HIGH WYCOMBE, England, Nov. 2—(Reuters)—Hall and Haire is going to take the limelight from Ike and Adlai in this Buckinghamshire town Tuesday, where a by-election will be held to fill a vacant House of Commons seat.

The contest between Labor candidate John Haire and Conservative John Hall will be the keenest test vote in the country since the Conservatives won the 1951 general election.

Wycombe is a real "marginal seat"—the kind that could go either way and it is the "marginal seats" that decide general elections. In October, 1951, the Conservatives won Wycombe with a margin of 1,753 votes. In the 1950 general election, Labor won by 476.

Four or five months ago, when rising living costs and other domestic troubles had depressed the Churchill Government's prestige, Labor probably would have re-

United States' Election Nearing Climax With Outcome Still In Doubt

(By John Tracy)
NEW YORK, Nov. 2—(CP)—The United States' 1952 presidential campaign, which started out with high-minded oratory and lapsed into a political brawl, neared its climax tonight with the outcome uncertain.

Both Democrats and Republicans made advance claims of victory but only the voters could tell whether the renowned soldier, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, or the polished Governor of Illinois, Adlai Stevenson, would become president for the next four years.

The number of eligible voters is estimated at more than 75,000,000. Forecasts of generally fair weather for Tuesday's polling strengthened prediction that 55,000,000 or more will vote—far ahead of the previous record when 49,820,000 voted in the 1940 contest between the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie.

In addition to a president and vice-president, voters will choose 34 senators, 432 members of the House of Representatives, 29 state governors and a host of lesser officials. Maine voted in September, electing a governor, a senator and three representatives, all Republicans.

It will be many hours before Americans will know the political complexion of the administration that will take over on inauguration day, Jan. 20. In 1948 more than 12 hours passed after all polls closed, before Governor Thomas Dewey of New York conceded victory to Harry Truman.

The delay was due mainly to the complexity of the election system. With so many officials to be elected, the average ballot looks like a rail-steamship ticket for a world trip.

In Canada the outcome of a federal election often is known before polls close in British Columbia. But because of the complicated nature of the American ballot, officials will be counting votes in eastern states long after the last poll has closed in California at 8 p.m. (11 p.m. EST).

Completing Plans For Session Of Parliament

OTTAWA, Nov. 2—(CP)—Government officials are completing plans for the seventh session of the 21st Parliament.

The session, possibly the last before a general election, will be opened Nov. 20 by Governor-General Vincent Massey.

The cabinet has been working for several weeks on a legislative program that is expected to keep the Commons and the Senate busy until late spring. The government hopes to complete the work in time for some members to attend the coronation of Queen Elizabeth June 2.

Prime Minister St. Laurent hinted several weeks ago there would be no election until after the coronation. However, in the wake of a meeting of the National Liberal Federation last week there has been speculation that the government may decide on a spring election.

However, most observers still stick to the fall of 1953 as the most likely time for an election. The present Parliament ends Aug. 25, 1954.

Government departments have been asked to have legislation ready for presentation as soon as the session opens.

The government may propose that the usually lengthy debate on the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne be shortened or possibly postponed until after legislative measures have been adopted.

The Speech from the Throne, read at the opening ceremony by the Governor-General, forecasts much of the government's legislation.
