THE BRIDGE.

It is understood that the Government Engineer will arrive here this evening and will be prepared to give information concerning the plan and specification of the proposed bridge across the Hillsborough, as well as hear the opinions of the people concerning its location.

There two points to be bourne in mind: (1) We want the bridge as soon as it can be constructed; (2) we want it where it will be most convenient for the traffic between Charlottetown and the country south of the Hillsborough, viz—not further east than the line of Cumberland Street.

The whole matter is now in the hands of the Dominion authorities. They may act in accord with public opinion; they may act contrary to public opinion. The responsibility, in any case, lies with them. But we hope and trust that they will place the bridge where it will not be out of the way of the local traffic for which the province is to pay the Dominion Government $12,000 a year for all time to come.

[As inserted yesterday, this paragraph was unusually full of typographical errors; we insert it again with these corrected.]

CARDINAL NEWMAN AND HON. GEO. E. FOSTER.

Cardinal Newman, in his great work, Apologia pro Vita Sua, says that a movement party is not responsible for the utterances of all its adherents. "Aberations there ever must be, whatever the doctrine is, while the human heart is sensitive, capricious and wayward. A mixed multitude went out of Egypt with the Israelites. There will ever be a number of persons professing the opinions of a movement party who talk loudly and strongly, do old or fierce things, display themselves unnecessarily, and disgust other people; persons too young to be wise, too generous to be cautious, too warm to be sober, or too intellectual to be humble. Such persons will be apt to attach themselves to particular persons, to use particular names to say things merely because others do, and to act in a party-spirit way."

Mr. Foster protests against the miserable attempt that was made to make the Conservative party responsible for the students' brawl in Montreal, brought about by the demonstration and rejoicing consequent upon the relief of Ladysmith. He said: "What I protest against, in the name of my party in this Dominion of Canada, is against that mischievous attempt to make the Conservative party responsible for a students' brawl and the breaking of some windows which resulted from it. It is not fair, it is not honest party warfare. There are hot hearts in every party, there are enthusiasts in every religious creed, there are warm-blooded people in every race; and if we took the expressions which come now and again from these persons in a mixed country and with a mixed people, how could we get along if we treated these as being the expressions of the will of the majority in such cases? Surely we will not make this mistake."

Mr. Foster, with his large parliamentary experience and broad statesmanlike views, said: "The absurdity which clings to this whole affair ought to be sufficient to make us, the McGill students, the Laval students, the people of Montreal, and the people of Canada, pass the whole thing over with a right good laugh, and think no more about it."

A DOUBTFUL PROJECT.

A project is on foot to build another cheese factory in this vicinity, and through your columns I wish to call the attention of our people, and the authorities, to the nature of this affair. First—Its location is to be about midway between the New Perth and St. George's Dairy Station, leaving it a territory of about two miles on either side east and west, in which there is little or no milk. Second—There is no prospect of obtaining any milk from the south, as New Perth factory is more convenient for that section, and the people are well satisfied with its management. Third—All the milk they could reasonably look for would come from the northern part of the district, so that this factory would be at the very southern end of its source of supply, thereby making the cost of milk-drawing very high, and at the same time preventing it from ever becoming anything but a small station. Lastly—There is not the least necessity for it, because all the country it would embrace is convenient enough to the neighboring factories; as is amply proved by the fact that the people patronized them in the past and that tenders are called for the coming season for milk drawing on all the routes that the new factory would cover. Another important matter is that this project is now being worked under false pretences. When first talked of the factory was to be built at Ruskin—about eight miles northwest of here—where it would not clash with other factories, and a lot of stock was subscribed for it there. A new lot of officers are now appointed and the situation changed, and yet they count on the old stock list, which, with the new amounts to only a little over one thousand dollars. The new promoters know well that many of the people who subscribed to the original scheme will not, nor can they be compelled to, pay anything towards the construction of this factory; yet in their efforts to secure stock they use the old list for the purpose of inducing outsiders to subscribe. The situation first decided upon was quite reasonable, as there would be a large territory on all sides to draw from; but this factory cannot, and is not intended to cover any ground that the other factories do not reach. The very names of the people who are its most active promoters should be a warning to the public. They never manifested any interest in dairying up to this time. Only one of them is a farmer, and he a merely nominal one—being the proprietor of the notorious Cardigan bonded warehouse—a man who never sent a drop of milk to a factory in his life, although living within three miles of one for the last five years, and drawers passing his gate regularly.

Farmers! Are you going to assist these people in their scheme of hurting the factories already established? Are you going to allow them to lead you into a venture that cannot prove profitable to you? Remember the farmers club, and beware! Where are our officials, and the government that take so much interest in the dirirying industry? Its success depends upon proper management, and the correct location of the factories; and surely the authorities can do something to prevent such monstrous and far-reaching mistakes as this.

CHEERED FOR CANADA.—Describing the scene in the British House of Commons, when Lord Roberts' despatch announcing the capture of Gen. Cronje's army was read, the London Mail says: But yet these manifestations did not come till after the first four paragraphs of the momentous telegram was read. Curiousity was too strong to allow of any interruption while these details of the conflict were being told. But when, in describing the heroic advance towards the trenches of Cronje, Mr. Wyndham came to the words, "the Canadian regiment," at once the long pent-up feeling burst forth from every dam of curiosity, interest, and self-restraint, and all the immense history of the union of the colonies with the mother country to men's thoughts and hearts, and there was a loud, deep, though brief, cheer.

SOURIS BOARD OF TRADE.

SIR,—According to previous notice issued to that effect a meeting of the merchants, shippers, dairymen, etc., of the eastern end of King's County, was held at Souris, on Saturday, the 10th inst., for the purpose of organizing a board of trade. J. C. Underhay, Esq., was appointed chairman, and the undersigned secretary. John McLean, Esq., gave some information as to what constituted a board of trade and stated some of the benefits accruing therefrom. After a short discussion it was moved by Mr. Geo. B. McEachern, seconded by Mr. C. H. S. Sterns and carried unanimously: "That a board of trade be formed at Souris extending from East Point to and including Lots 40 and 54, to be known as the Souris "Board of Trade." An enrollment fee of two dollars was agreed upon, and also that the secretary of this meeting continue to act until after the next meeting, and keep the list open for the enrollment of new members, and also correspond with persons eligible for membership. Messrs. T. Morrow, J. J. Hughes and John McLean were assigned the duty of forming bye-laws.

The meeting was adjourned to meet again on the 16th inst., at 2 o'clock p. m, in McDonald's Hall rooms. All in this section interested in the movement are invited to attend.

Doctors said Incurable

But the Notary, Mr. Lemire, was cured of Kidney Disease in two months by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It is only when thoroughly convinced of the superior merit of a remedy that public men will give their sanction.

Mr. E. H. Lemire, Notary Public, 1692 Notre Dame Street, Montreal, tells of his remarkable recovery from a severe attack of kidney disease. When doctors had failed, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills saved his life. He writes: "I give this statement, first because it is only just that the merit of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills should be made known, and again in order that others may profit by my experience. For years I suffered with kidney disease which doctors pronounced incurable. Thanks to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I have used for two months, I am completely cured. They helped me from the first, and the cure is now perfect."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act directly on the kidneys, and through their combined influence on the kidneys and liver, cure the most complicated diseases of these delicate organs. One pill a dose. 25 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
