Eisenhower And Russian Leaders Send Greetings

By FRANCES LEWINE

GETTYSBURG, Pa., (AP)—President Eisenhower Wednesday cabled Soviet leaders that he hopes the new year will bring better understanding between the Russian and American people.

The United States "will extend every effort to that end," the president told Russia's three top officials in a personal exchange of new year's greetings.

The Russians had sent messages to leaders of many nations calling for "peaceful coexistence" in the world for the forthcoming year.

Their cable to President Eisenhower came personally through regular commercial, rather than diplomatic channels.

The president followed suit with his cabled reciprocating greetings and told the Russians:

"I earnestly trust the new year will bring a firmer and better understanding between the citizens of the Soviet Union, the American people and those of other nations.

"You may be assured that the government of the United States will extend every effort to that end."

The message from Klement Voroshilov, chairman of the Soviet Praesidium; Prime Minister Nikolai Bulganin and Soviet party chief Nikita Khrushchev, was received by the president at his Gettysburg farm, where he is on a year-end vacation mixed with work.

The president's message was made public by White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, who declined comment on a reporter's suggestion it was somewhat unusual to receive such a message over commercial facilities.

The Russian noate asked the president to "accept personally and to transmit to the people of the United States of America best wishes" from their people and from the three leaders personally.

"We express the hope," they said, that 1958 "will be a year of strengthening of friendship and co-operation between the peoples of the Soviet Union and of the United States . . . a year when the great principles of peaceful coexistence, receiving ever greater international recognition, will become the basis of mutual relations between our states."

TIGNISH HIGH

School Year Wound Up With Christmas Concert

For most of the classes examinations were the order of the day last week. All marched home proudly or otherwise, with report cards. The Honor Roll will appear in another issue of the Guardian.

After class on December 10 the High School pupils assembled in the auditorium for the second general mission meeting of the year. Reports of activities were presented by each class and Grade eleven treated to a very wonderful program on the subject of Advent.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The executive of the Student Council has been busy addressing and mailing Christmas cards to more than sixty individuals or organizations, whose interest in our school activities deserves at least that much recognition once a year.

The Christmas card campaign for the purpose of putting Christ back into Christmas was most successful. The Sodality of Our Lady is very grateful to all who helped out in any way in this campaign. We nearly forgot to mention that the day of recollection held on December 8 and attended by sixty girls was also very successful.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

Our annual Christmas concert was held this year on Wednesday afternoon, December 18, for the school pupils, and on Thursday evening for parents and guests. As usual the parish hall was filled to capacity for both performances.

The program presented is as follows: Playette, "No Books For Christmas," by pupils of Grade II; Carol, "O Holy Night" by Edward Fitzgerald, Grade IX; Dialogue, "Mother Goose's Christmas Party," by pupils of Grades III and IV; Carol, "Deck the Hall," Grade VII girls; Playette, "Following the Star," by Grade VII and VIII boys," by Grade to the World," Grade VIII; Play "The Empty Room" by Grade IX pupils.

This play in two scenes was the highlight of the concert, the characters being, Hamar, Leonard Hogan; Rebecca, Isabel Gallant; Joanna, Rose Marie, Fennessey; David, Clifton Gavin; the Prophet, Edward Fitzgerald; Mary, Catherine McInnis; the nobleman, Ivan Doucette.

Between the two scenes Grade VII and VIII girls sang the carol "Under the Stars". This play concluded with a tableau of the Bethlehem scene which presented a very colorful picture as we sat breathless to watch the shepherds, angels, kings and characters of the play in adoration before the Christ child in the manager during the singing of 'O Come Let Us Adore Him".

Each classroom showed forth the spirit of Christmas with its tree, crib, and all the trimmings. We spent part of our last day at school visiting the different classrooms and singing carols.

To all our readers we extend best wishes for a very happy holiday season filled with the blessings of the Divine Child Jesus, whose coming is a source of peace on earth to men of good will.

Promotions Come To Air Station At Summerside

R. C. A. F. Headquarters has released the semi-annual officers promotion list which includes three Summerside -based officers.

Flight Lieutenant George Hollands, station senior account officer was notified of his promotion to Squadron Leader.

Flight Lieutenant A. E. Tomkinson, a recent graduate of the operational training unit, was also promoted to Squadron Leader. S-L Tomkinson has been transferred to a squadron with Maritime Air Command where he will fill the position of squadron navigation leader.

Flying Officer George Cooper, station telecommuniciations officer, has been promoted to the rank of Flying Officer.

In addition to the promotions three local officers have been offered permanent commissions in the .CR.A.F. They are F-O Jack Loewen, a pilot instruction officer with the O. T. U.; F-O John Doucet, a radio instructor with the R.C.A.F. They are F/O Jack relations officer; and F-O Jim Wood, station intelligence officer. F-O Eleanor McCaffery, an R.C. A.F. nursing sister, has been given a one year extension to her short service commission.

S'Side Theatres To Alternate During Winter

It was learned last evening that the two Summerside theatres, the Capitol and Regent, will close for six week periods during the winter months. This unfortunate condition was brought on by a sharp decline in attendance during the past few months. The dates to be observed are :Regent, January 6th to February 15th and the Capital, Feb. 17 to March 29th.

Carol Service Is Enjoyed

On Sunday evening a beautiful carol and candle lighting service was celebrated at St. Mark's Church, Kensington by the rector, Rev. W. Eric Ingraham.

The service, consisting of prayers, suitable selections from the scriptures, and Christmas hymns, and carols, was in three parts: Seeking the Light; Finding the Light; and Sharing the Light. The wardens, Messrs. Elmer Paynter and Joseph Harding assisted in the candle lighting ceremony.

Potted plants in the chancel were in loving memory of Mrs. Layton Rogers and Mr. David L. McInnis, placed by their respective families.

Ask Ben-Gurion To Form Gov,t

By ERIC GOTTGETREU

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel's 71-year-old Premier David Ben-Gurion, who has headed the country all its life except for a brief time, was asked Wednesday to form a new government. He accepted conditionally.

Ben-Gurion handed in his own resignation and that of his five-party coalition government Tuesday in an angry dispute with leftists in the cabinet over national security. There were hints Wednesday that the premier decided to scuttle the old cabinet in hopes of making secret arms deals.

The Jerusalem Post said: "Two members of the Mapai central committee revealed Monday that certain countries which might sell Israel arms would do so only under a pledge of absolute secrecy."

"In the past Israel has enjoyed a good reputation for discretion in such matters and if she is not to jeopardize her future chances of obtaining arms, this reputation must not be impaired."

Mapai is Ben - Gurion's Social Democratic Labor party. In announcing the cabinet's resignation Tuesday he accustd two leftist ministers of Achduth Avodah (Labor) party of "deplorable acts"—alleged leaks of information concerning a secret cabinet decision to send a mission to West Germany. The mission, it has been reported, was to buy certain equipment vital to the defence of Israel.

CHARGES VIOLATION

Ben - Gurion charged the two Laborites violated a cabinet agreement "to preserve complete secrecy in all matters of security and foreign policy" and thta efforts to get guarantees that it would not happen again had failed.

Opposition deputies in the hinted that the mission was sent to Germany to buy submarines Knesset (parliament) have or submarine equipment to counterbalance the recent acquisition of Soviet submarines by Egypt.

West German officials said they had no request from Israel to buy such equipment.

President Izhak Ben-Zvi, after consulitng with leaders of all 10 of Israel's political parties, asked Ben-Gurion to attempt to form a new government. The president urged that all five parties formerly represented in the cabinet again be included.

In giving his conditional acceptance of the task, Ben-Gurion said he would demand from coalition partners complete secrecy on all cabinet discussions connected with security and foreign policy.

Province's First 1958 Baby Born In Prince Co. Hospital

A baby son, born at 2:15 a.m. in Prince County Hospital, in Summerside, to Mr. and Mrs. Tilmon J. Arsenault, of Abrams Village, was the first 1958 baby born in Prince Edward Island.

At an early hour last evening Prince County Hospital reported four New Year babies, while a check with other hospitals in Prince County indicated that no births had been recorded at hospitals in Tyne Valley, O'Leary, and Alberton.

The 1958 New Year baby, named Joseph Alvin, weighed 7 pounds 1 1-2 ounces, and is the seventh child of Mr. and Mrs. Tilman J. Arsenault, who now have five sons and two daughters.

Runners-up for the New Year baby gifts awarded by Summerside merchants to the first 1958 baby born in any hospital in Prince County, were a daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Gallant, of Miscouche, at 4.55 a.m.; a daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Campbell of Summerside; and a daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Roderick MacDonald of Victoria.

Hold Christmas Service At Kensington

The Kensington Presbyterian Sunday School led in a Christmas Worship service on Thursday evening, December 19th. The theme of the Service being "The Characters of Christmas meet Christ."

While Kenny Waite turned the pages of a huge book depicting each part of the Christmas story, Roscoe Pendleton led the worship and capably acted as "The Reader", introducing the "Characters of Christmas," telling how they either accepted or rejected the new born King. As the reader introduced each part of the service, the theme was carried through with praise, prayer, read ing of scripture and recited poems as follows:

New Year's Happy In Prince Co.

New Year 1958 made its appearance on a happy note in Prince County---free of accidents and injuries.

Several public and numerous private New Year eve parties and dances were well attended, with revellers reporting a most enjoyable holiday evening in the traditonal New Year spirit.

Yesterday levees and receptions at R. C. A. F. Station Summerside, the Canadian Legion, Civic Building, and Airforce Wing Association were also well attended.

The New Year 1958 entered without evidence of snow, and last evening a warm spring-like rain was falling.

Cigarettes, Canteen Supplies Stolen From S'Side Legion

Cigarettes and canteen supplies amounting to some $250.00 were stolen in a break at the Canadian Legion in Summerside early yesterday morning.

Entry to the Legion Home was made by tearing away a section of steel wire mesh covering a washroom window at ground floor level on the east side of the building. A locked door leading into the canteen storage was smashed open and a cigarette vending machine in the lobby was pried apart.

The canteen supplies were apparently carried to the washroom where they were passed through the broken window and loaded into a car in which the thieves are believed to have left the scene.

Yesterday afternoon two young Summerside men, suspects in the break at the Legion, were arrested in the Rustico area by Summerside police and members of the R. C. M. P., However it is understood that none of the stolen merchandise has been recovered.

In another early morning break at the Irving Oil plant on Harvard Street East, a quantity of gasoline was stolen and apparently put into the gas tank of a car in which the thieves were travelling.

In a third incident which apparently has no connection with the other two breaks, culprits believed to have been juveniles stole 18 blue electric light bulbs from two outdoor Christmas trees beside the front door at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Allen on Fitzroy Street.
