COL. FULL DISCUSSES POTATO SITUATION AT ROTARY MEETING

"The restlessness of the potato situation centres around the uncertainties of marketing over which we have no control," Col. G. E. Full said yesterday in addressing a luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club at the Charlottetown Hotel.

"The market value is set daily by the meeting of the minds of 5000 buyers and an equal number of sellers of the potatoes all over this continent, and prices cannot be cut on an unstable product like potatoes," he said. "You have to pay the price and if you do not get it when you sell to the dealer, you are out of business."

1,400,000 acres were under potato production this year in the United States, which with an average yield should just about fill the requirements of that country. "If the yield is short five per cent, it would more than double the price in this province. On the other hand, if there is an increase, you get twenty-five cent potatoes," Col. Full said.

Twenty-five years ago some farmers of the United States were raising 110 bushels to the acre where now they are raising 250 bushels. The big producers in Long Island, which is about a hundred miles from New York City where the potatoes are produced, are producing slightly more than double the potato output of P. E. Island.

PROPOSED PLAN

The present plan proposed by Mr. MacDonal involves the selling of the whole crop through one agency and one management. By this means it is hoped to eliminate selling competition and to control the movement to market, and to demand top prices at all times. To attain this, the promoters assert that they must have a hundred per cent of the crop under their control, and to pool the whole in various pools so that each grower would receive the same returns for the same product.

"You cannot pool service, quality and salesmanship. The lowest quality shipped gives the reputation. The losses on each factor will dominate the whole, as has been proven many times," the speaker said.

Public relations is an important part in any industry and for 25 years public relations of P. E. land potatoes was under the leadership of the late J. V. Boudreau, who, as various situations arose, organized appropriate committees to handle the problems. This he did with natural ability, and was successful in guiding the industry through various crises. Following his retirement, a promotional committee was organized and with financial aid shortly raised $15,000 by levy for promotional and protective work and employed the late Col. C. C. Thompson as manager. This committee was superseded by the present Potato Marketing Board.

"The spirit of co-operation has been missing between various factors of the industry, and industry divided cannot progress," Col. Full added. "I would like to make it clear that although I am usually regarded as a dealer, I do grow potatoes and last year had 175 acres."

Col. Full was introduced by chairman R. C. Parent and thanked by his chairman, Health McIntyre for his informative talk on a subject of deep interest to all.

President Harold Shaw referred with regret to the passing of Mr. W. J. Storey, father of Rotarian Lieut. Col. F. J. Storey, Frank MacKenzie who was absent due to illness and Gordon Milligan who has been out of the province for the past six weeks on business, were both welcomed back to club activities.

Guests of Rotary present were Walter Wilson and Hazen Hogg of Charlottetown, Flint Shurley, Toronto, Lester Garnett, Halifax, N. E. Durman, Toronto, Douglas Ross, Arnprior, Ont., and visiting Rotarian Tom Millon, Truro.

The highlight of the evening was an exceptionally fine address given by Miss Lena MacLure, A.C.M., entitled "Women in the News" in which she described in a most interesting manner, outstanding women she had met and heard in connection with B. & P. Clubs, Women's Institute and C.C.W. conventions while in London in the past two years. The speaker was thanked on behalf of the two clubs by Miss Verna Darrach.

At the conclusion of the business meeting the members of both clubs had an opportunity to become better acquainted when a social hour was enjoyed in the lounge of the hotel. Prizes for scribble were won by Miss Jessie Fraser for bridge by Miss Verna Darrach and Mrs. Emma Bruce.

DISCUSSES PROPOSED NEW SYSTEM OF LIGHTING FOR CHARLOTTETOWN

A complete new lighting system for the City is envisaged by Councilor Elmer MacDonald. At the regular monthly meeting of the City Council yesterday afternoon he told of the effectiveness of one of the Mercury vapour-type lamps now installed on Kent Street opposite the Rendezvous Restaurant.

Two letters from nearby residents were read to the Council and each of them expressed deep thanks to the City for the installations as the light had greatly increased the visibility of the boulevard.

The light, known as "OV-20 Mercury Vapour Lamp," is currently in use in Verdun, Que., and is reported as giving excellent service. It is said to provide 225 per cent more light while consuming 20 per cent less power.

Mr. MacDonald said it was planned to install these lights in the city area bounded by Euston, Weymouth, Dorchester and Pownall streets with three lights to each block.

Repairs to the breastwork at Victoria Park, damaged in recent storms, amounted to nearly $9,000 with labour accounting for most of the expense.

Members of the Council will gather at the City Hall Armistice Day at 10:35 a.m. prior to the official meeting at the corner of Kent and Great George streets for the Remembrance Day procession.

Councillor A. Waltham Gaudet reminded His Worship Mayor Stewart that the Council should be prepared to don morning clothes during the various celebrations in connection with Centennial Year.

All councillors, excepting George Keeffe, who is ill, were present for the afternoon meeting. It had originally been scheduled for the evening but was advanced for the sake of the convenience of members.

MAYOR REVIEWS CENTENNIAL PLANS AT TRINITY MEN'S ASS'N DINNER

Mayor J. D. Stewart was the guest speaker at the regular monthly dinner meeting of Trinity Men's Association held last night in the social hall of the Church.

Mr. Chester Cooper presided at the meeting which heard the Mayor discuss preparations being made for and the anticipated program to be carried out during the Centennial Year celebrations.

There was a good representation of guests from Montague and in recognition of their attendance such large numbers the dinner was given the name "Montague Night."

In addition to guests from Montague, several men from York County, including their minister, Rev. J. M. Sproule were present.

Immediately following the dinner, which was served by the Senior Women's Auxiliary, Mr. Stan Lancaster with Mr. George Thompson at the piano led the group in a lively singsong. Mrs. Pauline Simmons Fear was heard in two delightful vocal solos.

Rev. M. Fraser of Montague United Church introduced the members from Montague and closed the meeting with the Benediction.

In introducing the guest speaker, Mr. Edwin C. Johnstone, referred to Mayor Stewart's accomplishments during the past three years. He noted that the City would have many important visitors during the coming year and it would be the duty and privilege of Mr. Stewart to carry out his duties with dignity and in a manner which will be a credit, not only to the City but to the Province as a whole, said Mr. Johnstone.

RECALLS EARLY HISTORY Mayor Stewart told his listeners something of the historical background of Charlottetown which he said, previous to its incorporation was administered by a man appointed by the Government. His chief duty was to look after the town pump and to arrange for stoneware labor for the repair of the streets. The Fire Department consisted of a bucket brigade which when called to a fire would form two lines, one to pass leather buckets filled with water to the fire and the other to return to empty.

"Many changes have taken place since that time," said the Mayor, "and it is only right that we keep communion with the past while we go forward in the future." He went on to refer to the way of living today as compared to 100 years ago. "In the year 1955 we have a City which is comparable to any other City of its size in Canada in so far as its system of education is concerned," said Mayor Stewart.

"A valuable asset in the Centennial celebrations is the goodwill of the citizens and since goodwill is comprised chiefly of civic pride, it feels sure that each and every citizen of Charlottetown will convey to our visitors the idea that this is a place of which they are proud to be a part," said the Mayor.

Speaking further on some of the events that will take place Mayor Stewart made reference to a proposed beard growing contest that will be run over a period of months. He also noted that on New Year's Eve a town crier will usher in the celebrations by reading the proclamation declaring 1955 "Centennial Year."

In regard to publicity Mayor Stewart spoke of the folders post-
