

RACCOON HUNTING PAYS OFF

Raccoon hunting at night has turned into a profitable activity for John White. Montague, shown here with part of Thursday night's bag which netted him and his companion, Walter Conohan, a pair of of the nocturnal predators. In the last three weeks, Mr. White and Mr. Conohan have killed 76 coons and expect to hit the 100 mark within a few days. Bounty on the animals is $3 each and the pelts are expected to bring $1 each. Mr. White attributes the success of the hunters to the skill of three hounds, trained by Mr. Conohan.

Ch'town Man Is Sentenced To 7 Days On Driving Count

Harry Matthews, Jordan Cross, Charlottetown, was sentenced to seven days in Queens County Jail when he pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated, yesterday afternoon in Queens County magistrate's court.

Magistrate James B. Johnston, Q.C. presided. The testimony of Const. William A. Desjardis, Charlottetown RCMP, was heard in the case of Blair Wendell Beer, Cornwall, who pleaded not guilty to a charge of dangerous driving.

Allison Gillis, attorney for the accused, maintained that his client was guilty of an infraction of the Highway Traffic Act, but not of a Criminal Code charge. The magistrate adjourned the case until Oct. 11 for consideration of the evidence.

The case of Raymond Harold Crosby, charged with driving while his license was suspended,

McGill Graduates Society Hears Speaker, Elects Slate

The annual dinner meeting of the Graduates' Society of McGill University, Prince Edward Island Branch, was held Thursday night at the Charlottetown Hotel. The president of the local branch, T. D. DeBois, presided.

A reception was held before the dinner for graduates and their friends to meet the guest speaker, Dr. H. G. Dion, dean of the faculty of agriculture and vice-principal of Macdonald College, also E. D. Taylor, field secretary of the graduates society. It was one of the largest attended meetings ever held by the P.E.I. branch.

Mr. Taylor showed some very interesting colored slides of the installation of the new principal of McGill, Dr. Rocke Robertson, which took place last spring; and also a colored sequence of slides showing a class reunion which took place a year ago.

Dr. Dion was introduced to the meeting by Mr. DeBois and was thanked for his most interesting address by Lorne Callbeck. Dr. Dion reported that enrollment at McGill would almost touch 10,000 this year, and that preparations were being made to be able to accommodate upwards of 14,000 students within the next five or six years. He gave those present some insight into the future growth and development of McGill and ended by showing some colored slides of Macdonald College, of which he is vice-principal.

Dr. J. A. McKillop, regional vice-president for the Atlantic Provinces of the graduates society also spoke briefly stressing the international reputation that McGill has attained through the years by the fact that between 15 and 20 percent of her students come from countries other than Canada. At the end of the meeting, the chairman of the nominating committee, Dr. P. A. McKillop, brought in the following slate of officers, who were duly elected: Past president, T. D. DeBois; president, Mrs. George H. Buntam; vice-president, Dr. L. H. Kilborn; secretary-treasurer, Dr. Cyril Simst; executive, Miss Joyce MacKinnon, George Laible, Keith Pickard.
