ing certain reparations to lost or dwindling fortunes, or perhaps waning prestige or influence in connection with friends or superiors. A little balm to wounded feelings seems in order, and the outcome has connotations of increased happiness, with possible substantial benefits or blessings worth making a bid for. The mind is kept for this, and the incentive worth the gesture to placate. Sensitive "oldsters" could be stirred to generosity.

A child born on this day has a friendly disposition, with a generous and understanding heart. It's versatile and shrewd as well.

Day After Tomorrow

The horoscope emphasizes the devotion to strengthening the ties, interests and harmony of the domestic scene, since all other matters are under a beneficial and negative sidereal ruling. Little to be gained outside the realm of the inner sanctum, wherein there are subtle forces at work to magnify and enhance its special values. To quote an ancient coat of arms: "Pro Aris et Focis—Our Altars and Our Firesides." It might be a day given over to creative artistic expression.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find it difficult to make any sort of showing in establishing contact with employers, those in place and power, or any from whom favors or preferment may be hoped. In a constructive way there is little of encouragement, unless perhaps in some very special talents devoted to home, dramatic, artistic or creative skills or aspirations. Sordid affairs are discouraged.

A child born on this day could profit by special training in any of the fine arts — music, poetry, modeling—or any practical forms of cultural expression.

dred might be really in love at 15, with a love that would indeed last. Perhaps you are that one. Let time be the judge. You write very nicely—much better than most of my 15-year-old correspondents. Also, the fact that you plan sensibly to wait until your boy comes out of the Navy to marry is further proof that you may be sensible enough to know your own mind. For your sake, I hope so.

DEAR MISS DIX: My daughter is 14 and likes a man of 28 who is in the Marines. He tells her he loves her. He was married at 19, and later divorced. He admits he still loves his former wife. Can you convince my daughter that she is wrong in thinking about him? I try to tell her he is no good for her, but he keeps insisting he will marry her and she believes him.

ANSWER: Your daughter is certainly a stubborn child to be so deaf to warnings as obvious as those you depict. The man is making a fool of her and she'll be the laughing stock of town if she doesn't wake up. You should order him to leave her alone, and, if he doesn't, report the matter to his commanding officer. He may be able to persuade the man to keep away from your child.

Miss Nissen cannot reply personally to readers but will answer problems of general interest through this column.
