Traffic Safety is Topic Of Address to Rotary

Sgt. E.I. Tedford, in charge of highway traffic enforcement in the province and at present in temporary charge of the Charlottetown RCMP, was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of Rotary held in the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday.

Introduced by Sterling McNeil, the speaker, in keeping with "Safety Week in Canada '63" dealt with "Highway Traffic Safety."

"I am firmly convinced that a provincial Highway Safety Council, consisting of representatives from all the various groups would prove to be very effective and a move in the right direction," the speaker said.

"This is the only province in Canada where a council is not in operation and from my observations, the councils elsewhere have been highly effective in their work."

Sgt. Tedford quoting accident statistics to date this year outside Charlottetown and Summerside said there were 850 reported accidents, showing an increase over the total of any other year in the province. "This means that one out of every 4,000 is injured or killed in highway accidents," he said.

"Every accident is the result of a violation or not following an obligation as a member of the community," the speaker stated.

As enforcement goes down, accidents go down. However there are more miles traveled by more cars and more driving licenses issued. Traffic law enforcement is not popular but it is nothing more important in respect to law enforcement as accidents take lives and hit your pocketbook. When rating it with other phases of law, these points should be looked into.

"Warnings are given five times to one enforcement. Voluntary compliance with regulations would show a vast improvement because only 20 per cent of the drivers contribute to 80 per cent of the accidents," Sgt. Tedford said.

Referring to improvements in the past year, he said that 300 Tedford commended shaperoof glass, recessed starting, padded dash and better tires. Increased horsepower unfortunately is a disadvantage in "discipline," he pointed out.

SEAT BELTS URGED

The speaker highly recommended safety seat belts under your seat with the belt under you. Use it constantly, you have one-third better chance to escape death or serious injury. Seat belts are not for insurance. All police cars have them. Have a good look ahead—seat belts may save your life," he said.

The Co-chairman John Butler thanked the speaker on behalf of the club.

Reporting on the career counselling program in which Rotary played an important part, Ralph Manning stated that the attendance last year and finished off the year with 850 students participating under leadership given by 23 counselors.

Guests of Rotary were, Hon. Philip Matheson, Rev. Peter MacDonald, Rev. W. McGeachy, Rev. J. Gallant and Arthur McGowan, City; Conan MacGregor, Halifax; Chief Justice Thame A. Campbell, Summerside and Curt Hurtle, Halifax, were visiting Rosebank.

"An early cause is a rush to work to avoid being late, or an effort to get somewhere in a hurry, which would have been avoided by an earlier start. An immediate cause might be wet or icy pavement or poor visibility. A direct cause may be an approaching vehicle. Eliminate any of these causes and avoid accidents," the speaker said.

British Economy Makes Advance

LONDON (AP)—A series of economic indicators released Monday by the government showed continued improvement in the British economy after last winter's downward curve. Gold reserves, retail sales and trade all rose.

The treasury reported that gold and convertible currency reserves rose $156,000 during October to a total of $2,755,000. This is still $67,300 below the level of last October, but officials were optimistic. In the last year, reserves suffered serious setbacks because of the bad winter and Britain's failure to enter the Common Market.

Exports in the third quarter rose one per cent above the second. Imports went up five per cent. Both indices had been rising earlier in the year.

Total value of retail sales was up four per cent in September over the year before, the same increase as in July and August.

A Tale of Two Citizens

"It was a depression year, it was a good year, opportunities were scarce, opportunities were everywhere, fortune frowned, fortune smiled, one man rises in the depths of despair, one man rises riding the crest."

Probably, the explanation is simple. One man, having given no heed for tomorrow was wallowing in self pity because no opportunities came his way.

The other, with a solid financial background, saw avenues of progress on every hand. This man had wisely purchased sufficient permanent personal life insurance so that he had the financial stability to be offered chances of advancement—and the borrowing power, if he had, to take advantage of them.

The secret of success is often as simple as that. Today you can make plans for a brighter financial future. May we suggest you talk over some life and health insurance needs with a trained representative of The Excelsior Life Insurance Company, the company helping Canadians help themselves to peace of mind.

Shipbuilding Plant Plans For Georgetown Are Outlined

By DON MACLEOD

Confirmation was given yesterday by Premier Walter R. Shaw that a New Brunswick shipbuilding firm, Bathurst Marine Limited, with the assistance of the provincial government is locating its facilities at Georgetown.

Granted a 200,000 loan on a 12-year plan, work on the new plant is getting underway immediately. Additional assistance to the project is being provided by the government in training Island people to become qualified welders, electricians, steel erectors and millwrights through a vocational and apprentice program.

John A. MacNeil, president of Bathurst Marine Limited, has advised the government that within a relatively short time the shipyard will employ upwards of 200 people. The company will be building ships for the Canadian fishing fleet, and also for Gulf Gardens Foods Limited, which will be erected in the spring of 1964 at Georgetown. It is expected that at least seven ships will be built for the Georgetown plant.

SOURIS FLEET LARGER

It was also pointed out by Fisheries Minister Leo Rouleau that the P.E.I. Fishermen's Loan Board is planning to enlarge the Souris dragger fleet and 114 Georgetown shipbuilding company may hire these dragnets.

Premier Shaw said "to aid in immediate construction at Georgetown with a ship building plant, a large machine shop operation, and a sizeable of fish processing plant, the province will be approximately 200 feet in length and 80 feet in width. This plant will enable a ship construction to continue in place during the winter months. Since the plant is now being prefabricated, it is expected to be ready for use in early June. The company anticipates that its first ship launching at Georgetown will take place in the early spring of 1964."

TOWN GIVES LAND

The town of Georgetown through its town council, has contributed an 80-acre tract of land in the vicinity of the marine railway for the plant. The town council has agreed to contribute about 30, Island people will be employed at the shipbuilding plant.

Premier Shaw said "company spokesmen have told us that the excellent harbor at Georgetown has had a great bearing on the decision to locate there. It is also felt that because of the facilities available that the company will be in a position to do considerable ship repair work. Among other things, the company will also make, or be in a position to repair, wooden ships."
