

COMPACT CAR DUE OCT. 8

Ford of Canada's first entry in the economy car field, a brand new automobile from top to bottom, the six-passenger Falcon is powered by a 90-horsepower front-mounted engine and is offered in two-door and four-door models. The Falcon is 1,400 pounds lighter than conventional North American type vehicles, offers unusual roominess and fuel economy. Tested under all operating conditions and types of driving, over hundreds of thousands of miles, it has demonstrated its ability to average better than 32 miles per gallon (Imperial of gasoline).

Rural Youth Fair, Harvest Exhibition, Prize Winners

Harold G. Coffin of Cherry Hill, Mt. Stewart, emerged the Seed Potato Champion following the judging of the exhibits Friday, as the Rural Youth Fair and Harvest Exhibition came to a close.

Alton Rodd of North Milton captured the table stock championship while the reserve table stock potato championship went to Raymond Vessey of York who also had the Reserve Seed Potato Championship.

The Field Crop Seed championship went to Keith Wheatley of Warren Grove with Charles Jones of Pownal getting the Reserve. The following are the results of the judging of the various exhibits:

VEGETABLES
Broccoli: 1. Joseph H. MacInnes, St. Peter's Bay; 2. Rollie MacDonald, St. Peter's Bay; 3. Donald Anderson, St. Peter's Bay.
Brussels sprouts: 1. H. Parker Jewell, York; 2. Vessey's Seeds, York; 3. Raymond Vessey, York.
Cabbage, Copenhagen: 1. Vessey's Seeds, York; 2. M.G. Foster, York; 3. Guy Pierce, Brackley.
Cabbage, ball head type: 1. Stanley Willis, Cornwall; 2. Vessey's Seeds, York; 3. H. Parker Jewell, York.
Cauliflower: 1. Stanley Willis, Cornwall; 2. H. Parker Jewell; 3. Vessey's Seeds.

Celery: 1. G.H. VanKampen, Spring Park, Charlottetown; 2. H. Parker Jewell; 3. Mrs. Alton A. Rodd, North Milton.
Corn: 1. Bert Haneveld, Montague; 2. M.G. Foster; 3. Raymond Vessey, York.
Cucumbers, Pickling: 1. Eleanor Hyde, Meadow Bank; 2. Raymond Vessey, York.
Squash: 1. H. Parker Jewell; 2. Raymond Vessey; 3. Douglas Rodd, North Milton.

POLITICAL DARKNESS
Labor Leader Hugh Gaitskell arrived at a hall in suburban London to deliver an election speech. Pop! A fuse went. He reached the stage by the light of a movie cameraman's floodlight just as the lights went on.
Gaitskell opened his mouth to speak and off went the lights again.

He manfully plowed through about half of his speech before electricians got the lights working again.

COLD TRAIL
Ontario Provincial Police admitted the search for two wide-ranging kidnapers was at a complete standstill.
The trail of the two, who kidnapped 11 persons during an across-the-province flight from Niagara - on - the - Lake - petered out at Morrisburg.

Spring Wheat, any variety: 1. Keith Wheatley.
Field Beans, white: 1. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones; 2. H. Parker Jewell.
Field beans, coloured: 1. Bert Hooper; 2. H. Parker Jewell; 3. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones.
Timothy Seed: 2. Raymond Vessey; 3. Eric Leard, North Milton. (note judge said quality did not merit a first place award.)

FRUIT
Apples, Melba: 1. P.L. Smallwood, Charlottetown.
Apples, Gravenstein: 1. Everett Howatt, Jr.; 2. Beatrice Reeves, Cross Roads, Southport; 3. Harold G. Coffin.
Apples, McIntosh: 1. Bert Haneveld; 2. P.L. Smallwood; 3. Smallwood.
Apples, Wealthy: 1. Bert Haneveld; 2. Eric Leard; 2. Everett Howatt, Jr.

Apples, Lobo: 1. P.L. Smallwood; 2. Beatrice Reeves; 3. Bert Haneveld.
Apples, Cortland: 1. Bert Haneveld; 2. Everett Howatt, Jr.; 3. Beatrice Reeves.
Apples, Red Delicious: 1. Bert Haneveld; 2. P.L. Smallwood; 3. Beatrice Reeves.
Apples, Northern Spy: 1. Beatrice Reeves; 2. Bert Haneveld; 3. P.L. Smallwood.

Apples, Hume: 1. P.L. Smallwood; 2. Everett Howatt, Jr.; 3. Beatrice Reeves and Bert Haneveld. (tied).
Apples, any other variety: 1. P.L. Smallman; 2. Everett Howatt, Jr.; 3. Bert Haneveld.
Crabapples, any variety: 1. Bert Haneveld; 2. Eric Leard; 3. P.L. Smallwood.

Apples, collection, five varieties: 1. Everett Howatt, Jr.; 2. P.L. Smallwood; 3. Bert Haneveld.
Pears, Bartlett: 1. Bert Haneveld; 2. Everett Howatt, Jr.; 3. Leary.

Apples, collection, five varieties: 1. Everett Howatt, Jr.; 2. P.L. Smallwood; 3. Bert Haneveld.
Pears, Bartlett: 1. Bert Haneveld; 2. Everett Howatt, Jr.; 3. Leary.

Apples, collection, five varieties: 1. Everett Howatt, Jr.; 2. P.L. Smallwood; 3. Bert Haneveld.
Pears, Bartlett: 1. Bert Haneveld; 2. Everett Howatt, Jr.; 3. Leary.

Apples, collection, five varieties: 1. Everett Howatt, Jr.; 2. P.L. Smallwood; 3. Bert Haneveld.
Pears, Bartlett: 1. Bert Haneveld; 2. Everett Howatt, Jr.; 3. Leary.

Khrushchev's Words Said Sharp, Amusing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The words of Nikita Khrushchev flow easily, sometimes suavely, sometimes sharply, sometimes amusingly.

Here are some of the outstanding examples of what he said in his travels around the U. S. — either in public or as quoted by those who heard him:

The question of Hungary has stuck in some people's throats as a dead rat. They feel it unpleasant, yet cannot spit it out.

If we don't give a capitalist turkey and a Communist turkey a passport, no one can tell the difference.

The essence of our proposals is that over a period of four years all states should effect complete disarmament and should no longer have any means of waging war.

I'm an old sgarrow, so to say.

Champion Harold G. Coffin, Cherry Hill, Mt. Stewart. Reserve Raymond Vessey.

TABLE STOCK POTATO
Early varieties: 1. Alton Rodd; 2. Raymond Vessey; 3. Harold G. Coffin.
Intermediate and late varieties: 1. Raymond Vessey; 2. Alton Rodd; 3. Guy Pierce, Brackley.
Champion Alton Rodd; North Milton.
Reserve Raymond Vessey.

Nikita Was Yank's Ranking Tourist As He Toured U.S. Coast To Coast

By KEN SMITH
Canadian Press Staff Writer
The United States' most prominent tourist, Premier Khrushchev, turned from the corn fields of the Midwest to start his private talks at Camp David, Md., with President Eisenhower.

It was a week of ups and downs for the visitor—ups and downs in temper, reception and feelings.

He appeared to lose his temper in Los Angeles in response to some loaded questioning by Mayor Norris Poulson, regained his good humor in San Francisco, and was happy plowing through the corn fields of Iowa on the farm of Roswell Garst.

He got a warm reception in San Francisco, another at Des Moines, Iowa, but ran into boos and coolness at Pittsburgh as he returned to the East.

There were reports in Des Moines that he was feeling the effects of his fast-stepping tour, but he indignantly shrugged off suggestions that he slow down.

GRISLY FIND
"I bet you're afraid," taunted a teen-aged boy.
"I am not," angrily replied 11-year-old Ronnie McCauley. "I'll show you."

He crawled slowly through a broken door panel into a tomb in a cemetery near Charlotte, N.C., in response to a dare from his friends. Seconds later, he yelled in terror and scrambled out as fast as he could.
In the tomb, lying between a row of coffins, Ronnie had found the body of an elderly woman. Police said Mrs. Foy Belle Cooper, 72, had been raped and murdered, and her body hidden in the tombs in the hope that it wouldn't be found for a long time.

LAST FLIGHT
The Spitfire, victor in the Battle of Britain and a hero of the Second World War, successfully completed its last mission.

The long-nosed fighter, which flew more than 935,000 sorties against the Luftwaffe, led an air parade over London to mark the 20th anniversary of Germany's air assault on Britain.

Then it wheeled off and, with war hero Air Vice-Marshal Harold John Macquire at the controls, headed for its home base in Kent. It never got there.

The powerful Merlin engine sputtered, then stopped. Macquire glided in a circle, looking for a spot to set the aircraft down. He spotted a cricket field deserted by players only minutes earlier—and lifted the tired old plane over a hedge for a wheels-up crash-landing.

Macquire suffered a slight strain to his back. The crash confirmed an earlier decision of the air ministry—the Spitfire won't fly any more.

WILFUL WOOPER
Peter Collins of Southend, England, isn't one of your, wisy-washy modern men.

Having trouble persuading his girl friend to marry him, he slammed an ether-soaked rag over her mouth, tied her up and dumped her in a truck to drive to the registry office.

But the police didn't approve of his initiative. Called by a passerby, they arrested Collins and he was ordered held for trial.

OPEN NORTH
Prime Minister Diefenbaker offered to let Premier Khrushchev inspect any area of Northern Canada he thinks is being used by the United States for military bases—provided Russia agrees to open its northland.

He departed from a prepared text in a speech before the annual convention of the French-Language Weekly Newspapers Publishers Association at Mont Tremblant, Que., to issue his challenge.

He said that disarmament proposals are simply words unless there is adequate provision for inspection and safeguards.

"The Western world should leave no doubts that it believes strongly in anything that can be done to reduce cold war tensions and reduce the price of security."

FATAL TASTE
A mushroom-picking expedition killed two Ottawa residents and put two others in a hospital.

Mona Holm, 23-year-old Swedish immigrant, suffered a relapse after appearing on the way to recovery after eating poisonous mushrooms and died. Gerald Emile Nault, 27, had died earlier.

Paul Nault was discharged from hospital and his wife Pauline was reported to be improving.

cards as identification to cash bad cheques.
Six persons were arrested, three in the United States, and police were questioning others in connection with the ring, which police said could have cashed as much as $250,000 in bad cheques by using the forged cards.

ROYAL NEWS
The Queen, expecting her third child early in the new year, will not make her usual appearance on television at Christmas.

Instead, she will record her annual Christmas message to the Commonwealth to be broadcast by radio.

London newspapers again sought a mate for Princess Margaret, this time linking her name with that of Montreal lawyer John Turner.

A spokesman for the princess said he had nothing to say about the reports, but her close friends said, "ignore it."

Margaret met Turner when she visited Canada in 1958.

GUARANTEED CREDIT
Montreal police said they broke up an international fraud ring that used forged credit cards as identification to cash bad cheques.

Six persons were arrested, three in the United States, and police were questioning others in connection with the ring, which police said could have cashed as much as $250,000 in bad cheques by using the forged cards.

POLITICAL DARKNESS
Labor Leader Hugh Gaitskell arrived at a hall in suburban London to deliver an election speech. Pop! A fuse went.

He reached the stage by the light of a movie cameraman's floodlight just as the lights went on.

Gaitskell opened his mouth to speak and off went the lights again.

He manfully plowed through about half of his speech before electricians got the lights working again.

COLD TRAIL
Ontario Provincial Police admitted the search for two wide-ranging kidnapers was at a complete standstill.

The trail of the two, who kidnapped 11 persons during an across-the-province flight from Niagara - on - the - Lake - petered out at Morrisburg.

Holman's Foodland

Where The Best Foods Cost Less!

BEGINNING of the WEEK SPECIALS

Effective Tuesday & Wednesday Sept. 29 & 30 ONLY

If You Can't Come In...
SHOP BY PHONE

★ 8510 ★ 8519

Charlottetown Store

FREE DELIVERY ON ALL ORDERS

EXTRA LEAN
Minced Beef	FREE 20 OZ. BAG ONIONS WITH EACH	2 lbs. 65c
FROZEN LOIN
Lamp Chops		lb. 39c
SPECIAL BLEND
Tea	1 lb. pkg.	59c
PERFECTION EVAPORATED
Milk	16 oz. tins	6 for 75c
CLARK'S
Tomato Juice	48 oz. tin	2 for 53c
WILTSHIRE CANADA FIRST GRADE
Butter	2 lb.	1.25
JUMBO SIZE—SNO-WHITE
Cauliflower	ea.	19c
NOVA SCOTIA GRAVENSTEIN
Apples	5 lb. bag	33c

A Boy's First Duck Is His Best

The excitement of entering into a man's world for the first time is captured in Weekend's photostory about a boy out duck hunting with his father. The cameras follow them from the camp into the marshes for a successful shoot and back home to watch the bird going into the oven.

Harry Oakes, Part III

A detailed account of the events preceding and following the brutal bludgeon-fire murder of Sir Harry Oakes is given in the third part of Weekend's condensation of the new book by Geoffrey Bocca.

A Smaller Thanksgiving

Weekend Food Editor Margaret Oliver comes to the rescue of small families that cannot cope with the huge traditional Thanksgiving dinner. Her recipes for Ruby Cocktail, Chicken en Cocotte, Cheese Puffs and Creamy Pumpkin Pie are tailor-made and tempting.

A Camera in Russia

Moscow is a city that is generally thought to be sombre, but two Montrealers found an exciting after-dark world of bright lights, fine theatre, ice cream vendors and amusement parks: Sam Schechter and Gaby conclude their three-part photostory with a glimpse of Moscow's gay, bright nights.

Ruth's Fabulous 60th

The whack of wood on ball echoed in every nook and cranny of Yankee Stadium — it had to be a homer. It was. Babe Ruth hit his historic 60th home run in 1927, and the record still stands. Weekend Sports Editor Andy O'Brien recalls the memorable game in his feature story this week.

Uncle Louis' Deflection

Lovable, laughable Uncle Louis returns to Weekend in a delightful story by Robert Fontaine. In this anecdote Uncle Louis becomes a misunderstood hero when he rescues a lovely, drowning lady. To add insult to injury, Louis' first venture into larceny is foiled by his conscientious nephew.

The Scalawags

Greg Clark tells about Jeremy Diddler, a late night vigil, and a delicious dinner with a surprise ending.

Your best reading value is your week-end newspaper!

Rummage Sales

What's needed for a successful rummage sale, besides rummage? It's the knack of practically giving away used clothing and household articles while at the same time running up a handsome total for worthy causes. Weekend's photostory brings a look at the country's biggest rummage sale, in Toronto, but the scenes could have been shot at any of the hundreds of sales that take place across Canada each year.

Star at the Met?

Teresa Stratas, a Toronto-trained opera singer, will make her debut with the Metropolitan Opera Company this fall. Her success is due partly to luck and amazing accident, but largely it is due to her steadfast determination to make the grade. Weekend introduces this very talented star-to-be in this issue.

THE EVENING PATRIOT