

THE DAILY EXAMINER. JULY 16, 1884.

The Democratic Nomination.

The great advantages to a political party and its candidate obtained by the holding of a properly constituted Convention, and the proper selection of a strong candidate, are being now shown in the United States.

"Now let us all pull together in sweet harmony. This is the mot d'ordre: 'Beat Blaine'."

"Interviews with business men in this city, of every shade of politics, show the popularity of Cleveland's nomination."

"If anything were necessary to convince the Democratic Convention of the supreme wisdom of its selection of candidates for President and Vice President, it is furnished by the unconcealed disappointment of the Blaine organs."

"The Democratic Convention has done its work well. The nomination of Grover Cleveland, demanded by the overwhelming sentiment of the party will be hailed as an omen of success all over the United States."

"Mr. Beecher likes Cleveland and he likes Hendricks. He would have been pleased with the nomination of either for President."

"This evening a more extended ratification of the whole ticket is going on, with processions, bands, fireworks and speeches, in addition to the usual bell-ringing."

The Democrats of Augusta, the home of Blaine, tender their sincere congratulations and their undivided support in the coming campaign.

All along the river from Skowhegan to Bath the Democrats are making the echoes ring again with their rejoicings.

The delegates of the Amalgamated Trade and Labor Union, comprising the various trades organizations and mechanics in general, at a meeting held last night individually expressed themselves in favor of Grover Cleveland for President as against Blaine.

"There was gun-firing all over the country when the nomination of Cleveland was announced yesterday. 'One hundred guns are now being fired' is the way the despatches read from every section."

"The cold stormy weather we have had for the past three days may be accounted for on the supposition either that it is what is known as 'the sheep storm,' come a month later than usual, or that it is the result of the following paragraph in the Toronto Globe:—"

"Temperatures above 90 degrees for days together were experienced in Winnipeg in June, and whole of Northern Canada, from the upper Ottawa to the Athabasca, has experienced the early advent of warm weather."

"As a weather prophet the Globe will soon rank as high as the late lamented Mr. Venner!"

"A correspondent of the Montreal Gazette is advocating closer trade relations between Canada and the West Indies. He says:—"

"Let Canada take advantage of the present melancholy position of the British West Indies by endeavoring to make a reciprocity treaty with them. This may induce some of the ministry and some of the leaders of the opposition to open an old geography and to endeavour to ascertain where Jamaica is situated, for I take it for granted that they have heard that there is such a place and that it is an island."

"While Canadians have been sleeping, the New Yorkers have been wide awake. Three lines of steamers to the West Indies show what enterprise can do."

"The Patriot, which was contemptible before the Hon. David Laird left for Ireland, and is beneath contempt now, finds nothing better to do at the present juncture than to revive an old worn-out slander against the Hon. Samuel Prowse, and to bestow upon him an opprobrious nickname,—on the ground, forsooth, that the man who misrepresented him has been made a school trustee by the Montague school district! Mr. Prowse is too honest and manly to be disturbed by anything the Patriot may say, or anything his slanderers may do."

A Voice from Belfast.

A CORRESPONDENT residing at Belfast—a highly respected and influential supporter of the Liberal-Conservative Party—writes: "I fully agree with you in regard to a Convention; and I think no time should be lost. It is essential that whoever the candidate is to be should have the nomination of a full convention of delegates from all parts of the County."

The same correspondent, while ready to accept the nominee of a Convention and to promote the united and successful action of the party in every way he can, is personally very strongly in favor of the candidature of Donald Montgomery, Esquire, whose name was brought forward and very favorably received at the last Liberal-Conservative Convention held in Charlottetown, and has been freely mentioned in connection with the prospective election. With regard to Mr. Montgomery, he writes: "I can say, as far as I am acquainted with the district, that he would poll a vote equal to any of those proposed, and more than some of them, or, perhaps, any of them. He is well thought of."

We agree with our correspondent that Mr. Montgomery "is well thought of,"—and for the best reasons in the world. Thomas Carlyle, in one of his speeches or letters, says: "They are a growing kind of men who can wisely combine these two things—wisely and valiantly can do what is laid to their hand in their present sphere and prepare themselves withal for doing other wider things, it such lie before them."

Mr. Montgomery is one of this kind of men. He has worked his way upwards, and paid his way as he went, and he has all the while been preparing for the "wider things" which lay before him. For the position of a representative in Parliament he possesses several special qualifications. There is no man on the Island who is more familiar with questions in Dominion politics, or who has a better grasp of the whole "situation"; and those who have heard him on the stump, in the Local Legislation, and as a lecturer on education, can testify that he is a clear and vigorous speaker—one who never fails to gain the ear of the house. To these special qualifications he adds perfect familiarity with the interests of the whole County and Island, good powers of persuasion, and an unspotted character—all of which would enhance his value as a representative. When he was in charge of the Normal School it was exceedingly well managed; and since he became head of the Education Department, we have not heard of a single hitch,—so that his administrative ability has been proved. He was not long in the Local Legislature before he had made his mark, and if elected to the Dominion Parliament, he would soon make his mark at Ottawa. One of the people themselves, and intimately acquainted with their feelings and wants, Mr. Montgomery would, of course, in the event of his nomination and his acceptance of the candidature, be sustained throughout the contest by the sympathies of the people, and, in all probability, be elected by a very large majority.

These remarks will, we trust, be accepted, as they are intended, without prejudice to any candidate who may be properly selected. Similar remarks might, indeed, be applied to several of the gentlemen whose names have been mentioned in connection with the candidature; and with respect to one or two of them, who are older than Mr. Montgomery and have been longer in politics, even more might be said. THE EXAMINER is anxious that while our selection should be rightly made, there should be united, harmonious and cordial action and co-operation throughout the contest.

Provincial Exhibition, 1884.

The Board of Commissioners met yesterday, July 15th, at the Law Courts Building. Among those present were His Honor Lieut.-Governor Haviland, Q. C., Hon. Senator Haythorne, Hon. Donald Ferguson, Hon. L. McMillan, Henry Longworth, Chas. C. Gardiner, John T. Jenkins, Edward Bayfield, F. T. Newbery, Capt. M. McLeod, Wm. Match, Frank Boyer, Alex. Scott, Isaac Thompson, Esquires. The revised Prize List, as prepared by the committee appointed for that purpose, was submitted to the meeting and, after some additional premiums were added to the list, it was unanimously adopted and ordered to be published for general distribution.

The cash prizes offered by the Board amount to $1,500, exclusive of special prizes offered by enterprising citizens to advance some of the leading industries of the Province, amounting already to about $200, with several others to hear from. Parties wishing to encourage any special enterprise would do well to give in their names and the amounts they propose to award. Among the leading special prizes already offered are $50 by the owners of the celebrated horse Barrister, for his stock, Champion Creamer and money prizes to the value of $100 will be given by R. K. Brace for the best samples of butter made with cream from his Creamers. Mr. Brace will also give the Board a special prize of $25 cash, which amount will be duplicated by the Board, make in all $50, which will be awarded in prizes for the best packages of butter, not less than 25 lbs. each; the keeping qualities of which are to be tested by being sealed after the Exhibition and stored in a suitable place and not disturbed until July 1st, 1885, when the packages will be inspected by competent Judges and awarded the prizes as follows: 1st prize, $25; 2nd prize, $15; 3rd prize, $10. All competitors in this class when making their entries must submit in writing a statement showing whether the cream had been raised by shallow setting or in Creamers—giving also a description of the kind of utensils used, also the quality and quantity of salt used in the manufacture of the butter. Butter competing at the Exhibitions in any of the other sections, may be entered also, for those very handsome special prizes.

F. T. Newbery, Esq., offers a prize of $5 for the best specimen of fodder corn at the Exhibition. Further special prizes expected. A sheep shed is ordered to be erected on the grounds, also a suitable covering for carriages. Robert Smallwood, Esq., will give a special prize of $20 for the three best sawn quarter thousand bundles of shingles cut from any of the common varieties of wood used for shingles, made by shingle machines manufactured by Mr. Boyer. Competition open to all the Provinces. A letter from Mr. Henry Coombs was read at the meeting, urging the necessity of improved dairy and other farm appliances, especially in packages for shipping purposes. Mr. Coombs' letter, containing many useful and practical hints, was well received by the meeting.

Mr. Brace notified the Board that the Rev. A. C. McDonald, of Cape Breton, W. H. Lynch, Esq., of Quebec, and W. B. Alley, Esq., of Truro, would shortly visit the Island in the interest of Dairymen Associations. During their visit it may be expected that a public meeting will be held relative to that important question. A. McNEILL, Secretary Provincial Exhibition. July 16, 1884.

The Quebec Telegraph of July 10th says:—Major Hopper, the active and careful manager of this live company, is in town. He leaves by boat this afternoon for Montreal. During his stay here, he has deposited another $5,000, making in all $10,000 in the hands of the Provincial Treasurer, for the benefit of the policy-holders. The company intend to increase this sum to $15,000 in September, and by the end of next year, they hope to swell the deposit to $50,000. The company is doing a remarkable good business, as the list of members is increasing daily. The only claim against the company was paid last week, being thirty days in advance of the allotted time allowed by law. It was a policy on the life of R. B. Bolyea, who along with his wife and two daughters, were drowned among the ill-fated passengers on board the "City of Columbus," which was wrecked on the American coast this spring. His life was insured for $5,000 and the policy was hardly one year in existence. The Provident is a strong company and is represented in Charlottetown by Mr. Theo. L. Chappelle.

Wreck of an Island Vessel. Capt. Stephen Keene, schr. City Point, of Portland, Maine, arrived at this port on Thursday with crew of schr. Alpine, of Georgetown, P. E. I., Capt. Hillman, which was abandoned on W.-Wednesday in a sinking condition, off Indian Island. The Alpine was from Georgetown for Halifax, and had been six days out from Beaver harbor, during which time a dense fog had prevailed. She had about four feet of water in the hold, and the main boom broken when spoken by the City Point. The crew were completely exhausted with pumping. Owing to the heavy sea and the proximity of the vessel to the shore very few of the effects of the crew were saved. Capt. Keene and crew ran the risk of losing their vessel and lives in rescuing the crew of the Alpine, and no doubt some substantial reward will be tendered them in recognition of their humanity and bravery.—Liverpool Times, 7th.

Items from Souris. Rev. J. J. Colter arrived home last evening. He was attending the United Methodist Conference in St. John.

The schr. Arizona, of Portland, which put into this port on Sunday, picked up a dory containing a corpse a few miles from Port Hood. It proved to be a youth of some twelve years of age, recognized as a Benoit, of Harbor Bouche. Deceased's clothing was in the boat, which was almost full of water. It is supposed the boy was swimming, drifted out to sea, and died from fear and exposure. His remains were interred to-day in the R. C. Cemetery.

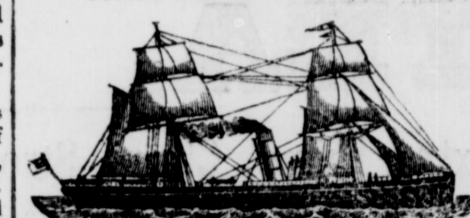

The Volunteers, under Capt. Leslie, arrived home Saturday evening. Their faces told of the searching rays of old Sol.

The American fleet are not doing all they would wish in seining mackerel. It is reported that a number of them have sailed for home.
