Action Against Peronists Is Pondered In Argentina

CP from Reuters-AP
BUENOS AIRES — President Jose Maria Guido Monday night was considering a decree calling for a takeover by the Argentine federal government of the administration of all the provinces.
The decree was considered a move that would mark the start of a major drive against supporters of exiled former dictator Juan Peron.
Alejandro Barraca, general secretary of the presidential office announced earlier that the decree had been signed by Guido.
But Interior Minister Ernesto Lanusse later rejected Barraca's announcement as "premature" and declared that "intervention in the provinces is still under consideration by President Guido."
Monday Guido withdrew his request for two more years in office.
Lanusse declared this meant that before the week is out Guido would call for new presidential elections. The law stipulates the voting must take place within 90 days of the announcement.
Guido's sudden move, coming amid reports he was yielding to military demands that he wipe out election triumphs by followers of Peron, was understood to be part of the preparation for annulling results of the March 18 vote.

WON VICTORY
Peronists won a landslide victory in balloting for provincial and congressional offices, touching off the prolonged crisis that brought the country to the brink of the civil war.
Military anger over the Peronist gains led to the overthrow of President Arturo Frondizi April 28 and his banishment to a remote naval base.
Guido took office the next day and began to press congress to pass a measure giving him until May 1, 1964—the end of Frondizi's term—to call elections for a successor.
The Senate already had passed the bill and the Chamber of Deputies was to act on it when Guido sent a message withdrawing the request.
The interior minister said Congress would meet in a wind-up session before May 1, the date the Peronists were to take office.
Even after sending his message to Congress Guido continued a marathon round of talks with political and military leaders in an effort to keep the simmering crisis within bounds.
The navy demanded Sunday that Guido sign decrees wiping out the Peronist victories. In an obvious move to put punch behind the words, naval chiefs ordered a 500-man marine unit to the capital area for use in case of disorder.

Traffic Is Heavy As Seaway Opens

MONTREAL (CP)—A steady stream of ships moved through the 185-mile St. Lawrence Seaway Monday as the giant inland water system finally opened to traffic.
The resumption of traffic was greeted with a sign of relief from shipping officials who for two weeks have seen vessels delayed by labor and mechanical problems.

Heathman Is Arrested By Police In Seattle

SEATTLE (CP) — Police arrested Charles Heathman in this world's fair city Monday ending a two-day manhunt touched off by his confession to the murder of a 10-year-old boy.
Heathman, 39, twice sentenced to hang for the slaying, was taken into custody without a struggle on a downtown street and taken to police headquarters where officers said he readily admitted his identity.

The arrest was made by city patrolman Ted Fonis who recognized Heathman from photographs sent to U.S. police and security guards at the Century 21 fairgrounds.
The manhunt started after a Vancouver newspaper published Heathman's confession to the killing of Donald Otley, a Vernon, B.C. newsboy on Labor Day, 1960.
He was convicted by two juries and sentenced to hang. The British Columbia Court of Appeal ordered a retrial after the first conviction and acquitted him after the second.

ORDERS ARREST
Attorney-General Robert Bonner ordered the arrest of Heathman under the provincial Mental Hospitals Act after the Vancouver Sun informed authorities of the confession Saturday 2 1/2 hours before it was published.
The search switched to Seattle after a bus driver said Heathman and a woman, identified as his cousin, Mrs. Anna Willoughby of Vancouver, got off his bus at Seattle Saturday.
Police located Mrs. Willoughby in Seattle shortly after the arrest of Heathman.
Officers said Heathman told them the law could not do anything to him, apparently a reference to the law of double jeopardy.

He was turned over to U.S. immigration authorities who said the next move would depend on questioning of Heathman, a native of Winnipeg.
In a statement The Sun said Heathman was paid $500 for his confession. It gave an undertaking not to inform authorities for 12 hours.
The Sun said the money was given to Mrs. Willoughby in the hope that she would make sure that Heathman got psychiatric treatment.
In his confession, Heathman told of uncontrollable urges to kill during drinking bouts.

HIS ORDEAL IS OVER

Miner Russell Baskin, 34, plucked in a rockfall 54 hours at the 4,200-foot level of Macassa Gold Mine, Kirkland Lake, Ontario, is brought to the surface by rescuers. He is recovering in hospital. His fellow employee, Ryszard Wilczak, 38, was found dead seven hours later. Baskin, although badly bruised and suffering from shock, asked the score of a Stanley Cup hockey game shortly after the rescue team reached him.

Floods Cause Little Worry In Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP) — Surface flooding from ice-jammed creeks is prevalent throughout southern Manitoba, with dozens of small lakes suddenly dotting the plain, but officials in Winnipeg so far are unworried.
In Winnipeg, at the junction of the Red and Assiniboine Rivers, the water has reached first stage, but city engineer W. D. Hurst says, "Flood officials feel that when this runoff clears it will all flatten out."
First flood stage is 18 feet above normal ice level and main dikes are constructed to hold the water to a level of 26 feet.
Reports from Argo, N.D., indicate the Red already has created there and now is receding.

12 Homeless In N.B. Fire

Firemen from all four border communities—St. Stephen, Milltown, N.B., Calais and Milltown, Me.—fought the blaze in the old Johnson building after an alarm was rung in shortly after 1:30 o'clock. No one was injured.
Homeless are Mr. and Mrs. George Smith; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mundie and Mr. Mundie's father; Mrs. Margaret Johnson and her school-age daughter; Mrs. Harry Richard, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewis and their two children.

Discout Rumor Mac Attempting To Delay Test
LONDON (Reuters) — Authoritative sources here Monday discounted reports that Prime Minister Macmillan was making a last-minute bid to get a postponement of the United States atmospheric nuclear tests expected to begin this week.
They said the British position rested on the prime minister's statement in the House of Commons last Thursday concerning a nuclear-test ban treaty. Macmillan had said:
"The rival point for us in the acceptance of the principle of effective international verification...
"The position is now that if the neutral proposal (at the Geneva disarmament conference) provide for effective measures of international verification, and if the Russians, even at this late stage, agree to this, negotiation will become possible."
"If not, no negotiations can be fruitful and I cannot ask President Kennedy to postpone the tests."

Russians To Hear Report On Talks
MOSCOW (Reuters)—The Supreme Soviet—Russia's parliament—decided Monday to hear a report on the Geneva talks on disarmament and nuclear testing, probably today.
It was not known who will deliver the report but observers believe it will be Foreign Minister Gromyko, who attended the opening sessions in Geneva last month.

OTTAWA (CP)—The election campaign firework of the Liberal and New Democratic Parties will be formally unleashed Wednesday.
Liberal Leader Pearson, beginning a three-day sweep through Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland, is to launch his two-month campaign at an "all island" rally at Charlottetown Wednesday night.
At Regina, where he plans to seek a Commons seat in the June 18 election, NDP chief T. C. Douglas makes his kickoff address to the nominating convention that same night.
Prime Minister Diefenbaker heads west Wednesday for northern Ontario and Saskatchewan although his campaign keynote speech has been set for the end of next week—May 5—at London.
Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson, busy cultivating votes around Red Deer, Alta., where he will seek election, formally begins his campaign the next night with a May 6 speech at Quebec City.

Indians Hit By Tax Boost
NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Higher taxes and a big increase in defence spending were announced Monday by Indian Finance Minister Morarji Desai in his 1962 budget.
Desai imposed a series of direct and indirect taxes on individuals, companies and goods to bring an additional revenue of about $150,000,000 in the coming year.
Income tax on all companies will be raised by five per cent to 25 per cent and surtax rates adjusted in proportion, he said.
Desai said defence expenditures in 1962 would be about $725,000,000. This represents an increase of about $128,000,000 over last year and accounts for 25 per cent of India's entire budget.
Desai estimated India's total revenue for the coming year at about $2,781,000,000 and expenditures at about $2,911,000,000. The deficit will be wiped out by the new taxes, he said.

MPs Promised Increase In Pay
OTTAWA (CP)—The Citizen says Prime Minister Diefenbaker is reported to have told a Progressive Conservative caucus last week that a re-elected Conservative government would raise MPs' salaries to $15,000 a year from $10,000.
The newspaper says some MPs at the caucus, a party conference of parliamentarians had complained about the inadequacy of the present pay level.
It says judges salaries would be increased at the same time. Judges have not had a pay raise since 1953; the last raise for MPs and senators was in 1955.

U.S. Experts Poised To Begin Bomb Tests

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—United States scientists and military chiefs, poised for a new series of nuclear tests, hope to find ways to pack greater destructive power into smaller warheads.

Informed sources said Monday a major aim of the Pacific aerial tests, the first U.S. atmospheric tests in nearly four years, will be to increase the efficiency of U.S. missile warheads and nuclear bombs.
The U.S. tests are expected to begin this week.
Experiments looking toward more efficient warheads will come in what are called "weapon effects" tests in which nuclear devices—as distinguished from finished weapons—are exploded under various conditions.
The Russians are believed to have made strides toward greater warhead efficiency in their test series last fall. But U.S. authorities feel the Soviet Union still trails the United States in this vital aspect of nuclear weaponry.
As nuclear warheads become more efficient—that is, produce greater blasts from smaller amounts of material—they increase the striking effectiveness of the rockets that propel them.
This is especially important to the United States, which is building its future long-range striking power around the Polaris submarine-launched missile and the land-based Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missile.
The Polaris warhead, as now designed, can release the blast equivalent of about 400,000 tons of TNT. The Minuteman is rated at about 500,000-600,000 tons of TNT.
While U.S. military men say this is enough to knock out most targets, they want both warheads made more potent to widen their blast range and to deepen their ground penetration to get at Russian missile launching pads which may be dug in deep.

Anti-Bomb Demonstrators Converge On U.S. Embassy

LONDON (Reuters) — More than 10,000 footsore "ban-the-bomb" demonstrators converged on the American Embassy Monday night to wind up a four-day, 50-mile march from the atomic weapons research station at Aldermaston.
Canon John Collins, leader of Britain's Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament, walked up the steps of the giant new embassy building in Grosvenor Square with his cassock fluttering in the evening breeze, paused and said a silent prayer.
Canon Collins, precursor of St. Paul's Cathedral, then handed in a note addressed to President Kennedy protesting the impending resumption of nuclear tests at Christmas Island in the Pacific.
The Grosvenor Square meeting climaxed the CND's most successful Easter March, with 50,000 demonstrators attending a rally in Hyde Park.
The note, handed to a doorman, was one of three CND had drafted to the leaders of the three H-bomb powers, the U.S., Russia and Britain.
It said: "If you carry out these tests people of this and future generations will suffer disease and death as a result of fallout."
It will mean the onset of a new intensive phase of the arms race from where there may be no turning back until the disaster of the thermonuclear war is on us.
"We beg you to reconsider your plan."
Demonstrators handed in a note to the Soviet Embassy addressed to Premier Khrushchev, appealing to him not to start testing again even if the Americans did.
A third note went to Admiralty House for Prime Minister Macmillan, saying CND hoped he would continue to do all he could to persuade President Kennedy not to resume testing or to use Christmas Island—the British testing area in the Pacific. Macmillan meets the president in Washington Saturday.

WRONG TICKET WINS $103.20

FORT ERIE, Ont. (CP)—Don't make speeches at betting wickets. You may not be as lucky as the man who started to make a speech about how he'd like to bet five...
The hurried mutual clerk punched out No. 5.
But the man didn't want No. 5. He explained that he simply wished to bet $5 on No. 12.
The apologetic clerk said he would try to sell the ticket but if he didn't, the man was stuck with it. He was Court'n' Prete, No. 5, won Saturday and paid $103.20 to win.

Red Activity Said Lowest In Province

TRURO (CP) — President Watson Kirkconnell of Acadia University said Monday orders for the operation of the Labor Progressive party in Canada come from Moscow headquarters of the Communist party.
Dr. Kirkconnell told a service club (Kiwans) the "above ground" section of the Labor Progressive party was not the real party. He said he disagreed with the party's protest that it is authentically Canadian.
The Communist party in Canada has suffered a reduction in membership, he said, because of the 1956 Hungarian uprising and an anti-semitic policy of the Russian government.
Universities are prime targets for infiltration but there has not been too much of this in Canada, he said.
He said Communist activity in Prince Edward Island was quieter than in any other Canadian province. New Brunswick and Nova Scotia followed.
Dr. Kirkconnell said it is difficult to define truth in an age of brain-washing. He said "doctored information" often appears in the press.

Brain Fault Blocks Two Goals Of Probe

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The U.S. Ranger-4 lunar vehicle speeding through space with a faulty "brain" will probably hit the moon Thursday morning, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced Monday night.
The space agency said some seven hours after launching that tracking data indicated the spacecraft probably would hit the moon at 8:35 a.m. EST.
The announcement said Ranger-4 on its present course would pass about 900 miles above the top edge of the moon and hit on the back side—the part of the moon never seen from the earth.
The announcement said that an attempt to send signals to try to correct a malfunction in the spacecraft at 9:30 p.m. Monday night apparently failed, and Ranger-4 would continue on a collision course with the moon.

Indians Hit By Tax Boost

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Higher taxes and a big increase in defence spending were announced Monday by Indian Finance Minister Morarji Desai in his 1962 budget.
Desai imposed a series of direct and indirect taxes on individuals, companies and goods to bring an additional revenue of about $150,000,000 in the coming year.
Income tax on all companies will be raised by five per cent to 25 per cent and surtax rates adjusted in proportion, he said.
Desai said defence expenditures in 1962 would be about $725,000,000. This represents an increase of about $128,000,000 over last year and accounts for 25 per cent of India's entire budget.
Desai estimated India's total revenue for the coming year at about $2,781,000,000 and expenditures at about $2,911,000,000. The deficit will be wiped out by the new taxes, he said.

Discount Rumor Mac Attempting To Delay Test

LONDON (Reuters) — Authoritative sources here Monday discounted reports that Prime Minister Macmillan was making a last-minute bid to get a postponement of the United States atmospheric nuclear tests expected to begin this week.
They said the British position rested on the prime minister's statement in the House of Commons last Thursday concerning a nuclear-test ban treaty. Macmillan had said:
"The rival point for us in the acceptance of the principle of effective international verification...
"The position is now that if the neutral proposal (at the Geneva disarmament conference) provide for effective measures of international verification, and if the Russians, even at this late stage, agree to this, negotiation will become possible."
"If not, no negotiations can be fruitful and I cannot ask President Kennedy to postpone the tests."
