THE DAILY EXAMINER

APRIL 17, 1906

ANOTHER SOMERSAULT.

A combined movement has apparently been undertaken for the purpose of keeping our Provincial Government in office until after the Dominion elections. The Patriot and The Guardian and others are already working at it; and it is easy to see, through all, the initiative of one designing, scheming mind.

As part of the scheme, the temperance vote of the Province, is, if possible, to be "scooped by means of a cry for Provincial Prohibition." The Patriot now says that "the Liquor Tax Act was merely an experiment"—the Patriot has all along stoutly maintained that the experiment was quite successful—and it may now be given up; and the Guardian says that "if the Administration will give us Provincial Prohibition we shall be found quite as ready to commend that action as we were to ensure the adoption of the Liquor Law of last year." That is to say, Mr. Farquharson and his supporters, having fooled the and flouted the temperance people last year, are now, by being trusted to carry out the people's wishes this year; and the discreet Guardian is ready to "commend" them. Such a charming and attractive exhibition of honest and guileless simplicity and adherence to principle!

There is an old saying,—"Once bitten, twice shy." The temperance reformers of this Province have been twice bitten by our Liberal schemers, who evidently suppose that they may be bitten again. By the way, neither organ has deigned to say how the $9,000 or $10,000 paid into the Provincial treasury by the liquor dealers of Charlottetown is to be made up.

—Reports from all parts of Manitoba show that seeding is now half completed. The average this year will be greater by one third than it was last season. At the present rate all seeding will be completed by April 30th.

"Better late than never." It is, best, however, to be never late about taking Hood's Sarsaparilla to purify your blood. Take it now.

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

In the course of his speech on the Budget, Mr Bergeron read a letter from Mr Alex Clarke, of Valleyfield, whom he described as a man well known and respected in Valleyfield and whose word every one in that place would accept. The letter was as follows:

Dominion Creek,
March 3, 1906.

Dear Sir,—I have already written to you, and having had no answer I hope you will get this letter and that you will let me hear from you. I am happy to learn that the Conservative party has been victorious in Manitoba. I am no longer a Liberal. The corruption here is something frightful; there is a great deal of gold here, but the mining laws are all against the workers, and in favor of the petty officers, and the dissolute women. You cannot imagine the quantity of gold that is being taken out of this country and going to the Americans.

The best claims in the country are held by the Americans, and Canadians have no chance, for the officials are corrupted by the Americans. If there is a contract to be given here, the Americans are nearly sure of it every time, and even the carrying of the mails to the creek is given to them.

Just to think that one may have the chance of striking on a gold lead of untold wealth.

I found $100 in a shovelful of dirt, and to think that it is all going to the United States when we need it so much in our own country.

It is outrageous, and I hope the Liberal party will be beaten at the next election. You may show this letter to Mr. J G H Bergeron, M. P., and when you see him tell him to write if he needs further information.

ALEXANDER CLARK.

This letter shows that Liberal rule in the Yukon is no better than in P. E. Island.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The United States consul at Pretoria has reported that, after a careful search of the files in the consulate he has failed to find any evidence to support Mr. Macrum's statement that the official mail of the consulate has been tampered with. The consul further reports that there is absolutely no interference, so far as he has been able to ascertain, with any of the official communications, either telegraphic or mail, which pass between the Department of State and the consulate.

—The Co-Operative Farmer has the following observations on the subject of a preference in the British market for the products of Canadian farms:—

"British statesmen claim to be desirous of seeing the empire self-sustaining, yet they argue that they cannot grant one penny of encouragement towards the products of its outlying portions. The war office goes to Chicago to buy meats and to New York to buy potatoes; it greedily devours Russian and French food stuffs when it has in its power to give a market to colonial products that would wonderfully stimulate the farmers of these colonies, increase the value of land and the general prosperity of the country.

Why should not practical loyalty in trade matters follow our sentimental loyalty? Why should not Great Britain take steps to make the Greater Britain a world-wide cohesive power? What would so surely bring this about as a mutual preference between all parts of the empire, and why should we not have this? Canadian farmers have a right to expect some encouragement and some measure of protection in the British markets.

NAVIGATION OPEN.—Cascumpec harbor has been open for a month, but the rivers which flow into it have not yet sent down their ice. Indeed they are crossing it with teams.

THE Green Isle would not appear to have ever been a favorite resort of British sovereigns, as since the Norman Conquest, only seven have trod on Irish soil. The first was Henry II. who went there in 1172 and remained for a year. King John visited Ireland in 1212. Then there was a lapse of two centuries when Richard II came across in 1393 and again in 1399. Then there was a long period of some three hundred years till 1688, when James II arrived to be expelled in 1690 by William III. Then, after a lapse of one hundred and thirty years, Royalty passed to Ireland in the person of George IV, whose visit lasted from August 5 to September 3, 1821. With the exception of Richard II, the Queen is the only English monarch who has been more than once in Ireland.

EDISON SURPRISED.—A remarkable experiment was made Saturday at the laboratory of Thomas A. Edison, when a piece of iron was melted in five seconds: Louis Dreyfus, of Frankfurt-on-the-Main, showed Mr. Edison this new process for attaining great heat in an almost incredibly short time, by the combustion of a certain chemical compound, which the inventor keeps a secret, used in connection with a powdered aluminum. Mr. Dreyfus placed half a cupful of the chemical in a crucible, covered it with a small quantity of powdered aluminum, and then placed a wrench about half an inch thick and six inches long in the crucible. Touching a match to the compound; Mr. Dreyfus stepped back and the mixture blazed up furiously. In five seconds the wrench melted. It is estimated that the heat enveloped in the process was 3,000 degrees Centigrade, hitherto considered impossible to reach.
