THE DAILY EXAMINER.

NOVEMBER 13, 1896.

THE CHRONICLES MISTAKE.

The Halifax Chronicle made the curious mistake of measuring Tory corn by the Grit half bushel when it asserted that Sir John Thompson and Sir Hibbert Tupper were specially paid for their services on the Behring Sea arbitration. The assertion drew from Sir Hibbert the following letter:—

To the Editor of the Halifax Herald:

Sir,—I have just received a copy of the Morning Chronicle of the 23rd of October last. In an article headed "The Behring Sea Arbitration" there are statements which are intended to seriously reflect upon the late Sir John Thompson and myself.

In justice to the memory of my late friend, colleague and chieftain, I feel that I ought promptly to contradict the statements, repeated several times in that article, to the effect that Sir John Thompson was paid for his services as arbitrator.

The fact is that neither Sir John Thompson nor I received, directly or indirectly, one dollar from any source for our services, nor did we ever suggest that we ought to have been specially paid.

The Canadian Government paid the expenses of Sir John Thompson and of the other Canadian officials and the fees and expenses of the Canadian counsel. The British government paid the British arbitrator, the British officials and the British counsel.

I may add that in this case, which appears to the editor of the Chronicle so simple, Great Britain deemed it necessary to employ as counsel or solicitors Sir Charles Russell, Sir Richard Webster, Sir John Rigby, Mr. M. H. Box, Mr. F. T. Piggott and Mr. Charles Russell. The official salaries of the law officers of the crown in England who were thus employed were not reduced by reason of their special remuneration for their services in the case.

As to the Chronicle's statement that "no lawyer ever had any doubt about the subject," the fact is that very able lawyers held different views with respect to the question involved, and Mr. Justice Harlan, of the Supreme Court of the United States, was of opinion that the United States case was sound in law.

Yours faithfully,
SIR CHARLES HIBBERT TUPPER.

The Chronicle could not imagine or conceive the idea of a Canadian politician giving his services to the country without pay. It appears, however, that Sir John Thompson and Sir Hibbert Tupper did so in this case without any other fee or reward than the thanks of their countrymen and the honor reflected upon them as a result of their successful efforts. Their expenses only were paid.

THE PROVINCIAL SITUATION.

The Patriot in the delirium of its illness—caused by the "sickening letters" of Mr. W. S. Stewart—alleges that the present condition of our Provincial finances resulted from the repeal of the Davies Tax Act. We might as well say that it resulted from the repeal by Mr. Davies of the old Land Tax; and we might as well rail because Mr. Davies too, has gone to another and a higher sphere of usefulness from which he is not likely to return to Provincial politics. The fact is that the authors of the repeal of the Davies Tax Act caused to be left in the pockets of the people about $500,000 in cash which would have been taken out of them if that Act had continued to be in force. Moreover, it is indisputable that they left the Province in a very much better financial position than it was when they took office.

But that is not the point. The question is as to the deception practised by the present administration and what is now to be done to save the Province from ruin. We hope that this question will be discussed with reference, not to what was done by Hon. Mr. Sullivan or Hon. Mr. Davies or any other Provincial politician of the party but solely to the existing situation. Let us cast off our party prejudices and go in unitedly to save the independence of the Province. Mr. Stewart has boldly grappled with the question and shown good and sufficient reasons why the present order must be changed. We may not all agree to the plan proposed by him. But let the matter be discussed. Let it be shown where his plan is defective and let a better plan be proposed. Good reasons must give way to better. In the course of two or three months let a convention of the people's delegates be held, a clear and definite course of action decided upon, and men selected in the various districts to contest the next election with a view to carry out the people's will.

THE MANITOBA QUESTION.

"To-morrow and to-morrow and to-morrow." This has been the news concerning the settlement of the Manitoba school question. Now it is stated that the announcement will be made to-day.

In the meantime, we may be pardoned if we call attention to the latest statement of the party to the dispute who fought his way from court to court until he obtained the judgment of the Privy Council of Great Britain. Archbishop Langevin said, in church at Winnipeg, last Sunday evening:

"Our hopes, it is true, have not always been realized, but surely we are now on the point of securing forever that most sacred right by which Catholic parents can have their children educated in the teaching of their religion. We need a church to come and pray for our schools. We need to do this because the hour is almost a solemn one. It is time to know what they mean to do with us and what they have done, if our rights are to be secured. If we are to have what is most certainly given us by the constitution, the sacred right of educating our children according to our faith, it is all right, we will accept. But if things have been settled on other lines, and if our rights have been sacrificed, it is no political question, it is a question of justice, it is a question of the Catholic conscience, and each one of you, no matter who you are, must in the matter consult his Catholic conscience, directed by his Church; and also consult the constitution. Your children belong to you by nature, they belong to the Church, to me by grace, and consequently we are both bound to see that their rights to a Catholic education in this country are safe-guarded. Cæsar must protect the right of the people; Cæsar must uphold the constitution; Cæsar must provide the means to see and insist upon every child receiving a first-class secular education. This is the right of Cæsar, and we recognize he has that right, but there are also the rights of Christian parents, and who is the man with authority to dispose of them and barter them away. Your children must not only have a mere smattering of religious teaching, there must be no question of bringing Christ into the school, but he must reign in that school as he should reign over the whole earth. When you have satisfied the state by giving a proper secular education the state has nothing to do with the rest. That is our business; I feel quite satisfied that the honest people of Manitoba, if properly consulted, would be quite willing to give us what we ask. If we were not in the hands of politicians, who act for their own interests, and if we could leave it to the honest, common people of the country, who would look only to what is right and just, the question would immediately be settled according to equity, justice and constitution."

It seems to be pretty clear that not only Messrs. Sifton and Greenway must be satisfied, even at the cost of millions of money, not only the majority in Manitoba, but the minority must be satisfied with the settlement or the difficulty will not be ended.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The many friends of Dr. Wall, of Emerald, will deeply regret to learn that he passed away at the Charlottetown Hospital this afternoon at a quarter to two o'clock.

—"Some way the settlement wont remain settled—" This is the proper explanation of Mr. Laurier's failure to fulfil his promise to announce the terms of the Manitoba settlement.

—Visitors to the New Forest have noted the monument which marks the spot where William Rufus was shot by Sir Walter Tyrrell. The body of the King was removed by a local charcoal burner named Perkiss. It is not generally known that his descendants still live close by, and still carry on the business of charcoal burning. Indeed, the Purkisses of the New Forest are as proud of their unbroken line of charcoal burners for 800 years as any aristocrat of his genealogical tree.

Sir N. R. O'Connor, British ambassador to Russia, recently visited Odessa for the purpose of studying the subject of the exportation of cereals from that port to India. Prince Obolenski has written a letter to the Novee Vremiss advising the sale of rye at Odessa at 40 kopecks per pood, which course Prince Obolenski thinks would mitigate the suffering attendant upon the famine in India.

The London Globe confirms the statement made in a St. Petersburg despatch to the Times quoting the Novosti as saying that towards the close of the war between China and Japan the former offered to cede the island of Formosa to Great Britain unconditionally, with the view of excluding the Japanese from that territory, but that Lord Rosebery, who was then Prime Minister, promptly declined the offer.

Some ore brought down from the coast, north of Vancouver, has been assayed to be castrite or tin ore. Himself, a Cornishman, the assayer compared the ore with samples he had from the Delobath mines in Cornwall and found them to be identical in character, and he is satisfied that a deposit of tin ore has been discovered. How large the deposit is will not be known until the ground has been more fully prospected, as the discoverer being ignorant of the value of the mineral found did not investigate closely until he had the sample assayed.

The London Daily News prints a despatch from Calais, France, saying that while a huge boiler was being drawn through the streets on Friday last the upper portion of it came in contact with overhead electric wires, breaking them. Some of the wires caught on the boiler and in an instant all of the horses, sixteen in number, were knocked down and several of them killed. The men engaged in transporting the boiler received violent shocks, from the effect of which some of them are dying. The accident caused consternation among the onlookers.

The Vatican Official Journal prints the text of a letter recently received by the Pope from King Menelik of Abyssinia. In his letter King Menelik protests his devotion to the Pope, and maintains that since the Italian government continues in its attitude of hostility towards Abyssinia he is unable to sacrifice the sole guarantee of peace he holds by restoring to liberty the Italian prisoners he has taken and now holds. Menelik expresses the hope that the Pope will intervene in the interests of peace, and thus accelerate the liberation of the prisoners.

THE MARKETS.

It is reported that some very good profits have recently been made by shippers of eggs to the British markets. A western firm has just received cable advices of the sale of a little over 500 cases, which shows a profit of $600, and the firm referred to expects still better profits on latter shipments, says the Montreal Trade Bulletin. Montreal firms also admit of profitable returns from their shipments to the other side, with prospects of a continuance of the good prices. Liverpool and Glasgow are still the chief markets for Canadian eggs, although Bristol has taken a few shipments of late. The importation of Canadian eggs into England for the month of September amounted to 73,533 long hundreds of 10 dozen, against 33,363 long hundreds for the corresponding month last year, showing an increase of 371,750 dozen. For the nine months ending Sept. 30th, 1896, the total imports of Canadian eggs into England were 1,288,300 dozen, against 1,158,260 dozen for the same period last year, being an increase of 130,400 dozen. The October and November shipments, it is expected, will show a large increase over those of the same month in 1895. Considerable quantities have lately been shipped for England from this Province by way of Quebec, and we hope that satisfactory returns will be obtained, though our dealers are under a disadvantage in not having means of direct communication with the British markets. The price of eggs in Charlottetown now is 14 cents a dozen.

As to oats, etc., the local situation is practically unchanged. A good many small cargoes have been shipped for points in the neighboring provinces and Newfoundland. Some oats are also being taken for the old country. Concerning the Halifax market the Chronicle reports that "the amount of Island produce in port is not large. There are several vessels at Market, Commercial, Liverpool and Black & Flynn's wharves, but they are pretty well sold out. The arrivals so far this fall are not nearly as large as this time last year. Next week's will likely see the arrival of larger cargoes, when the bulk of the shipments will consist of oats. Few large cargoes of potatoes are expected. The general quotation for oats, ex vessel, is 32c, though sales are being made one and two cents less for lots over 50 bushels. Potatoes sell at 30 and 32 cents according to size of lots, and these figures have also been shaded. The general idea is that potatoes will go higher. The P. E. Island yield is not large. Neither is the Nova Scotia. A prominent dealer said today he would not be surprised to see Halifax importing potatoes from Boston in the spring. On account of the large amount of old pork held over fresh goods are not in heavy demand. The quotation today is 5½c. Eggs are still showing. The quotation for a good article is 17c. P. E. Island candied stocks are quoted on the Island at 14c, which means 15c landed here. One firm received 100 cases today. Native stocks are scarce."

Montreal advices state that the situation in cheese continues unchanged, but shippers again to-day reported the reception of more encouraging cables. Not that these indicated a pronounced disposition to buy but they are a change for the better from the stubborn indifference shown across the water for over a week past. In the absence of any trading of sufficient importance prices on finest makes are nominal, but a buyer could consider himself lucky who got any at 10½c. In undergrades 10c was holders' idea. Stocks in Montreal are estimated to be away below last year, while it is well known that operators who held large quantities of summer cheese on English account last fall carry little or none at present. A good many factories on the Island continue to make cheese and cheese are being shipped weekly in the Fastnet for the British market by way of Halifax.

Butter in Montreal was without new features also, it being a stand off between buyers and sellers regarding the value of finest fall creamery. The former want it 19½c to 19½c, while the latter are pretty firm at 19½c. to 20c. In this Province the Central Creamery has been in operation for a week or two, but the supply of cream is not so large as it ought to be, owing to the fact that factories continue to make cheese. There is, however, a good prospect for the future. As soon as cheese making has stopped, cream will be obtained at no less than twelve separating stations throughout the Province and despatched to the Central Creamery in Charlottetown and to the new creamery at New Perth. Altogether the prospects for winter butter making are considerably improved. The creameries at Crapaud and Tryon will continue in operation.

The provision market exhibits no important change either here or abroad. Our dealers continue to pay from 4c. to 4½c. per lb for good carcasses of park. The Montreal quotations are:

Canadian pork, new	$11 00	to	$12 00
Canadian short cut, clear	10 00	to	10 25

Invest Your Spare Dollars in British Columbia Mines.

A Few Dollars invested now may make you rich

The Buffalo Gold Mining Company have acquired and paid for in full, three claims. The Buffalo, Ontario and Great Britain No 1, each 1,500 ft square, are situated on O. K. Mountain about three quarters of a mile from the famous O. K., the great free-milling property of Trail Creek, and about three miles from the town of Rossland. On the Buffalo claim, there are two leads, one of quartz, from four to fifteen feet wide, and cropping for 800 feet, from the surface of which assays have been taken running from $3 to $12 in gold per ton. The other is an immense iron cap nearly 30 feet wide.

On the Ontario only prospecting work has been done, consisting of stripping a fine ledge which crops out through the claim.

On the Great Britian No 1 there is a white quartz lead running through the property from which free gold has been obtained. This is confidently expected to prove up well when further work has been done.

Taking everything into consideration, having three full claims, the numerous ledges, (and especially the free milling ledge), cheap transportation, the stock in this company should prove a paying investment and well worthy of your attention.

Four men are now working and more will be added to keep up quick and continuous development.

A limited number of shares of the treasury stock will be placed on the market at the remarkable low price of 5 cents, and no more will be sold at this price after the first issue. Address all letters to
